[illegible] Laub, a young girl who came to this country three years ago from Jugo-Slavia, threw a white light upon the methods of K. R. Beak & Co. yesterday. She told Assistant State's Attorney L. P. O'Connell how her name happened to appear on a $75,000 mortgage on the Sheridan Shore hotel.

Miss Laub's uncle, William Hardt, former bookkeeper for Beak & Co., brought her forward as an innocent and friendly accomplice, it appears, at a time when Joseph J. Miller, vice president of Beak & Co., wanted a new name to sign to collateral. The mortgage was signed in her name, without her knowledge, she testified, last September, and about Dec. 15 she gave Miller power of attorney. Hardt appears to have been the agent for the company.

Examining Company's Books.

As a result of this and other testimony, at least three persons are expected to be indicted when the grand jury convenes tomorrow. The books of Beak & Co. were seized yesterday by the state's attorney, but later returned in order to permit the Beak office to work under more familiar conditions.

[illegible] remained in custody at the [illegible] house. Habeas corpus proceedings were urged upon him during the [illegible] but his attorney, [illegible] to take [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] information furnished to First Assistant State's Attorney George Gorman by E. J. Lawler, cashier of the [illegible] State bank, was that Beak paper to the amount of $113,300 was held by that bank. It was through C. A. Wathier, former president of the bank, that many of the deals under question were arranged. Beak and his attorney both claim Beak was forced to split commissions with Wathier to get money.

The security in the bank for this money is said to be $291,000, and the only losers in that deal are the surety bond people for the bank. The bank, it is known, has been pressing for Wathier's prosecution for some time. Whether Wathier is a victim of Beak or Beak is a victim of Wathier is a matter for future determination.

Waitress Tells of Deals.

Rosa Laub, who lives at 982 Garfield avenue, was not able to speak much English when she appeared in the state's attorney's office. She was accompanied by her uncle, who acted as interpreter. The $75,000 mortgage note to which her name was signed and six interest notes for $2,625 each were produced for her inspection. She has been working as a waitress at a south side restaurant.

Miss Laub said she had first met Miller three years ago in Hardt's home. She had signed one paper for him, she said, about fourteen days before Christmas. That was the power of attorney to sign a mortgage which already had been signed. Mr. O'Connell did the questioning.

"What did he say this power of attorney was for?" she was asked.

"He didn't speak to her at all; he spoke to me," Mr. Hardt said, interrupting the questioning.

"And you gave the consent to sign her?"

"Yes."

"Did you know the mortgage was dated in September?"

"Yes, that is what he told me. I don't know. I never saw the instrument."

Hardt Has No Property.

"What property have you?"

"None."

"Do you know K. R. Beak?"

"No," Hardt replied.

"Did Miller tell you when the mortgage was dated?"

"He didn't tell me the exact date; he told me when they bought the property in September they executed the mortgage," Hardt said.

"And it had already been executed?"

"Yes," Hardt retorted.

"He came subsequently and asked for a power of attorney from Rosa Laub?"

"Yes," Hardt declared.

Introduced Girl to Firm.

Mr. Hardt admitted that he had given Rosa's name to the Beak company, and that the girl signed the paper at his direction.

"Has Miss Laub taken title to any properties for Beak & Co. outside the $75,000 mortgage?" he was asked.

"Yes, one piece of property," Hardt responded.

"What piece was that?" Hardt was asked.

"That was on Kenmore avenue, I [illegible]

FARMERS VOTE MILK STRIKE; BALK ON PRICE

Dealers Here Scoff at "Famine."

Farmers threatened yesterday to withhold 1,100,000 pounds of milk daily from Chicago, beginning at 7 o'clock this morning. This is approximately half Chicago's normal milk supply, and if the threat is fulfilled a serious famine may develop. The farmers, however, promised to see that no babies, invalids, or hospitals are without milk. On the other hand, F. H. Kullman of the Bowman Dairy company, said he doubted if there would be any milk shortage.

Though the statement was made with the implied authority of the Milk Producers' association, comprising 6,000 farmers in northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin, and northeastern Indiana, following failure of the big Chicago distributors to agree on a 1924 price, the distributors, of which Mr. Kullman was spokesman, said they believed most of the farmers would send their milk to the market today as heretofore.

Conferees in Deadlock.

The farmers and the distributors had been in conference all afternoon at Hotel La Salle, but disbanded at 6 o'clock, declaring no agreement had been reached.

Previously Frank T. Fowler of Lake Villa, Ill., who had been designated spokesman to the press on behalf of the Milk Producers' association, said that pledges had been obtained from members whose daily milk production is more than a million pounds, and the producers had agreed to the "strike" unless the distributors met their demands. The small dealers, who have about half of the Chicago delivery, have signed up at the figure set by the association, he declared.

Figures in Dispute.

The demand of the association was for $2.75 per hundred pounds of milk (forty-eight quarts) if a six months' contract were signed—$2.85 if the contract was for only three months. The distributors who get their milk in cans are said to have subscribed to this price, but the six leading companies, who have bottling works out in the various country districts, offered $2.60 on a three month basis.

Mr. Kullman said that this was higher than the price paid a year ago, which, he said, was $2.50 for January and February and $2.40 for March, and it is 25 cents per hundredweight higher than is now paid by the "manufacturers," who were, he said, the makers of condensed milk, butter, and cheese.

He said that the companies acting in concert with the Bowman company, though there is no combine or binding association on price agreement, are the Borden company, Wieland, Wanzer, Mix, and Natoma-Huntley.

Time Important Factor.

The time of the contracts was an important matter in the deadlocked conference, and was explained by Mr. Kullman as follows:

"The milk supply varies with the months, or more accurately, with the seasons. Just now the cows are giving a large yield because they are stabled. When the grass season commences, about in March, the yield will be larger. Then in the summer, fly-time, less moisture, drier feed, and field activities of the farmer, cause a lessening of the supply, which continues until the fall.

"The customer who takes a quart daily will not take two quarts just because the cow gives more. We agree to take the excess supply at the established price and if we can't sell it must 'manufacture' it. To do so we compete with the manufacturer who buys surplus milk for 35 cents less than we pay."

Position of Farmer.

The position of the farmer, as expounded by Frank T. Holt, president of the Producers' association, is that they must be able to sell their surplus milk at prevailing prices in the surplus seasons and that because of the variation in the yield they would agree to a $2.75 price for six months. At the present price, the estimate is based on a 30 cent hourly labor wage, whereas Mr. Holt said farm labor now should be figured at 40 cents an hour.

WRITS ASKED IN 40 MILLION LOSS

Dunlop Rubber Quiz Hits High Britons.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Dec. 31.—[Tribune Radio.]—The rumblings of an impending scandal in the management of the affairs of the Dunlop Rubber company, capitalized at over £26,000,000 ($112,840,000) culminated in a thunder clap tonight.

A circular signed by five directors of the company was issued, calling an extraordinary meeting of the shareholders to pass a vote of confidence in these directors for the action which they have taken against the president and several present and former directors of the company, against whom writs had been issued in respect to certain transactions.

This action was taken in consequence of a report of a special committee appointed in March, 1922, and granted the widest powers in September of the same year to investigate the circumstances under which the enormous loss of more than £8,250,000 (about $40,000,000) was incurred in 1921.

Had Paid Fat Dividends.

This loss was reported at a meeting in February, 1922, and came as a staggering blow to the shareholders, who had been collecting fat dividends during the boom years immediately preceding. The committee of investigation immediately was appointed under a rarely invoked statute, which compelled the officials of the company to give evidence under oath and disclose their accounts over the months under scrutiny.

Sir Eric Geddes, who was elected chairman in 1922, tried to place responsibility for the company's severe reversal in its previous year. The committee's report was made last September, but was not published. As the announcement states tonight, "eminent counsel were engaged, and upon their advice writs have been issued against Sir Arthur Du Cros, president of the company; James White Gorman, director, and some past and present directors of the company."

Attack President's Big Salary.

The board of directors have also attacked the validity of the agreement under which Sir Arthur Du Cros has been drawing a salary of £12,000 ($52,080) yearly, free from tax. Agreements with Alfred Du Cros, vice president, and George Du Cros, general manager of the company, also have been questioned.

Of all the directors, says the circular, only five, namely, Sir Eric Geddes, Sir George Beharrell, Sir Guy Granet, Mr. Szarvasy, and Mr. Tait, are, in the opinion of the company's counsel, entirely unaffected by the committee's report.

Some of the directors against whom writs were to have been issued, says the circular, have made proposals for a settlement.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S NEW YEAR GREETINGS TO AMERICAN PEOPLE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—President Calvin Coolidge tonight extended New Year's greetings to the American people in a message which said:

"At the end of the old year and the beginning of the new, it is well to take account of our spiritual, moral, and material resources and seriously appraise the progress of the past twelve months and the prospect of advancement in the coming year. The nation has made a record of gratifying accomplishment. There is every reason to believe advancement will continue in the coming months.

"It is a pleasure to extend the heartiest of New Year greetings to the American people and express the hope and confidence that 1924 will bring them a full measure of prosperity and happiness."

ZERO ARRIVES AT 3 A. M. IN CHICAGO

No shouting from the housetops, no sounding of the tocsin was necessary last night to let Father Dearborn become apprised of the fact that Boreas had loosed his well known minions upon the city.

C. A. Daniel, senior understudy of Prof. Henry J. Cox, scrutinized his weather map and allowed that four or five degrees above zero would be about right this morning. Loop thermometers outdid his statements at 3 a. m., when they registered zero flat.

Our First "Blizzardette."

Meanwhile the first "blizzardette" of the season covered the townscape with snow, making the streets and sidewalks slippery and firesides doubly attractive. The snow started before noon and kept up long after midnight.

Today, the weather man predicts, it will be cold and clear, while tomorrow the barometer will rise somewhat, but not much.

The low temperature was far from local. Dispatches from various parts of the country told of heavy snowfall and thermometers lurking near or below zero.

In St. Louis the mercury fell 40 degrees in fifteen hours and zero weather was predicted for New Year's day. Seven inches of snow covered northwestern Illinois. Out in Yellowstone park, the summer playground for America, the thermometers began to choke at 34 below zero. Texas was gripped by the coldest breeze of the winter. New Orleans also suffered.

Apply for Relief.

Chicago's charitable agencies were taxed to the limit yesterday as a result of the drop in temperature. Coal, food, clothing, and lodging were furnished by the various organizations to thousands of needy.

"We are having coal delivered to hundreds of poor families all over the city today," said Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago. "Many of these families are those, of course, to whom we have been furnishing coal all winter, but when a sudden blizzard like this arises the demands for coal increase tremendously. Every effort has been made to care for all the families reported to us as needing coal and food."

Adjt. Pynn of the Salvation Army said that every bed and available space in their lodging houses and hotels had been taken by noon.

Chicago Hails New Year With Mostly Noise

A. D. 1924 arrived directly after midnight this morning. Chief Collins, "Sport" Herrmann, and other experts in such matters said it was a leap year, and observers noted that lady folk of the eligible class were especially profuse in their congratulations of Father Time.

At least a million Chicagoans stayed up to watch 1923 join yesterday's 7,000 odd years. A few of them were in such shape as to see double, and some of these argued that the new year was twins. The celebration was not as alcoholic as of yore, and bootleggers who had boosted their prices 20 per cent were disappointed.

Four Hurt by Bullets.

Four persons, including one woman who was peeling potatoes in her kitchen, received minor injuries when stray bullets, fired by enthusiastic revelers, struck them. Six men were arrested in the loop for being drunk. Tender-hearted policemen explained that they were in danger of being frozen by the cold wind which swept down from the north and kept the street crowds small.

The orthodox salvo of whistles and horns greeted the advent of the new year, the usual clamor of bells sounded, and the milling crowds in loop streets opened their larynxes and did their durndest. Those who filled the gay places of the city—classy restaurants and cabarets and ordinary "joints"—rose in the time honored noisy salute to the infant annum.

But that was about as far as the celebration, taken in toto, got.

Collins' Orders to Police.

Following a late conference with Mayor Dever, Chief Collins instructed his captains to let only uniformed policemen haunt the places of revel. No plain clothes men were to be on hand to embarrass the celebrants with unseemly descents upon their café tables. Everything was to be open and above board so far as the police department was concerned.

The revelers appeared to understand their status.

Liquor was practically absent from table tops in the places where the New Year was celebrated. Innocent cracked ice was there, and so were innocuous bottles of ginger ale. But no oddly shaped containers, such as surround gin or other outlawed liquids, rested upon the linen. Such bottles were kept discreetly on the floor or in the pockets of owners.

Crowd Usual Haunts.

The usual haunts of the celebrants were filled. The Congress hotel, long the rallying place of those who hurrah at the birth of the years, was jammed with 1,800 persons, and long before midnight they were turning 'em away. Paper caps adorned the heads of the revelers, and there were plenty of tooting horns. But the fountain in the Pompeiian room felt the barefoot of nary a fair young patron who had the urge to celebrate by going wading.

"O tempora! O Mores!" sighed the waiters who remembered days agone.

The Terrace Gardens in the Morrison hotel boasted a capacity throng of 2,200 reservations, while a distinctly younger set frolicked 800 strong in the Cameo room. The Hotel Sherman's Bal Taborin and College Inn were similarly filled.

Large Crowd at Drake.

Twenty-three hundred fashionably dressed citizens did not consider a $10 reservation fee any drawback for celebrating at the Drake.

Several hundred gold coasters gathered at the Opera club. One of the most brilliant of numerous private parties was at the gray brick residence of Judge George A. Carpenter, 945 North Dearborn street, known for years as the Dr. Ralph Isham home. It was the Carpenter family's farewell to the old demesne, and numerous of their friends were there to help them say good-by.

DOCTOR KILLED AT CROSSING IN GLEN ELLYN

Speed took a heavy toll of life in the vicinity of Chicago on the last day of 1923. The blizzard that prevailed through the afternoon was a contributory factor.

In Cook county three men and a woman, all past 50 years old, died in motor car accidents. As the year ended the county's 1923 automobile and truck fatalities had reached the total of 725.

In the third section of this issue of THE TRIBUNE, printed a few hours early because of the pressure of advertising, the year's toll in motor car deaths was listed in detail at 721. Yet in the few intervening hours before this page reached the presses there were four deaths added.

Well Known Doctor Killed.

In addition to the four in Chicago and Cook county there were three deaths in nearby Kane county and one in Du Page.

Dr. Edward S. Higley of Glen Ellyn, nationally known diagnostician, was killed instantly when his automobile was struck by the Continental Limited on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

The train, tearing through snow and sleet at above fifty miles an hour, struck Dr. Higley's car at the Prospect avenue crossing in Glen Ellyn and smashed it, wreckage being strewn along the roadway for three blocks.

Dr. Higley, partly blinded by the driving snow, had failed to see the on rushing train, California bound. He was driving behind another automobile which cleared the tracks but a moment before the train. Dr. Higley's car was struck squarely. The physician was hurled from the automobile and was dead when an eyewitness to the crash reached him a minute later.

Dr. Higley, who was 54 years old, had practiced in Glen Ellyn and Wheaton for more than 30 years.

Erskine Parmalee Dies.

Erskine M. Parmalee, aged 60, 4125 Drexel boulevard, president of the Betsy Ross Candy corporation and of the American Commerce association, was one of the Cook county victims.

Mr. Parmalee succumbed at his home to injuries received on Dec. 8 when he was struck by a vampire taxicab as he emerged from the elevated station at Drexel boulevard and East 41st street. Hyde Park police are searching for the driver. An inquest will be held Jan. 11.

Mrs. Ellen Madden, 60 years old, 913 North Lawndale avenue, was injured fatally when she was struck by a taxicab driven by Nicholas Hopp, 6315 Eberhart avenue, at Halsted and 74th streets. Mrs. Madden, who weighed nearly 300 pounds, died as she was being taken to the Auburn Park hospital by Hopp. Six hours later she was identified by Mrs. J. J. McGreevy, 7627 Normal avenue, at whose home she had spent the afternoon. Hopp was held by the police.

Killed When Car Skids.

Joseph Adames, 50, a painter, who lived at 10714 Perry avenue, was killed when his automobile skidded and crashed into a trolley pole at Lafayette avenue and 119th street.

William W. Grant, aged 60, 318 East 56th street, a printer, was found dead in the street at South State and Congress streets. No witnesses to the accident could be found. William Knapp, 4113 West 24th street, who saw the body and stopped his truck just as a front wheel was about to run over it, was held pending an inquest.

Elgin Reports Three Dead.

Herman H. Behm of Elgin was killed instantly when his automobile skidded to a stop on a crossing near Elgin and was struck by a St. Paul train.

Harry Frank, 35, manager of a Geneva store, was killed on the Fox River trail, near Elgin, when his automobile collided with another car.

Arthur Englund, 25, of Elgin, died of injuries received when the automobile in which he was riding turned over and was wrecked on the South street road, near Elgin.

Club Explains Stand.

Howard M. Brown, general manager of the Chicago Motor club, and several other of its members visited Coroner Oscar Wolff yesterday and stated they did not wish the courts to return to the old system of handing speeders arrest slips, but that they did desire to make it unnecessary for offenders taken to police stations to furnish $100 cash bail.

"When habitual speeders, by producing a card purchased at $1 from a mushroom surety company, can procure release by a flourish of the pen, it seems unfair and unreasonable require the occasional offender to hunt around for friends to bring cash to effect his release," said Mr. Brown.

The motor club's request, given to Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court, will be acted upon at the meeting this week of the rules committee of the court.

Dever Appeals to Autoists.

Mayor Dever addressed "To the Citizens of Chicago" a New Year's message in which he pointed out that the "happiness of many homes has been destroyed by the hundreds of deaths and injuries resulting from violation of laws regulating the operation of automobiles."

"May I, therefore," he continued, "on New Year's day suggest to the automobile drivers of Chicago to take upon themselves an obligation scrupulously to respect the laws regulating the speed and operation of automobiles and to protect themselves and others from injury while using our crowded public streets?

"Strict adherence by each and every one of us to a resolution to be ever respectful of the sanctity of human life would do much to reduce during 1924 this ruthless toll of life and limb."

NEW YORK WET NEW YEAR'S EVE DESPITE 100 DRYS

New York, Dec. 31.—[Special.]—New Year's eve in New York City was made as dry as 100 prohibition agents could make it—which a tour of the white light district revealed wasn't very dry.

A final appeal to celebrants by Divisional Chief R. Q. Merrick to beware of drinking poisonous liquor failed to cast a very heavy gloom over optimistic revellers.

There was much merriment. There were gay parties at practically all theaters. The hotels were filled and the restaurants, cabarets, and other places of entertainment reported their reservations were exhausted.

Burglars Use Ruse, Rob Woman of $3,500 Gems

HANDS OF DEATH

The clock indicates the number of deaths caused by automobiles, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1, 1923.

DEMAND SAFETY WHILE DUNNING PLANS BURIALS

While practically every civic organization in the state yesterday prepared to open a drive for adequate fire protection at the various state institutions, preparations were completed at Dunning for the burial tomorrow morning of seven unnamed victims of last week's fire there. Charring of the bodies made specific naming impossible.

Services in which several clergymen will participate will be held at the hospital tomorrow morning. The bodies are to be buried at Mount Carmel cemetery.

Among public institutions declared unsafe is the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Normal, against which protest was made by the American Legion in an appeal to Gov. Small.

A. L. Bowen of Springfield, a former secretary of the state board of charities, declared yesterday that when the state assumed control of Dunning in 1912 the buildings "were a mass of junk and not worth a dime of state funds."

Prices realized on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in Chicago for week ending Saturday, Dec. 29th, on shipments sold out, ranged from 7.00 cents to 21.00 cents per pound and averaged 12.62 cents per pound. —Adv.

GROSSMAN FREED UNDER BOND AS PARDON ARRIVES

Action Ends His Woes for Present at Least.

Philip Grossman, former keeper of a west side saloon, obtained his liberty yesterday upon payment to the federal court of $3,000 in Liberty bonds as a pledge that he will return to the jurisdiction of that court upon call. Not two hours later United States Marshal Robert Levy received in the mail from President Coolidge a pardon commuting the man's sentence.

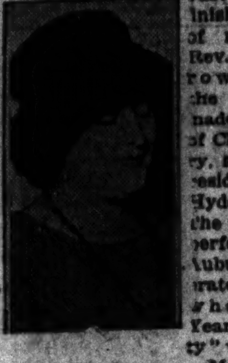
So ends, temporarily, the trials and tribulations of Mr. Grossman, who upon Christmas would have been free, had he been a resident of the House of Correction at that time.

More than a year ago Mr. Grossman was found guilty of violating a federal injunction and fined $1,000 and sentenced to the House of Correction for one year. He was "traveling" at the time and subsequent efforts by the court to apprehend and lodge Mr. Grossman in jail were futile. Finally, however, on Christmas day there came to the House of Correction a telegram, announcing that the prisoner had been pardoned by the President. But Mr. Grossman was not in custody.

Two days later he surrendered, expecting to be sent to the House of Correction, and later released by virtue of the pardon. At the same time Judge Wilkerson issued an edict ordering Grossman held until the court demanded his appearance. Yesterday, after a consultation with the court, Grossman was released upon $3,000 bonds. While the man is technically free, he cannot be released from the bond until Judge Wilkerson has so ordered.

BROKER TAKES CHICAGO'S FIRST BRIDE OF 1924

Chicago's first bride of 1924 was Miss Nellie Hartman, 1350 East 63d street. Just as the clock finished the stroke of midnight the Rev. Philip Yarrow pronounced the words that made her the wife of Charles N. Curry, a bond broker residing at the Hyde Park hotel. The ceremony was performed at the Auburn Park Federated church, where a New Year "watch party" was held.



MRS. CHARLES N. CURRY.

Mrs. Curry a few weeks ago gained notice when by a bit of detective work she recovered her $150 fur coat which had been stolen. She spied another girl wearing the garment in the loop and called a policeman.

COOLIDGE PLAN TO AID OBREGON STIRS CRITICISM

But Munitions Will Be Sold Regardless.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—The decision of the administration to sell arms to President Obregon of Mexico, to aid suppression of the De la Huerta revolution, will be severely criticized in congress and an effort will be made to pass a resolution condemning the policy.

Senator Johnson (Rep., Cal.), the only avowed opponent of President Coolidge for the Republican nomination for President, made known his intention to attack the administration's move in speeches he will make this week, presumably at Cleveland on Thursday at the opening of his canvass for delegates.

Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho) and Senator King (Dem., Utah) and a number of other statesmen indicated that they would take the administration to task on its new Mexican policy as soon as congress reconvenes Thursday.

Hands Off, Critics Demand.

The contention of the critics is that the United States ought not to take sides in Mexico's factional strife; that it is difficult to say at any time which faction is the more deserving of support; that De la Huerta is more conservative than Obregon, and might conceivably furnish a government more acceptable to the United States, and that traditionally America has held revolution a sacred right.

Moreover, it is predicted that arms supplied to the Obregonistas soon will find their way into the possession of the Huertistas, and that anti-American sentiment will be fomented among the revolutionists, with the result that American weapons may be turned on Americans, as happened when President Wilson furnished arms to Mexican factions.

President Stands Pat.

Despite this opposition, and some in the war department, the administration stood pat.

The attitude of the administration may thus be summarized:

This government is furnishing a limited quantity of war materials to the Mexican government because such action is in the interest of stability and order. The attempt to overthrow the government has resulted from the animosities and bitternesses growing out of the presidential campaign to select a successor to President Obregon.

Time to Stop Scrapping.

It is highly important that Mexico should break away from a long series of unfortunate precedents and determine the succession to the presidency by peaceful and constitutional methods. It seems that the Mexican government fully realizes this fact.

With specific reference to its relation with the United States, the Mexican government adjusted the principal fundamental questions at issue between the two governments, and this was followed by American recognition and the resumption of diplomatic relations.

The Mexican government's attitude is shown by the fact that, although called on to cope with insurrection, it has approved one of the claims conventions and has asserted its determination promptly to approve the other, and by the further fact that at a time when unusual demands are being made on its revenues it has completed a substantial deposit to carry out its agreement for refunding the Mexican debt.

The action of this government in furnishing the Mexican government with war material is in no sense a reversal of the policy regarding the sale of arms, as announced by President Harding in his letter to the secretary of war dated April 23 last. On the contrary, it is in support of that policy.

That policy is that our surplus war equipment should not be employed in encouraging warfare by fostering militarism and developing armaments.

Father of Chum Slayer Makes Blackmail Charge

As they still were searching last night for Allan McCarthy, 17 years old, who shot and killed his chum, Rowland McCarthy, over a "puppy love" affair Saturday night, the police received an urgent call from the youth's father, Attorney Jay J. McCarthy, to hurry to his office in the Chicago Title and Trust building.

Mr. McCarthy said he was being threatened by a man whose companion, a woman, was trying to extort money from him.

Find Burns Operative.

Detective Sergeants Webber and Babbington, rushing to the office, found C. E. Foster, a Burns operative, and Doris Hutchinson, who gained considerable notoriety in 1922 by claiming to be the wife of Frank M. Kattenstroth, 665 Sheridan road, a well known broker.

Mr. McCarthy told the policemen that the young woman had annoyed him for weeks by calling his wife on the phone; had made frequent trips to his office, and that she had demanded he pay her $100 immediately.

At the detective bureau Miss Hutchinson flew into a rage. She told Lieut. Luke Garrick that McCarthy owed her $10,000 and had given Allan a gun to kill her, but Rowland was killed. Mr. McCarthy denied all the woman's charges and accused her of attempting blackmail. Mr. MvCarthy, however, refused to file a complaint. She left the detective bureau.

Both Attorney McCarthy and Miss Thelma Senum, a waitress living at 4824 Winthrop avenue, sweetheart of the lawyer's son, discounted the story that the boy had committed suicide.

It was learned the boy attempted to see his sweetheart Saturday night, half an hour after he had shot his chum. The shooting was in Thomas Moran's poolroom at 5211 Broadway.

Miss Senum appeared yesterday at the inquest at the dead boy's home, 5246 Magnolia avenue. She did not testify, as the inquest was continued to Jan. 22.

Delay was ordered after the testimony of Moran and Edward Brown, 1058 Foster avenue, who was playing with Rowland when he was killed.

Tells of Shooting.

Edward told that as Allan entered there were abusive words exchanged, and Allan, with his hands in his coat pockets, fired one shot through the cloth. Rowland staggered back and fell.

"I rushed forward," said Moran, "screaming, 'For God's sake don't shoot any more.'"

"INSTANT HEAT" COMPANY HEAD PRISONER OF U. S.

Frederick D. Person, president of the Instant Heat company of America, was arrested on a charge of using the mails to defraud and released in bonds of $7,500.

Four thousand victims have been defrauded of approximately $500,000 in buying the heat company's stock, according to Chief Postal Inspector A. E. Germer. Salesmen told glowing stories of a factory, covering 80,000 square feet, in Appleton, Wis., where a wonderful hot water bottle which became instantaneously warm was to be manufactured in carload lots. An investigation disclosed the factory as a shack.

Person, H. L. Barber, Benjamin F. Levin, and A. B. Knight were indicted several weeks ago. Barber, a broker, employed 150 salesmen to sell the stock, and he is said to have received $250,000 as his commission.

Wishes President, People Happy New Year.

BULLETIN.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 31.—(11 p. m.)—President Alvaro Obregon announced tonight that his campaigns against the revolutionaries on all fronts will be held up until expected munitions of war have arrived from the United States.

BY FREDERICK WRIGHT.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Mexico City, Dec. 31.—Supreme confidence and happiness reigns tonight in the national palace at Chapultepec, President Obregon's home, as the result of information received from Washington to the effect that the American government has decided to give Mexico all the necessary war materials, including airplanes, with which to combat the revolution.

President Obregon returned to the capital today from the Guadalajara front, where he has been directing preparations for an advance on Gen. Estrada's force in that city.

Statement to U. S.

He received foreign correspondents at his home today, giving them this message:

"I desire you to send this message to President Coolidge and the American people. President Coolidge, by the position he has taken toward military plotters in Mexico, has destroyed by one stroke the plotters' belief that the government in Washington would look with favor on their armed uprising. He has demonstrated in a practical manner his sincere policy toward Mexico. He has established a foundation and has gained more ground than any other statesman ever did with their eloquent discourses.

"President Coolidge, like the real democratic President that he is, has followed that conviction of his people. He has chosen well in taking the shortest road to follow.

"I want to take advantage of the presence of the representatives of the press here now to send through them to the people of the neighboring republic and to their President my most sincere wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year."

Reports arrived here today stating that a small body of federal troops under Gen. Paulino Navarro attempting to shut off Gen. Estrada's communications to the rear was ambushed and many were killed. Gen. Navarro was among the dead. Federal troops, however, are slowly closing in on Guadalajara.

Claims of Rebels.

Nogales, Ariz., Dec. 31.—Six federal generals with their commands in central Mexico have renounced the Obregon government and gone over to the De la Huerta faction, according to announcement by Carlos Diaz, revolutionary confidential agent, here, today.

Divorces Arbuckle

MINTA E. ARBUCKLE.

Providence, R. I., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—A divorce was granted here today to Minta E. Arbuckle, wife of Roscoe E. ("Fatty") Arbuckle. The decree was granted on the grounds of neglect to provide and desertion.

In her petition Mrs. Arbuckle alleged that the former film comedian deserted her in September, 1917. The Arbuckles were married in Long Beach, Cal., Aug. 5, 1908.

When Mrs. Arbuckle filed her petition she declared through her attorney that the divorce action against Arbuckle had no connection with the Rappe girl's death, for which Arbuckle was tried and acquitted.

"CHICK" EVANS' CREDITORS LOSE NEARLY $200,000

Charles "Chick" Evans Jr., amateur golf player, was discharged yesterday by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson from all debts recently scheduled by him in a bankruptcy petition, in which he listed assets of $52,000 and liabilities of $262,000. At the same time Referee in Bankruptcy Harry A. Parkin said that but little money would be realized by Evans' creditors. The assets, he explained, were practically all pledged to cover part of the liabilities, so the total loss to the creditors should be a trifle more than $200,000. The creditors have never demanded the appointment of a trustee, Mr. Parkin said.

HERRICK'S PLEA OF POVERTY WINS CUT IN ALIMONY

Pleading that he was a "poor man," Robert Herrick, well known novelist and a professor at the University of Chicago, appeared before Superior Judge John J. Sullivan with a request for reduction of the $300 monthly alimony allotted to his wife, Mrs. Harriet Herrick, when they were divorced in 1916.

Mrs. Herrick contested his plea, declaring that the sum was hardly sufficient to support her and to keep their son, who lives in Boston, in school.

After Herrick had declared his salary as a university professor to be small, and his royalties on books to be insufficient to pay the alimony, Judge Sullivan reduced the alimony to $200 monthly. Mrs. Herrick also receives the income from $15,000 deposited by the novelist in a Chicago bank.

INVENTORY Your Man-Power!!

Leaders in many lines of business are more concerned this January First with an inventory of their man-power than of their tangible assets. They realize that marketing is the big problem ahead.

Inventoried as man-power, whether inside or outside of the organization, are salesmen, department heads, executives, distributors, tax experts, legal, merchandising and advertising counsellors. Business men know that the most economical purchase they can make in 1924 is experienced counsel.

They seem to appreciate as never before that it is fully as important to know what not to do as what to do—that any experiment due to inexperience wastes not only effort and money but invaluable time.

For years this organization has served as advertising and merchandising counsellors, a remarkable group of successful concerns. If desired, we will explain our methods by letter or personal call.

"LET ME ALONE; I'LL PAY IT ALL," REPLY OF BEAK

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Kurt R. Beak, nervously pacing the floor in his far from luxurious quarters in the Briggs house, gave yesterday for the first time his version of the financial scandal in which he and his company are involved.

His wife was there, an attractive girl with black bobbed hair. She stroked one of his hands occasionally when he passed her chair as he walked about the room.

"All our bond issues that were sold to the public will be paid in full," said Beak, as he puffed at his cigar.

Denies Duplicating Bonds.

"There are no duplicate bonds. Charges to this effect are unfounded. It would be easier to counterfeit money than real estate bonds."

"What about the million said to have been lost by your investors?" he was asked. "What has become of the $250,000 that Attorney Eugene L. Garey says he lost and the $102,000 Herbert Hinchliffe says he lost and the $160,000 that Charles A. Wathier says he lost?"

"The answer is there is no lost million," he replied. "The books will show where this money was invested and where it still remains in the company. Incidentally, Leo Koretz did not get a cent of it.

Says All Can Be Paid.

"In reference to the Garey loss I can only say that in my opinion if this thing is handled with any judgment or discretion he will not have any loss. If a creditors' committee is placed in charge the assets can be liquidated and everybody can be paid in full.

"In addition to this (and here his wife nodded in approval) whatever my efforts or ability, if given an opportunity I will, over a period of years, make good any losses sustained by friends and clients."

Mr. Beak still figures he has a $250,000 interest in K. R. Beak & Co., of which he was the president.

Asked about the Argyle Arms project, in which Wathier and Hinchliffe claim to have lost money, he said:

"About a year ago I told Mr. Wathier of a building I had an opportunity to acquire—the Argyle Arms apartments. I told him this could be bought most reasonably. The property was a leasehold estate with an option to purchase at any time by giving notice to the owners of the fee.

Terms on Argyle Arms.

"I informed him that there was deposited with the owner of the fee approximately $60,000 which was to be used in part payment for the fee when, as and if purchased. The sinking fund, according to the lease, was payable at $1,000 a month. At the present time there is on deposit for the purchase of the fee approximately $72,000.

"The ground rent was $3,000 a month. When I presented the building to Wathier for purchase there was an annual rent roll of $80,000. It was subject also to a bond issue of $150,000 secured by leasehold interest.

"I informed Wathier that in my opinion the value of the ground was in the neighborhood of $2,000 to $2,500 a front foot. There is 254 feet of frontage at Argyle and Sheridan. The bond issue on the building was to be retired at the rate of $15,000 a year.

"I told Wathier that with some remodeling the rentals could be materially increased. Wathier asked what the property was worth. I told him that while I could acquire it for little or nothing, due to the difficulties of the Hool Realty company and by assuming unpaid taxes, unpaid ground rent, unpaid principal and interest, and some mechanics' liens, the total approximated $30,000, that the property in excess of all liabilities, was worth at least $250,000.

Says He Was Vindicated.

"There might be some differences as to valuation, but my judgment has been vindicated by the worth of the property at present. Wathier said he would show the property to some friends. A few days later he asked me to come to the bank, which I did. He told me he had sold a half interest in the property for $100,000, subject to leasehold, mortgages, and balance of indebtedness.

"I thereupon closed my deal for purchase and turned all but 250 shares of stock to Wathier and kept 250 shares for the account of the corporation. I was informed that 250 shares had been sold to Bert Hinchliffe, 250 to Hugh McNeff, Wathier keeping 250 shares for his profit. Fifty thousand of this purchase price was turned over to the corporation. The total capitalization was 1,000 shares of no par stock.

"After running along two or three months more, the opinion of the men interested was to remodel the property into apartments and stores. After some investigation, I was informed by the men in my office that the remodeling could be done for $125,000 or $130,000 and the furniture would run another $100,000."

Beak said there were meetings at which all concerned approved and agreed to share expenses. He continued:

"At the time we took over the project I was requested not to use the names of the principals because they did not want to have it known that they were interested in outside ventures. They requested me to get my own officers and directors, which I did. The scrap over this project arose because I insisted that I be given a sufficient amount of money to carry on the work without hurting my financial status. That money was not forthcoming."

Every Year Leap Year Is Woman's Right, Says She

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 31.—Woman's right to propose marriage, theoretically hers during 1924, should be accorded her, in fact, not only during leap year, but at all times, Mrs. W. E. Barnhart, president of the Spokane Women's club, declared today.

"The reason many girls who would build up wonderful homes go through life without marrying is that they are not able to make their love known to the right man," Mrs. Barnhart said.

GIRL, "RICH ON BEAK'S PAPER," ONLY WAITRESS

think 4538 is the number," he replied.

"How long ago was that?"

"About a year and a half ago," Hardt said.

"Did she ever sign a stack of notes for Beak & Co.?"

"Pertaining to what?" Hardt asked.

"Pertaining to the transaction and sale of real estate," the questioner explained.

Didn't Sign Big Mortgage.

"But she did not sign the mortgage on the Sheridan road property?" Mr. O'Connell resumed.

"No," Hardt answered.

Miss Laub admitted her signature on the power of attorney and said she understood what it was.

Mr. Hardt was asked: "It was a friendly act of yours to have Rosa Laub sign for Miller?"

"Yes," he replied.

The Laub mortgage is a third mortgage and is now held by Wathier as a trust receipt to use as collateral.

Beak denies that he ever sold the mortgage to the Chicago Distributing company. It is true, the speculator says, that the mortgage was given to Wathier and that Wathier gave $35,000 on it. That money was used in the Argyle Arms enterprise.

Wants More Papers Examined.

The Laub mortgage was sent to the Chicago Title and Trust company for recording, it was said, by Wathier, and the state's attorney will ask for an examination of papers in the possession of that company.

Mr. Hardt told the state's attorney that Miller had asked him two weeks ago to get the power of attorney from the girl and he had advised his niece to sign.

Miss Laub, it is said, received $10 for signing the paper.

Miller was called to the state's attorney's office and asked about the Laub transaction.

It was Beak, he said, who told him to sign the name of the girl to the mortgage and notes.

Wanted to "Cover Himself."

Later, he said, when some question arose about the legality of the signature, he got the power of attorney to cover himself.

Mr. Gorman discovered that John J. Kratz, an employé of Beak & Co., had conducted two concerns, the Central Repairing company and the Janitors' Supply company, while working for Beak, and had collected commissions on plumbers' bills and other things incurred in the repair of the Beak properties.

ELLON-HOOVER AINT GLOWING ICTURE OF 1924

view Good Record and Predict Better.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Two members of President Coolidge's cabinet today voiced the confidence with which they feel the country should face the new year.

Secretary of Treasury Mellon briefly summarized the fiscal situation as it improved during 1923 and emphasized the improvement 1924 will witness if the tax reduction program is put into effect by congress.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover reviewed the industrial achievements of the last twelve months and predicted an economic future characterized by "better times."

Mr. Mellon's Statement.

"During the last year this country has made a remarkable recovery from a severe industrial depression," said Secretary Mellon. "It has become increasingly evident that, with business on a sound footing and fairly balanced relations between industries, our own country can enjoy stability and a moderate degree of prosperity, even when unsatisfactory conditions prevail abroad.

"Much depends on the continued efforts of the country to keep its financial house in order, holding down expenditures and following sound policies as regards new undertakings. The government has closed 1923 with a surplus of about $310,000,000 above all expenditures, including the sinking fund and other debt retirements to which the government is committed under the sound policy of balancing the budget and gradually reducing its indebtedness. During the year the government received $4,164,105,600, about half a billion dollars more than receipts for 1922.

[illegible] Department's Record.

"During the year the treasury has completed the refunding of the $7,500,000,000 of the short dated debt, without disturbance to business or a strain on the financial market. This has included the completion of the refunding of the Victory loan, aggregating over $4,500,000,000, and the retirement of over $500,000,000 of war savings certificates. The year has also witnessed the funding of the debt owed to this country by Great Britain into bonds aggregating $4,600,000,000 with satisfactory arrangements for their gradual retirement.

"As a result of the present favorable condition of the government's finances, the treasury has recommended a reduction of taxes in the belief that the country should be relieved as far as may be possible of the excessive burden of taxation, which has been borne so uncomplainingly during and after the war.

"The treasury has accordingly recommended to congress that legislation be enacted, which will distribute the benefits of tax reduction among all classes of taxpayers and release, for investment in productive enterprise, funds which are necessary for the country's expansion and future healthy development."

Hoover's Glowing Picture.

"The general spirit of prudence, the absence of speculation, complete employment, high production, and the great financial strength and stability of the important states in the western hemisphere, together with the promise of an early conference for constructive solution of the world's greatest economic menace—Franco-German relations—all create a hopeful foundation on which the new year may build," Mr. Hoover stated.

He added that an economic weather chart of the world would show three distinct areas as follows:

First, the western hemisphere, Asia, Australia, and Africa, which have made distinct economic progress during the last year.

Even Russia Shows Progress.

Second, Russia, the Baltic, the Balkan states, the near east, Italy, and Spain, which are still struggling with after war problems, but yet show undoubted progress.

Third, an area of economic depression resulting from the occupation of the Ruhr and the collapse in Germany, radiating depressing influences strongly over Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Switzerland, Hungary, Scandinavia, Holland, Great Britain, and France.

"Our own country has shown more freedom from depressing European economic influences than most others," said Mr. Hoover.

"In 1923 the United States have witnessed the highest total productivity and movement of commodities since the war, with full employment, high real wages, greatly increased savings, large additions to home building, and the largest increase in railway equipment since the war.

"Some secondary interrogations can be raised as to the effect of the expansion of installment buying of consumable goods, the acute suffering in the northwest agricultural areas, the increase on stocks of some commodities, and decrease on some advance orders, but these items are small compared to the whole industrial fabric."

LEAPS TO DEATH FROM WINDOW IN COUNTY HOSPITAL

Freeing himself in some unexplained manner from the leather straps by which he was bound to his bed, Thomas Grohart, 42 years old, a delirious patient at the county hospital, leaped to his death from a fifth story window of that institution yesterday.

Grohart, who resided at 4713 South Loomis street, was brought to the hospital Saturday in a delirious condition and a nurse was kept in constant attendance to see that he did not injure himself. She was called from the room by another patient and was gone about a moment when the man leaped to his death.

CHARRED BITS OF WRECKED AIRSHIP GIVEN UP BY SEA

Experts Believe That Fire Destroyed Dixmude.

PALERMO, Italy, Dec. 31.—[By the Associated Press.]—Bits of charred wreckage swept in by the sea at Sciacca and along the coast near Palermo have been examined by experts, and the conclusion has been reached that the French dirigible Dixmude was destroyed by fire, probably after an explosion.

A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the cathedral here today for the victims, and the people of Palermo, in deepest sorrow, have placed flowers on the body of Lieut. Grenadan, the commander of the dirigible. The body lies in the station here.

Calls New U. S. Zep Safe.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—America need have no fear for the ZR 3 when it begins its trans-Atlantic flight, Capt. Walter Bruns, who commanded a Zeppelin during the war, said today. The disaster which overtook the Dixmude was the result of improper distribution of ballast or some faulty loading which brought unusual strains to bear, he asserted.

Two "Blizzard Bandits" Rob Messenger of $654

Two men leaped from a doorway at State and Chestnut streets during the snow storm yesterday afternoon, slugged Philip Stewart, a messenger for the O'Donnell market, Rush and Cedar streets, and robbed him of $654 which he was carrying from a bank to the store. Stewart, who lives at 164 East Chestnut street, had his head bent against the storm and did not see his assailants.

QUESSE APPLIES TO HIGH COURT FOR A REHEARING

Meantime Quesse and all members of the janitors' union that he can control are circulating pledge cards for Gov. Small.

DEVER REPORTS ON STEWARDSHIP; CITES PROGRESS

Mayor Dever's last official act in the old year was the issuance of a lengthy record of the achievements and progress made by his administration since its induction, on April 16, 1923.

"New Year's day would seem an auspicious and proper time to officially greet the people of Chicago, whose municipal affairs have been placed in my hands," said the mayor in his message, "and say to them that it is my sincere wish that the year 1924 will be for each and all of them a year replete with prosperity and happiness.

"I desire to express my heartfelt gratitude to all of our citizens for their many manifestations of loyalty and confidence in the integrity of my aims and purposes. It is my earnest ambition that the manner and method of the discharge of my trust hereafter will continue to merit that same confidence and esteem.

Strict Law Enforcement.

"There has been inaugurated and prosecuted a program of strict law enforcement with the thought uppermost that respect for all law must be maintained if Chicago is to be made a better and a safer city.

"To insure a maximum of service and efficiency at the least possible expense to the taxpayers, a comprehensive expert survey of the work and requirements of every city department and bureau has been made. As a result much overlapping has been eliminated. Economy has been strenuously emphasized.

"Since the change of administration, the many coördinate branches and departments have been reorganized and rehabilitated. That they have functioned well and efficiently is best illustrated by a summarized report of the activities of each since the present administration took office.

"The effective work of the police department has been one of the most notable achievements of the city administration. All notorious vice resorts have been wiped out and today Chicago is cleaner and freer from vice than it has been in many years. Gambling resorts have been closed and kept closed. The eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution, as well as the Illinois prohibition act, has been rigidly enforced to the extent that over 2,100 retail beverage licenses have been revoked for violations and of 5,500 soft drink parlors in operation, approximately 2,500 have closed voluntarily. There has been a substantial reduction in the number of major crimes and crimes of violence.

"During the last nine months of 1923 the fire department responded to over 16,000 fire alarms. While this number is more than 600 calls in excess of the same period in 1922, the fire losses for the year 1923 were approximately $400,000 less than during the preceding year.

"The board of local improvements reports record progress in the construction of many improvements of the greatest benefit to the people. The West Randolph street market improvement has been completed. All paving work on Ogden avenue has been completed, and within a few weeks a temporary bridge over the Chicago river will make this great diagonal thoroughfare available for use from Union park to Lincoln park. Ten miles of Western avenue improvement have been completed. Construction work is going on for the removal of buildings and the widening of five miles of Ashland avenue.

"During this year eighty-eight miles of streets, fifty-four miles of alleys, fifty-two miles of sewers, and 205 miles of sidewalks have been constructed, exceeding last year's construction by more than 20 per cent, while engineering and inspection costs have been reduced.

City Money on Deposit.

"On December 21, 1923, there was on deposit to the credit of the city in 125 depositary banks cash to the amount of $32,798,350. The city had also, as of that date, invested in first class securities, the following sums: City of Chicago tax warrants, $31,570,000; Liberty loan bonds, $8,850,000; municipal bonds, $63,002,107.40; war savings stamps, $800. The city's total cash and investments are, therefore, $76,221,258.20.

"Departmental estimates for 1924 are being carefully scrutinized and studied by the department of finance, assisted by the firm of Griffenhagen and associates, efficiency engineers. As a result of these studies many economies will be effected and improved methods insuring better service adopted. On the other hand, some essential municipal activities have been permitted to lapse for want of adequate financial and official encouragement and the physical property of the city has, generally speaking, been neglected.

The Transit Problem.

"Real economy demands in these instances a sufficient appropriation to rehabilitate these neglected activities and properly conserve our municipal physical properties.

"The zoning board of appeals has been exercising broad discretionary powers in a manner unusually satisfactory.

"W[illegible]ve been and are giving earnest consideration to the local transportation problem. This is a most difficult and complicated problem, the proper solution of which can only be arrived at after an intelligent consideration and study of the many questions involved.

"As I have frequently stated, both before my election and since, I am firmly convinced that Chicago will never approach satisfactory transportation conditions except under municipal ownership and operation."

Arrest State 'Dry' Officer at Marion After a Fight

Marion, Ill., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—State Prohibition Enforcement Officer S. Glenn Young was arrested today on the charge of assault, preferred by Paul Corder, a clothing merchant, who was badly beaten by Young in front of a local restaurant last night. The affray resulted from an argument over the arrest on Friday night of State Representative Wallace A. Bandy on the charge of having illicit liquor in his house. Young charges the arrest of Bandy was a "frame up."

$500,000 IN BETS WON IN N. Y. WHEN STEEL COMMON CROSSES PAR

New York, Dec. 31.—[Special.]—More than $500,000 in bets was won today when the price of the common stock of the United States Steel corporation was advanced above $100 a share, or, in the language of Wall street, crossed par.

Most of these bets were made last summer, when the bears were in their glory hammering down recklessly prices of all securities to the accompaniment of all sorts of disquieting rumors. Subsequently United States Steel common sold down to about $85 a share.

Prophets of disaster were predicting that the price would fall below $70. The high mark early last January was $109.62½. Wagers were made freely that Steel would not sell at par again during the year.

A Broader Scope in 1924 for Our "New Order of Things" in Clothes for Men

By GEO. H. CAPPER
President Capper & Capper

EXACTLY one year ago today we made a startling announcement to the people of Chicago, the purpose of which was to eliminate every garment in our stocks.

It was not held for the purpose of financial profit, like the usual clearance. Our sole intention was to dispose of every suit and overcoat, no matter how fine, to make way for a higher level of excellence in clothes for men than the world had ever seen. That all of this has been accomplished is now a matter of record.

No conviction was ever firmer than the idea which grew into this "New Order of Things" in clothes for men. None was ever more completely justified by subsequent facts. The magnitude of this new service that we have established in the clothing field is attested by the surpassing volume of our business in 1923—by far the largest in our thirty years of merchandising.

Thousands of Chicago's best dressed men are today the proof of the eagerness with which our new standard of quality was welcomed. The Capper & Capper label, identifying these Stratford Clothes, predominates wherever the most correctly dressed men gather—in the best clubs—at the Opera—on the campus at the leading universities. The genius of Henry L. Rissman and his manufacturing resources are plainly evident in these superb weaves, incomparable designs, and patterns that are restricted absolutely to us. Nothing approaching them is found even in Bond Street or Fifth Avenue institutions, except in a limited way. As a uniform standard, this degree of excellence has been realized by us alone.

It is now our purpose to extend the scope of our plan, and to bring more of Chicago's and America's careful dressers within its range. We are, therefore, offering a rare opportunity to these men; we want to acquaint them with the pride of possessing garments of a quality unapproached in the history of tailorcraft—and this under extraordinary price conditions.

Beginning tomorrow morning, Wednesday, January 2nd, the following important reductions will be in effect at both our Chicago stores, as well as our stores in other cities, on all business Suits and Overcoats:

All $50 Suits & O'Coats now . $37.50
All $55 Suits & O'Coats now . $41.25
All $60 Suits & O'Coats now . $45.00

All $65 Suits & O'Coats now . $48.75
All $70 Suits & O'Coats now . $52.50
All $75 Suits & O'Coats now . $56.25

All $80 Suits & O'Coats now . $60.00
All $90 Suits & O'Coats now . $67.50
All $100 Suits & O'Coats now $75.00

All of our finer Overcoats formerly sold by us from $110.00 to $150.00 are also offered at proportionate reductions.

All the merchandise offered is of supreme quality—the finest possible to create—and should not be confused with the general standards maintained in any other store. Every garment is of this season's production—nothing carried over—nothing old; it is part of our "New Order of Things" never to carry merchandise from season to season.

Throughout the sale we shall do our utmost to give careful and individual attention to each patron. However, at last January's clearance we were seriously embarrassed by the pressure of numbers, and we therefore ask your indulgence now

TRUTH

There hangs in the Paris Art Galleries a wonderful picture .... the painting of a perfectly nude woman. It is a beautiful piece of art . . . a masterpiece. The title of this picture is "Truth." It visualizes the fact that Truth is naked; that it cannot be cloaked.

And truth is as apparent in business as in art. The firm of George Bernards has been in existence for more than fifteen years. Today finds it one of the strongest stores of its kind in America. It has developed and progressed on a basis of Truth in Advertising; Fairness to its Patrons and Honest Representation of its merchandise. It has become more than a store . . . it is an institution. And this has been accomplished only by pursuing honest and truthful business methods.

When our beloved President Harding died we all lost a wonderful friend and a capable and truthful leader. It was his truthful character and straightforwardness that will make him live in the minds of the American people forever.

Truth will prevail, for truth is right. Our business is based on truth. Our policy of satisfactory adjustments makes buying here a real pleasure. If you purchase from us you have the satisfaction of knowing we will cheerfully refund your money on purchases you do not choose to keep.

This policy has been in effect for the past fifteen years and we will continue it during 1924, for we have faith in mankind and know the people have the instinct to know the truth and to know we are right.

Sincerely,
George Bernards

POLITICAL ASPECTS OF THE BONUS.

A canvass of votes in congress indicates that a soldiers' bonus, or adjusted compensation bill, will be passed by a heavy majority in both houses. Probably it will be passed over a veto, if the President's disapproval of the measure takes that form.

In this situation there is material for much political speculation. What will be the political result if congress passes the bill and it is vetoed? What will be the effect upon political fortunes if it is passed over a veto, or if the President signs it, or if it fails of becoming a law?

If it is passed and signed it will cease immediately to be an issue, except as a matter of record. If it is not it will go into the next national campaign as one of the leading issues, if not the one of greatest political importance. That will be the result, whether we like it or not, and whether we approve of it or not. It is a fact which may as well be faced. It is not guesswork or idle speculation.

Twenty states have already voted to tax themselves to pay bonuses or otherwise adjust the compensation of their citizens who served in the war while other citizens were enjoying comparative luxury and incomparable safety and opportunity at home. In these states the vote in favor of the bonus has run from two to one to five to one. In the states which were first to act the majority in favor has averaged generally smaller than in those which acted later. In New York last year the figures were approximately five to one in favor of the bonus. The indication is that the greater the delay and the greater the stirring of public opinion the greater is the majority in favor.

The delay on the project of a national bonus has been sufficiently long and in character has been sufficiently irritating to bring out a tremendous vote in behalf of the bonus. It is clear and certain that the public feels very strongly indeed on this subject. In New York, for instance, despite the opposition of a great majority of the newspapers, and despite the fact that Wall street is the reputed home of powerful privilege and opposed to the bonus, the measure has passed twice, the first time only to be thrown out as unconstitutional and the second time with changes to make it legal and certain, and this time by a five to one majority. Some states have gone so far as to change their constitutions, or are preparing to do so by referendum, to permit of bonus legislation.

That indicates deep feeling which no economic argument and no mere words of opposition can refute. It is corroborative evidence that a federal bonus would not only be just but wise. Our soldiers and sailors, having carried themselves gloriously in war, are entitled to the laurel and bay leaves. A bonus will be a material evidence of the honor and appreciation in which they are held. It will be an investment in the respect of future generations.

It is folly, we believe, to say this great and rich country cannot afford it. It would be more truthful to say that we cannot afford to refuse it. Perhaps it will delay a part of Mr. Mellon's tax reduction program. It need not destroy all that program. And, again considering it politically, it offers far too popular an issue for a Democratic candidate for the Republican party to take an opposite stand. That does not mean that principle should be sacrificed to expediency. Rather, justice, principle, and expediency are one in this case. Let us have the bonus and end the wrangling and the veterans' sense of ill usage.

THE MAN KILLER.

The gun stories in Monday's Tribune began on the first page and ran almost throughout the paper. Saturday and Sunday were good days for the boys with pistols. A girl and her escort held up by four armed robbers. Four men playing poker. Somebody did some shooting and one man was taken to the hospital with a bullet wound below the heart.

A boyish quarrel and one young fellow shoots another dead and is himself possibly a suicide. A grudge between two men involves four. Shooting and two are in the hospital. A state bank is held up in daylight by six armed men. A motorist has his car boarded by two armed men and bombarded by shots from four armed men pursuing them. Thirty-five members of a political ward club lined up against the wall by four armed men and robbed of watches, money, and jewelry. Various and numerous items of pedestrians and motorists stuck up on the street at the point of a pistol and robbed.

It is not only the criminal who finds the way easy with a gun held on his victims but the gun in the pocket or in the drawer at home gives every explosion of temper, every quarrel or alcoholic dementia the possibility or probability of murder as a consequence. People get mad and the result is the use of a pistol. Some one is in the hands of the undertaker or surgeon and there is tragedy and crime. It happens in the home and on the streets.

People are contentious. They will quarrel and fight. Bad tempers, insulting words, and intoxication upset the normal judgment and produce violence, but they need not produce murder and would not if the means of murdering were not so frequently right where they can be used. If men fought with their fists or even with bottles, chairs, and clubs they might be badly bruised up, but the chances are they would not be killing each other.

The handy pistol gives the criminal and the violent man or woman the chance to do their worst in their worst moments and the Cook county record at this writing is 291 dead of guns in 1923. There is no excuse for the pistol in the hands of civilians in any society which pretends to be ordered and to protect public security. The pistol has only one purpose and is made for only one. That is killing human beings. It is a man killer and nothing else. It is bought to use against a human being on some anticipated occasion or in some possible emergency. For justified defense of the home a shotgun is a better weapon. Men can go gunning for each other with shotguns, but they will not have them in the pocket ready for the first flare of temper.

The manufacture and sale of pistols should be in government hands exclusively. We have laws against the carrying of concealed weapons. They do not work. The restrictions of sale are ineffective. We know that even if only the government made pistols gunmen would get them as bootleggers now get some of their whisky, from Canada and elsewhere, but there would be a reduction in the number of armed citizens and a reduction in murders. In this lawless American life we have recreated the old murderous frontier in every large city. So long as men have death on their hips our murder record will disgrace us.

FACTS: UNANSWERED AND UNANSWERABLE.

Attorney General Brundage's opening speech at Freeport was one of the most terrific indictments ever brought before the citizens of an American commonwealth.

It was terrible in its quiet, deadly narrative of the facts of Small's record. Of these facts some have been proved upon oath in court; others are of record in official acts; others are so notorious as to be beyond denial, even by Small. Together, they constitute a bill of particulars which Small cannot face before the people of this state. His only chance lies in a conspiracy of silence among such downstate newspapers as have accepted his favors and, by the raising of a false issue, to turn the eyes of the voter away from the deadly arraignment of his record.

Attorney General Brundage has challenged the conscience of the people of Illinois. His arraignment of Small is unanswerable and conclusive. Small had opportunity to answer it in open court, under oath. He dared not accept that opportunity. His silence was confession. To drown that silence, he clamors about good roads. But Essington will build better roads and more roads than Small, for Essington will use the people's money to build roads and not a political machine. Essington was working for good roads when Small was putting interest on the people's money where he won't tell us.

The people of Illinois would be foolish to worry about good roads. They want them, and they are going to get them, all that can be built, as soon as they can be built. The only issue before them is the record of Len Small, and that record should be spread before them so that no voter can miss it. Mr. Brundage has delivered a broadside of unanswerable facts. It should be spread from Cairo to the Wisconsin line.

AID TO OBREGON.

The United States government has decided to sell arms and munitions to the government of Mexico. Having recognized the administration of Gen. Obregon as a government de facto and de jure, this decision is consistent under international law. Our government has no obligation at this state of the hostilities in Mexico to maintain neutrality as between factions.

The decision, however, involves a question of policy as to the expediency of which we accept the judgment of Mr. Hughes. The question of policy is whether it is our interest to assist in the maintenance of Gen. Obregon's authority. It is to be assumed that Mr. Hughes believes it to be our interest. The theory suggested is that our government wishes to discourage resort to arms for the decision of political questions and to throw our weight in favor of the ballot. We do not quarrel with that policy, but we venture to suggest that since it has been acted upon, it be pursued effectively. The Bryan-Wilson conduct of our relations with Mexico was a failure not merely because it was founded on a misconception of the actual conditions controlling Mexican events, but because it wabbled widely between interference and noninterference. It meddled with the Mexican situation enough to make confusion worse confounded, but failed to pursue any course long enough to force a decision.

We hope Mr. Coolidge will avoid this and that having decided to give aid to Obregon, he will give enough to reëstablish legal authority; whatever is needed, rifles, artillery, gas, airplanes, munitions and supplies, experts, mechanicians. And while the Obregon government is asking aid, proper terms should be fixed. Our interest is in the firm establishment of a government which can be relied upon to maintain domestic order and fulfill international obligations. If our government believes Gen. Obregon and his supporters are most likely to establish and maintain such a government, it should give whatever assistance is needed to that end. Half measures are worse than none.

"LET THERE BE LIGHTS."

A noteworthy bit of modern city improvement of immediate value to many Chicago residents and of potential value to all the rest is the new street lighting system recently installed along Sheridan road, north of Devon avenue, by the North Shore Park district. Walking or driving in these winter evenings out of the normal street lighting of Chicago into this section is almost like stepping from a darkened room into brilliant sunshine.

It is something new in Chicago, so far as our experience goes, and comparatively new for other sections. The old fashioned street lights, consisting of an incandescent bulb surrounded by a large translucent bowl, all mounted on a low standard, seem almost as obsolete as gas lights in comparison. The new light is a development of what is called the Holophane refractor, which throws the rays where they are needed, instead of allowing them to go to waste in the air.

The result is a street evenly illuminated, with equal visibility between the standards and immediately around them, no glare in the eyes of motorists and pedestrians, but ease, comfort, and safety to all concerned.

The North Shore Park board is to be commended for adopting this improvement. It is to be hoped that any further development of street lighting in Chicago will do as well.

THE CRISIS.

(By Our Special Leased Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—The country is growing more and more excited over the snubbing by the Baronne de Marchienne, wife of the Belgian ambassador, of Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, the German ambassador. Snubbing a Presidential guest is held in Washington to be the same as snubbing the President himself. If Belgium does not immediately disavow the act and apologize, the gravest consequences may result. Massachusetts, the President's home state, has ordered the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston to mobilize in full dress uniform at once, while Washington has instituted a boycott on Brussels sprouts. The American ambassador to Belgium has not yet been recalled, but it is understood that when he attends the state dinner given by the king of Belgium tomorrow night he has been instructed by the state department to sp'll his soup on the tablecloth and eat pie with his knife in an effort to get even with Belgium and soothe the war feeling in America.

THE WAY TO CONSUME IS TO CONSUME.

R. H. L.: Will you do me a favor? Ask Jane Eddington to send me, special delivery, directions for the legitimate but final disposal of the remains of the Christmas turkey in time for a short intermission before the New Year's bird makes his appearance. I have been doing my duty uncomplainingly since Christmas, but last night panic seized me. After dinner I tactfully inquired of friend wife how we were getting along with the turkey and she hopefully replied that she thought we were holding our own! By the way, better tell Jane to put two special delivery stamps on that letter.

Dick, Fanny is young and single, but we are older and single, and we know, and she doesn't, that there is a world of difference between those two titles.

AND MR. ### YOUNG AT 68—

R. T. W. writes: It seems to me that the great majority of people do not realize what health is. If they are suffering no pains or aches and are able to be around they claim to be healthy, and are healthy to a certain extent, but a person 100 per cent healthy, or near that, should feel like a healthy child with the instinct to take exercise until fatigued. That is exactly the way I feel and do, and I am 68 years of age and more vigorous and active since reaching the age of manhood. I enjoy all the pleasures of youth and old age, and none of its follies. My hair is still its nautral color and my complexion natural and healthy.

Saturday afternoons I walk to one of the parks and row a boat for an hour or more. When the boating season is over I walk fifteen or twenty miles. This distance is nothing for me. Every night I usually walk from two to ten miles. Only people in vigorous health can do or should do what I do. Those who are ill should lie down, sit up, or walk when they feel like it. I love to dance and attend one or two dances each week where they waltz. My bowels, since childhood, have always moved after breakfast.

At night I brush my hair, wash my face with hot water and soap, dash cold water in the pores, dip my feet in the wash basin, rub myself down with a towel, and go to bed. As a rule I always fall to sleep right away and never wake up until 6:30 or 7 a. m. If, at any time, exciting events, by reason of my business, disturb my slumbers, I readily overcome them. I always lie on my right side when I go to bed. If I do not fall to sleep, I lie on that side until it is very tired, then turn on my left side and try and let myself sink in bed. The comfort and feeling of relief is so great that I usually fall to sleep, but if I do not, I mentally command my feet to relax, and so on, mentioning every part of my body. If this fails, I breathe deeply until I go to sleep.

When I arise in the morning I take twenty minutes' calisthenics, then rub my skin briskly with a bath brush, after which I fill the wash stand full of cold water, wet my arms with my hands, then sides, then the front part of my body, then my back and legs, dip my feet in the wash basin, rub myself with a Turkish towel. I go to the courthouse—a distance of three miles—and run the crossings. I run, not lift my feet up and push them along, and if I have a chance without people looking, I skip like a child for a block or so. I walk up the stairs, regardless of distance I have to go, unless greatly pressed for time, and always run downstairs. For the last twenty years I have been warned by doctor friends of mine not to climb stairs.

In the afternoon, before closing my office, I do ten minutes' calisthenics and ten minutes' dumbbell exercise. Several times a day, feeling like taking exercise, I raise myself off the chair with my hands. I never, under any circumstances, eat simply because the stomach feels like working, but I must have an appetite, that is, food must taste delicious before I eat. I eat all kinds of pure foods, bread, meat, potatoes, and fruit, but no pastry. I find when I eat I am stimulated; also, when thirsty, water stimulates me. Those, I believe, are the only two stimulants in the world.

DIET FOR NEPHRITIS.

Mrs. G. H. G. writes:

1. Is chronic nephritis curable? If not, just what is the usual prognosis?

2. Is special diet necessary and what should it be?

3. Is a mild climate essential?

4. What is the cause of disease?

REPLY.

1. Some cases of chronic nephritis can be cured. Others can greatly prolong their lives by living properly.

2. The principal part of a plan of treatment consists in dieting. In a recent article I quoted Sansum as saying the principal aim in dieting should be to keep the acidity of the urine low. This is done by living largely on vegetables and fruits and milk, avoiding plums, prunes, rhubarb, and cranberries, eating only a limited amount of bread, cereal, meat, and eggs. The need of iron is supplied by green vegetables and a moderate allowance of meal and egg yolk.

3. It is not essential, but it is advantageous.

4. Infections are the most important causes.

Among the more important infections are pneumonia, sore throat, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and rheumatism.

EAR MAY BE OFFENDER.

M. writes:

1. What is the cause of dizziness in a woman nearly 60 years of age when she turns head to the left when lying in bed? Heart, kidneys, and liver are all right.

2. Should one with this trouble lead a quiet life instead of being very active in home, church, and club work?

REPLY.

1. The probable cause is trouble in the inner ear. However, have an examination made for high blood pressure.

2. No. Keep up your activities.

PRESSURE ON NERVE.

F. J. D. writes: Every night while asleep my left hand and arm get numb. What is the cause of it?

Would driving an automobile eight hours a day have anything to do with it?

REPLY.

Somehow the nerve is being pressed on or it is being unduly fatigued. Do you sleep on that arm?

Driving an automobile several hours a day may be the cause, but in that case X-ray picture of your arms, shoulders and neck would probably show that your bony parts are a little out of the ordinary. Somewhere a piece of bone presses on a nerve, else that much driving would not cause the trouble.

GARAGE OVER LOT LINE.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I purchased a building about six months ago. The easement stated that the drive along the side of the building was to remain free and open. The man next door has four garages, and one garage extends several inches past my building line. On account of this little difference I cannot get my car into my garage without driving into my neighbor's yard, and then backing very carefully into my garage. I have asked him to move his garage, but he has not done so. How can I have this situation changed?
J. M. G.

We could advise to better advantage if you had stated what answer he makes to your objections. Apparently the best course would be to notify him that if he will not either move the garage or pay for the additional strip that he is occupying, you will employ an attorney to enforce legal remedies.

CAB DAMAGES CAR.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Last Saturday I had an accident with my small car with which I make my living. I stopped for the traffic signal and when we started up again a cab which did not observe the signal came crashing into me. The officer said it was clearly the cab's fault. My car was sent to the garage for repairs. Am I entitled to recover for the damage to my car and also for days of work lost? I cannot get to work without my car.
C. M.

If they were to blame for the accident and you were not, you would be entitled to recover the damages necessarily sustained, but since you could apparently avoid staying home from work by using the street cars, we do not see that loss of time would be a proper element for damage.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MURDER AND INSANITY.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—If a man commits murder while temporarily insane and is placed in an asylum can he be tried for the crime after he is discharged as cured?
R. E.

Of course he can be tried, but insanity would be a defense if sufficient proof could be made. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

LAST HOURS OF SPANISH RULE.

Havana, Dec. 31.—Tonight's sun set for the last time on the Spanish flag in the new world. The word "finis" is about to be written on the chapter begun by Columbus.

In the streets of Havana the Tenth United States Infantry is on guard. The city is an armed camp. Army teamsters water their horses from the marble fountains and soldiers in blue patrol the streets. Along the wharves on boxes and bundles sit boy soldiers in gray, while boats travel slowly back and forth through the night taking them to the transport ships waiting to carry them to Spain.

The Commercial club of Chicago last evening, after listening to the views of various speakers on the general topic, "The Need of Monetary Legislation," unanimously adopted resolutions declaring that "a special session of Congress should be called immediately after March 4, 1899," to consider the problem of finance.

The occasion was the one hundred and forty-ninth regular meeting of the club, which was held in the banquet hall at the Auditorium Hotel. The speakers who addressed the club were: W. T. Baker, Charles G. Dawes, E. S. Lacey, James B. Forgan, and Congressman James R. Mann.

Hartford City, Ind., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—With zero weather prevailing a score of towns in Ohio are deprived of gas for fuel or other purposes by an explosion which wrecked this morning the mammoth pumping station of the Ohio and Indiana Pipe Line company near Red Key, fourteen miles east of this city.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY (FACSIMILES)

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—"Before we deal with the Western Federation of Miners water will flow out of the shafts of the Calumet and Hecla," General Superintendent John Knox of that mine said today.

"We are not all Socialists; only 5 per cent of us hold membership cards in the Socialist party," President Dan Sullivan of local 200 Western Federation of Miners said, "but before this thing is over there will be a h—l of a lot more of us."

Socialism is at bottom of the trouble in the copper country. This bold statement requires elaboration. The members of the Western Federation of Miners have a socialistic turn of mind. They question not only their present working conditions, their wages, and hours, but also the justice of the system of private property in mines.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Jan. 1, 2 a. m.—G. B. Shaw greets the opening of the new year with a panacea for war. In the course of a long article in the Daily News Mr. Shaw says:

"International warfare is an unmitigated nuisance. Have as much character building civil war as you like, but there must be no sowing of dragon's teeth like the Franco-Prussian war. England can put a stop to such a crime single handed easily enough if she can keep her knees from knocking together in her present militarist fashion."

"How?" one might ask. Here is Shaw's answer:

"By politely announcing that war between France and Germany would be so inconvenient to England that the latter country is prepared to pledge herself to defend either country if attacked by the other."

Chicago celebrated the advent of the new year in a rather more sedate manner than has been its custom. There was a measure of self-control exhibited by the "spenders," according to reports up to 2 a. m., although after that hour there was a "loosening" tendency.

Arthur Burrage Farwell's watchers, professional and amateur, were on watch. They found numerous violations of the law, which they will gather into form and report to their chief today.

The orders of the mayor against sale of liquor after 1 a. m. were evaded in many cases by "purchase" in adequate quantities before that hour and by "[illegible]" [illegible]

THE LATIN AMERICAN MIND.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Your editorials in Friday's and Saturday's The Tribune about Mexico do not surprise me or any Latin American that knows what The Tribune and the rest of the yellow press of this country are.

It is well known to Latin America that the attitude of The Tribune and the rest of the capitalistic press of this country always was and will be unfriendly and injurious to Mexico and the rest of Latin America. The hypocrisy of The Tribune can deceive only to the ignorant masses of this country and the world, but not to the ones that have enough brains to see and interpret its real tendencies.

The same Tribune said repeatedly that Latin America was mistaking by thinking that the United States has the imperialistic and covetous tendency toward Latin America. What is your Platt's amendment idea if it is not imperialistic tendency? Don't fool yourself; Latin America knows it well, and have enough reasons for distrusting to imperialistic and covetous Yankee.

You might think that Cuba is enjoying the rights of a free and sovereign nation under the Platt amendment, but before the eyes of the patriotic Cubans and the world, Cuba is a humiliated colony of U. S. Your colorful words and phrases about justice, freedom, democracy, etc., cannot deceive Latin minds. They can see clearly the devil in disguise of an angel. How would you like a Lenine and Trotsky's amendment for U. S.? Would not it be better than Platt's? But I am sure that The Tribune and U. S. would not like it if Russia, the exemplary nation of the world, would suggest in sending to this country a few millions of Russian [proletarian] soldiers to stop the holdups, the Negro lynchings, the repetition of the Herrin massacre, and most of all, to stop the legalized robbery and slavery of the capitalistic system.

I don't believe in destructive revolution, but anyway I don't think the temporary Mexican revolution is worse than the perpetual crimes and exploitation of the organized crooks [capitalists] of this country.

What The Tribune should do instead of worrying about Mexican affairs is to help to do away with the criminal capitalistic system of this country and set up Lenine's ideal and system of government. Then the Mexican revolutions will end forever.
AMO PAX.

IN DEFENSE OF CHICAGO'S CLEANLINESS.

Chicago, Dec. 27.—The woman who signs herself V. A. L. under Dr. Evans' page will certainly find herself in a peck of trouble this morning.

I cannot imagine what kind of condition or localities V. A. L. frequents to come in contact with such ghastly conditions as she depicts.

I think our department stores and office buildings are justified in resenting so nauseating statements as this woman makes.

I have found, upon visiting washrooms and restrooms downtown, a very clean, sanitary condition, and usually an immaculate white aproned attendant to keep things clean.

Surely the Chicago women cannot but say our stores and office buildings are conducted as nearly sanitary as possible. Our women are so fine and immaculate.
MRS. A. DAWSON.

REPORT RURAL TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS TO STATE HIGHWAY PATROL.

De Kalb, Ill., Dec. 23.—In regard to the statement made by W. A. Long in your today's issue: When Mr. Long was crowded off the road by that truck at Malta, Ill., why did he not get the license number of the vehicle and report it either to De Kalb or Rochelle officials, who, in turn, would have reported it to me? A little coöperation between motorists and our state highway patrol would eliminate this kind of "stuff."

In regard to this seven ton truck, I wish to state that these trucks are pretty well looked over and weighed, and, if overloaded, suffer the penalty.

I don't believe Mr. Long can show me very many holes in the concrete pavement west of the Cook county line.
O. N. LARSON,

AGAINST THE BOK AWARD ON PRINCIPLE.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Your masterful editorial of Dec. 28, entitled "Against Mr. Bok's Award," was great. It is work like this that long ago caused me to concede the truth of your slogan, "The World's Greatest Newspaper." Greatness consists in the fundamental and farreaching value of the service rendered in properly informing and properly directing public thought. In this editorial, as in so many of your editorials on national policy, you have stood squarely for a principle that is as solid as Gibraltar; and yet one that is easily overlooked.
WALDO P. WARREN.

WE MAY HAVE TO COME TO THAT YET.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—'Way back when I was a youngster in London, England, I well remember my father's taking me for my first ride on the "underground" railway. It was quite a thriller, and it both interested and surprised me to learn that this mode of transportation had been made possible by a Chicagoan, Yerkes by name. Now, being an ardent advocate of hands across the sea, reciprocity, and all that sort of thing, may I not suggest that the matter of Chicago's subway be taken up with the new labor leader and premier, Ramsay MacDonald, or possibly King George himself, by the way of a royal commission to look into the matter? We might do worse than have George do it.

INTEGRITY AND SERVICE IN MERCHANDISE

THE year just closed was one of the most prosperous the general merchandise business ever has known. It was more than a year of good business; it was a year of sound business. Its vigorous methods, coupled with careful buying and fair pricing on the part of retail merchants generally, augur well for 1924.

Our retail business was well ahead of that of 1922. Our wholesale trade also surpassed that of the previous year. From sales through our wholesale organization to retail merchants throughout the country we know that retail trade generally has reflected increased purchasing power due to full employment and good wages. Our many textile mills and other manufacturing industries have run close to capacity.

In the general merchandise field there is no accumulation of goods in the hands of producers, wholesalers or retailers. This is a particularly wholesome condition. There is an absence of money stringency; credits are available on reasonable terms; collections are normal and failures noticeably few. We look forward to a firm price basis and to steady, normal manufacturing production for 1924.

Our faith in the future has had tangible expression during 1923 in the development of new properties, including three new manufacturing units in addition to more than twenty others which we had previously built or acquired. This faith is based on more than a survey of business conditions. It rests on the knowledge that the public is showing constantly increasing appreciation of Integrity and Service in merchandise. The public has come to understand that true economy is found most often in quality merchandise, and is giving its trade to those merchants who stand sponsor for their goods.

As retailers to the people of Chicago, as wholesalers to more than 40,000 retail merchants in every state in the Union, as manufacturers operating plants in seven different states, Marshall Field & Company realizes its responsibility in producing and distributing merchandise of quality—goods which will measure up to the highest standard of value in any given grade.

HOLD FUNERAL TOMORROW FOR PROF. R. E. WILSON

Prof. Robert E. Wilson, dean of men at Northwestern university, will be buried in Mount Greenwood cemetery tomorrow following funeral services at 11 o'clock at the First Methodist church in Evanston. He died late Sunday night in St. Francis hospital.

Two transfusion operations, in which blood was contributed by fellow members of the faculty, failed to save Prof. Wilson. He had been suffering from anemia since last summer. A widow and two children, the elder a freshman at Northwestern, survive him.

Prof. Wilson was born in Oak Lawn in 1872. He was graduated from Northwestern university, and in 1900 he joined its faculty as an instructor of mathematics. Later, after studying higher branches of the subject in Goettingen university, Germany, he was named associate professor. During his student days he was a champion swimmer and pole vaulter, and he continued his interest in college sports as the faculty chairman of the committee of intercollegiate athletics.

"Goodbye to the Old—Hello to the New"

Good Old Year, adieu; and to you, New Year—untried though full of promise—our greetings. For the next twelve months you're the boss of the job. You come to us highly recommended, and we're expecting much of you. Indeed, we're expecting no less than a continuance of those policies which brought us Peace, Prosperity and Happiness under your predecessor's administration. And you'll find one hundred and ten millions of loyal Americans—clear-eyed, alert-minded, and clean-handed—enthusiastically backing you to the limit. So go it, New Year—and may good luck attend you.

The Most Important CLEARANCE SALE IN THE HUB'S HISTORY

EPOCH-MAKING, record-breaking and economy-satisfying, this is "a good old-fashioned clearance sale" in all that its name implies; it is the partial fulfillment of our Pledge to Progress, and a definite step toward the realization of an ideal. Indeed this "little adventure" into the realms of better merchandising is not without its sacrifices. To have all in readiness for the inauguration of The Hub's new and more progressive policy of "greater concentration in buying," enormous Fall and Winter stocks must be lowered to the minimum. Specifically, this means radical reductions in every department of this great institution. So come tomorrow for your share of the fine things "drastically marked down" for immediate clearance, in this, the most stupendous selling event in the history of clothingdom.

CONGRESS MAY PROBE FINANCES OF WOOD'S SONS

Senators Caraway and Frear Act on Letters.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Sweeping investigation by a congressional committee into the financial transactions of Gen. Leonard Wood's sons was promised today, following a conference between Senator Caraway [Dem., Ark.] and Representative Frear [Rep., Wis.]

Senator Caraway turned over to Mr. Frear a number of letters he had received from various parts of the country telling of the sale of stock of the Acme Production corporation, of which Leonard Wood Jr. was president. Mr. Caraway suggested that Mr. Frear broaden his resolution for an investigation into Gen. Wood's administration in the Philipppines so as to provide also for inquiry into the stock operations of his sons.

Mr. Frear, it is understood, will adopt the suggestion and probably amend his resolution when congress convenes Thursday.

Senator Caraway said it ought to be ascertained whether Osborne Wood, another son of the general, really made $800,000 in the New York stock exchange or whether the money was made somewhere else.

Baltimore Man Complains.

On efo the letters received by Senator Caraway was written by John H. Robinette, a city commissioner of Baltimore, stating that in 1920 he bought 3,000 shares of Craven Oil company stock, which, at the request of Leonard Wood Jr., he exchanged for stock in the Acme Production company.

Young Wood, he said, arrived in Baltimore and "told me it was most essential to exchange my stock, that practically all the stockholders had acquiesced, and left me with a flourishing statement of the company's holdings.

"I accordingly exchanged my stock, which included 1,500 shares belonging to Miss Hamaliene Huggins, a poor woman, who invested about exerything she possessed in this oil stock," Robinette wrote. "Mr. Wood told me that he had a large well about to come in and that on Christmas day, 1922, I could expect to receive a handsome dividend."

Woods Encouraging Promises.

After exchanging the Craven stock, which was selling at about $4 a share, Robinette said he noticed the Acme stock which he received in return had a par value of only $1. Accordingly he wrote Wood for an explanation and received a letter in which Wood said that the par value of the stock did not represent its real value. Wood's letter was inclosed. In it he promised that the market value of Acme stock would soon rise to $5, $10, or $20 a share.

"The Acme Production company," Wood wrote, "is everything that the Craven company ever was, plus much more. Since getting out the prospectus we have acquired a half interest in 140,000 acres in the new oil fields of Washington and Oregon. We have a wonderful piece of acreage there, with enormous potential value."

Robinette said this was the last he ever heard from Wood.

BESSIE CLAYTON.

YOUNG WOOD'S DEALS IN STOCK FACE U. S. QUIZ

Federal action against Leonard Wood Jr. and associates in four alleged wildcat Texas Oil companies, appeared possible yesterday when Chief Postoffice Inspector A. E. Germer assigned assistants to join Assistant State's Attorney Milton D. Smith and Berthold Cronson in the investigation.

Ex-service men are said to have been the victims of young Wood and his associates. The former is alleged to have used the name of his father, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, governor general of the Philippine islands, in his appeal to former soldiers.

Prosecutors Smith and Cronson have interrogated a number of ex-service men and from them obtained much evidence of misuse of the mails, they say.

"Regular 'come-on' methods of stock selling, including a series of letters and telegrams, were used," Smith said.

Vast Debt to the Master Freely Acknowledged.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 31.—[By the Associated Press.] — Scientists whose thoughts ordinarily are focused upon the future, turned back the pages of history today and paid tribute to Francis Bacon, one of their co-workers of three centuries ago, who was hailed as the founder of modern research.

For several hours this afternoon, a session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science was turned over to discussion of Bacon and his works, all speakers agreeing that his had been a large contribution to the science of today.

The discussion of the early history of science brought from Dr. Harry F. Barnes of Smith college, Northampton, a denial of what he declared was general belief that the renaissance and reformation periods of mediæval history had brought about an advance in scientific study. Instead, he said, both periods had "clogged the progress of science."

Religion an Obstacle.

The only advance of science attributable to the renaissance, he said, was the indirect result of the revival of the writings of old Greek scientists, and the reformation period was distinctly discouraging to research work because of religious intolerance.

While the historical section was lauding Bacon, the discussions of other groups strayed far afield from subjects ordinarily considered as within the province of the savant. Railways, life insurance, and community spirit were among the subjects taken up. All, however, had a bearing upon the work of specialized groups of the association.

Tests of Intelligence.

Intelligence tests measure the combined natural and acquired ability of the individual to deal promptly and correctly with various questions, but are not a gauge of what he actually will do, Dr. J. McKeen Cattell, originator of the tests and newly elected president of the association, declared before the psychologists' branch of the organization.

Tests applied to students tell what they can do better than what they will do, he declared, adding that "the men who build cities, and railways, and industries are not selected by intelligence tests."

While a great future development of the importance of the tests may be expected, since the world war psychologists have been "too exclusively occupied in using them and too little in testing our tests in measuring causes and effects," Dr. Cattell declared.

Tribute to True Thinkers.

"We are in the position of the physician who administers quinine to alleviate malaria rather than of the inventor who discovered the drug or of the investigator who found the cause of the disease."

The measurement of psychological traits and reactions has been neglected in recent years for the more general and complicated informative test, he said. "The psychologist," he declared, "is interested in what a person does rather than what he thinks he thinks, feels he feels, or imagines he imagines."

Declaring that it is impossible to tell whether the intelligence displayed in the tests is due to heredity or environment or a portion of each, Dr. Cattell pointed out that Lincoln and Darwin were born on the same day, Lincoln with no hereditary advantages but high natural ability and the opportunity of circumstance, and Darwin with an excellent family background. Both became great men. "But if the two infants had been exchanged there would have been no Lincoln and no Darwin," he declared.

America a Laggard in Air.

The United States, although more dependent than probably any other country on good transportation, lags far behind almost all European nations in the development of commercial aviation, Dr. Edward P. Warner of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, declared.

"It is to be wondered that this country, which has firmly resisted government ownership and operation in most fields, should have been the only one in the world to depend on direct government operation of aircraft for a commercial purpose," he said. "The only outstanding instance where Americans have put the airplane to work is in the air mail service, while Europe is covered by a network of passenger and express lines."

Speed, the greatest present advantage, probably will not be greatly increased, Dr. Warner predicted, declaring that developments probably would lie along the lines of greater ability to take the air in all sorts of weather, both by day and by night.

Convict Shot in Attempt of 3 to Escape from Joliet

Three convicts attempted to escape while being transferred to the penitentiary hospital, three miles from Joliet, yesterday morning. One was shot and may die. He is Frank Rychlewski, 23, who was sent from Cook county in November, 1921, to serve a life sentence for murder. The two others, Claude Clark, colored, and Roy Courtwright, both from Cook county, were captured. Courtwright, who had violated his parole, had been returned to prison in February, 1922.

BANDITS SEIZE YANKEE WOMAN; PERIL OTHERS

Wholesale Massacres in Remotest China.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PEKING, Dec. 31.—Bandits under the leadership of Lao Yang Jen, China's most notorious brigand, have attacked the town of Tsao Yang, Hupeh province, near the Honan border and 400 miles northwest of Hankow, murdering a number of inhabitants and carrying off many persons, including Mrs. Juline R. Kilen, 50 years old, of Northfield, Minn., and a member of the Lutheran Brethren mission. At the same time they wounded Bernard Hoff, 22 years old, and his wife, Grunda, 25 years old, of Grand Forks, N. D.

Other members of the mission are Hannah Bruen and Peter Valderhung and his wife and four children.

Other Americans in Peril.

Chinese Seize Yanks

The map shows the location of Tsao Yang in the interior of China, the scene of the latest kidnaping outrage by Chinese bandits against American missionaries. Tsao Yang is an obscure town, that can only be reached by junk on the Han river and a long journey overland. Because of its isolation, bandits have been acting much as they please in the region of recent months. Peking has practically no authority in the region.

Counsellor Bell of the American legation personally called on the Chinese foreign office and demanded steps be taken for the instant release and also for the protection of other American missionaries. These include thirteen members of the Swedish Evangelical society, the Swedish mission, and the Lutheran mission located at Siangfu, forty miles distant, which is reported to be endangered, since a band numbering in excess of 3,000 is ravaging the countryside.

The consul general at Hankow reports that the population of the entire town of Tsao Yang was captured and the city was pillaged and burned. The situation has been aggravated by the action of the authorities, because on a recent approach of bandits the Americans got aboard junks and prepared to flee when the military governor warned them of their danger, but they were invited to return to their stations when the governor reported that the bandits had been suppressed.

The missionaries refused to return until they were reassured by the garrison commander at Siangyang. They ran almost instantly into the raiding parties.

Beyond Immediate Rescue.

The bandit district is beyond reach of immediate succor, since it can be reached only after many days' journey on the Han river, in which the water is low, and thence forty miles overland.

The reports indicate that the bandits will continue raiding, carrying off captives and committing excesses upon them, regardless of class or nationality.

Missionary reports state that the same band raided the town of Likwanchiao, wherein they committed wholesale murder. The men defending the place were forced to throw their women and children over the walls into a moat to avert a worse fate. The bandits finally took the town, slaying all the defenders.

Nab Youth as Thief at Oriental Consistory

After ransacking all desks and lockers in the Oriental Consistory, North Dearborn street and Walton place, William Mardt, 21 years old, resident of a hotel in North Clark street, was found yesterday by police hiding under a couch in the building.

Mardt, who had made nightly visits to the building, escaped, it is said, with a large quantity of medical supplies and, apparently disgusted with the lack of cash to be found, amused himself by destroying valuable furnishings.

EXTREMES MEET WHEN N. Y. COURT HAS LADIES' DAY

Magdalenes Arraigned Before Portias.

New York, Dec. 31.—[Special.]—It was "ladies' day" in Women's court today. Two women judges sat on the bench, women detectives brought in women prisoners, and women court attendants called women witnesses, while women social workers looked on.

Mary Belle Grossman, newly elected municipal judge of Cleveland, sat with Magistrate Jean Norris when half a dozen women were brought up.

Rose Presser, 18 years old, was the first to be arraigned. She was charged with waywardness. Policewoman Ethel L. Corbin stood ready to testify against the girl, but she will have to press her grievances later, as Magistrate Norris quickly adjourned the case to Jan. 3 and called "next."

Dora Brown of the east side faced the magistrate. A policewoman appeared at her side and charged her with "common vagrancy."

"One hundred days in the workhouse," snapped the court. Cleveland's judge looked sufficiently impressed as Dora was led away between two women attendants.

The next two girls to appear were sent to a Brooklyn hospital for treatment before sentence, and then the court called it a day.

Miss Grossman said she was well satisfied with the manner in which women prisoners were handled. She will return to Cleveland within a few days to take up her duties as judge Jan. 7.

RENEW EFFORT TO NAME BODY OF SLAIN MAN

For the second time Warren avenue police were forced to admit yesterday that identification of an elderly man, whose body with a bullet hole through the right temple was found Saturday morning in the rear of 2655 Van Buren street, would not "stand up." The man, poorly dressed and with thinning gray hair, was first identified as John J. Coffey of Berwyn, Ill., but as his family were proceeding with funeral arrangements, Coffey turned up alive.

Then on Sunday the body was identified as that of Michael Corsten, 52, 7617 Cottage Grove avenue, a city employé. But yesterday Corsten's brother viewed the body at the county morgue and declared the identification a mistake.

Thereupon Detective Sergeant Shea began all over again the task of tracing the slain man's identity, falling back on the name "W. R. Wickersham," stitched in the victim's underclothing. The man was about 65 years old.

Hold 500 Crime Suspects in Search for Bank Bandits

Police continued their task last night of weeding through a total of 500 suspects taken in connection with the daring daylight robbery on Saturday of the Summit State bank of $18,000 cash, in the hope of identifying some of the catch as one or more of the six bandits. The suspects, netted as a result of dragnets spread over the city on orders of Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes, are being held at various outlying stations and at the detective bureau. The raids were made also as a precautionary measure against crime anticipated with the coming of cold weather.

"Moonshine" Blamed for Death of Man, Woman

Moonshine is believed to have caused the death of Jan Gruscsynski, 50 years old, a laborer, and an unidentified woman about 40 years old, found dead yesterday in a dingy little room at 1228 Fry street. They had been dead for two or three days.

SEE REVENGE IN OUSTING PARENT SCHOOL EMPLOYE

Deposed Head Said to Still Rule Place.

Ousting of an instructor of the Par-tal school yesterday brought the arge that Fred E. Smith, recently re-oved as the school's principal, is still e ruling power there through his nination of the Principals' club. ischarge of the instructor, Allan M. lein, precipitated a court inquiry in hich recommendations were made to udge McKinley that he cite Superin-endent of Schools Peter A. Mortenson d O. J. Milliken for contempt of urt.

Because of the possibility of a polit-l tinge in Klein's discharge Mayor ver is reported also to have inter-ed and Attorney Eugene L. McGar-, acting under a court order, advised e instructor and his wife to remain duty.

Charge Action to Revenge.

Ald. Thomas J. Bowler (41st) told the ayor that Klein was punished be-use he had testified against Smith in e recent grand jury inquiry into con-ions at the Parental school, and At-ney McGarry supplemented this by ying Klein was discharged to dis-dit him as a witness when the trial those indicted is called Jan. 5.

The conflict over the selection of a ccessor to Supt. Mortenson is said to involved in Klein's discharge. At-ney McGarry alleges that Smith is stantly at the Parental school advising Milliken, who was placed in temporary charge after the scandal of the school's management became known.

When Judge McKinley sat as an examining magistrate last fall and heard evidence regarding the Parental school Klein was one of the witnesses. Boys at the school spoke highly of Klein and his wife, who aided Klein in managing a cottage with forty boys.

Court Anticipates Move.

No complaint was made against Klein, though three other instructors, Archibald Davis, Roman Bowman, and John T. Shea, were indicted.

When Klein was on the witness stand, after testifying that he had many times reported bad conditions to Smith and had been told to "mind his own business," Judge McKinley said to him:

"If any effort is made to punish you for testifying here, you come and report to me."

Last Friday Klein reported to the judge that he had been discharged. Attorney McGarry was appointed friend of the court and directed to investigate. His findings were to the effect that Klein was being punished because of his testimony and with a view of having an influence in the coming trial, in which the defense would also show that he was a discharged instructor.

Board Hoodwinked, Claim.

The board of education is said to have approved unknowingly of the recommendation of Supt. Mortenson for Klein's discharge. The recommendation was hidden in an omnibus bill, a trustee said.

In telling why he had so acted, Mr. Mortenson referred to a letter from Milliken, which charged Klein with having clipped boys' hair, that he gave a former inmate more than two meals, and that Mrs. Klein had spoken of a colored boy as a rat.

POLICE OFFICER LOSES CUSTODY OF DAUGHTER

George Orton Rose, a west park policeman, yesterday lost his fight for custody of his daughter, Helen Katherine, 5, when Judge Joseph B. David decreed the child should remain with her grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Hardiman, 6712 South Carpenter street.

When Mrs. Hardiman and her husband, Michael, approached Judge David to thank him he waved them away and instead called little Helen to the bench.

"Will you be happy with your grandmother?" he asked.

Helen smiled her assent and hurried back to the arms of Mrs. Hardiman.

Rose, who lives at 2912 West Adams street, joined the army in 1917. His wife and child stayed with Mrs. Rose's mother, Mrs. Hardiman. Mrs. Rose died and ever since Helen has been cared for by her grandmother.

(A Business Editorial)

HUMAN INVENTORIES

Once a year, or oftener, a business man takes inventory of his goods. If taken conservatively—accurately—without deceiving himself or others, he will know the exact condition. It is an important proceeding.

If it is wise to do this, how much more important that we regularly examine the human body—see if any part requires attention—that it may be placed on a reasonably safe future basis.

A competent physician will make the inventory. It may relate to one's health and disposition, living and working conditions, habits, recreation, possibly even one's income, personal and family history—every essential to complete knowledge exposed. Otherwise there is waste.

If the physician says "nothing is wrong," isn't there wonderful satisfaction? If he finds the body out of repair—rebuild—get it in good condition—at least keep it from getting worse.

There are no spare parts for the human body.

Resolve in this New Year's season that for the next year all the parts will be used in the right way.

It will be "good business."

LOWDEN GIVES HIS APPROVAL OF BRUNDAGE

'Faithful Public Servant,' His Letter Says.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, whose recent protracted silence on matters political is thought to have some connection with a possible post-primary candidacy for President, has broken it long enough to write an indorsement of Attorney General Brundage.

Mr. Brundage's office yesterday made public the following statement, signed by Mr. Lowden:

"I have known Mr. Brundage for many years. While I was governor of the state Mr. Brundage was attorney general. His office was very efficiently managed during all that time, and there was the closest coöperation between his office and mine.

"In my opinion, he has been a very faithful public servant."

Indorsed by Sherman.

Brundage supporters also gave out an indorsement of the attorney general by former United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, national committeeman from Illinois, reading:

"Attorney General Brundage deserves a renomination. He has performed the duties of his office with signal ability, with faithfulness, and with great courage.

"Amid conflicting elements and factional party strife, he has followed steadfastly the unvarying chart of the law of the land. His course commends him to the people of Illinois.

"I support him and ask all my friends to help renominate a most capable and worthy public officers.

"LAWRENCE Y. SHERMAN."

Open Fight in Chicago.

Having opened their combined downstate battle at Freeport, Galena, and Stockton last Saturday, the McCormick-Brundage-Essington forces come to what is considered the opening of the ward battles in Chicago next Friday night. The occasion is a dinner at the Englewood Masonic temple—in Deneen's own ward, the Seventeenth.

Ald. John H. Lyle, who, with the coöperation of W. J. Calmer and Chester W. Church, made the arrangements for the dinner, said that people are already being turned away.

Lyle was formerly a Deneen lieutenant. Brundage, because of a previous engagement at Sterling, Ill., will not be able to attend the dinner, but Senator McCormick and Mr. Essington will speak there.

The Essington manager, William H. Boys, has issued a statement that Gov. Small's claim of "saving millions to the people" in road building is contradicted by the governor's message to the last legislature.

"Gov. Small's message," he said, "states that the amounts expended in the construction of 700 miles of road under Gov. Lowden were about $22,059,048, or an average of $31,513 per mile. And that construction work was all done during wartime prices.

These Road Costs.

"His message proceeds to relate how he forced road prices down in the awarding of contracts for 1921 and 1922. He says that 1,650 miles of road cost about $54,578,875. This is an average of $33,078 for the 1,650 miles, or $1,565 per mile more than the 700 miles constructed under Gov. Lowden."

Former Congressman Frank T. O'Hair, the man who once defeated "Uncle Joe" Cannon, has announced, according to a dispatch from Paris, Ill., that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination "subject to the action" of the Democratic state convention at Springfield on Jan. 18. At a recent meeting of the Democratic state committee here, O'Hair indicated that his friends had been urging him to run, but explained he never had said he was a candidate. His present announcement is taken to mean that he will not contest the decision of the advisory meeting if it indorses Judge Norman L. Jones, as is expected.

A Clear Complexion

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, 15c and 30c.

BRITISH X-RAY FRENCH LOANS TO ARM ALLIES

Little Entente Is Quizzed About Old Debts.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Dec. 31.—The British government today took indirect action regarding the debt due from France.

The foreign office expressed grave alarm and disapproval of the French policy as expressed in heavy loans for military purposes to its satellite countries, the little entente, although France declares itself unable to pay either interest or principal on its heavy debts to Great Britain and America. The British are particularly disturbed because they are repaying their debt to America, which was incurred chiefly on behalf of France.

The foreign office addressed an inquiry to Poland, Roumania, and Czecho-Slovakia as to whether the guarantees for these loans affected in any way their responsibilities as successor states for the purely foreign debts of the old Austro-Hungarian empire. Great Britain is interested in these debts and seized the situation as a diplomatic excuse to draw attention to the French policy.

French Lend $160,000,000.

No queries have been addressed to France, as technically it is not responsible for weakening the security of the old debts. The sums which France has lent or has agreed to lend to these three countries amount to 800,000,000 gold francs [$160,000,000], and there is a rumor that it is now negotiating for a large loan to Czecho-Slovakia.

Poland has done its best to secure a 400,000,000 gold francs ($80,000,000) loan at 5 per cent, but no definite terms for repayment have been fixed. It guarantees revenues from the forests of Torum for the first 100,000,000 francs ($20,000,000) and the other guarantees will be fixed later. The money is all to be spent in France for railway, telegraph, and armament supplies.

Roumania gets 100,000,000 gold francs ($20,000,000) at 5 per cent for fifteen years. This loan will be guaranteed by its export taxes and secondarily by all revenues of the Roumanian state. The purpose of the loan is for the purchase of war material in France, which will be handled under French supervision.

Money Stays in France.

Jugo-Slavia will get 300,000,000 gold francs ($60,000,000) at 5 per cent for ten years. The guarantees will be obtained from customs receipts and state monopolies on state railways and telegraph services. The money will be used for armaments, all to be bought in France.

France has not yet been asked for an explanation, but it is understood that its attitude is that the money does not really leave France, but is simply credit, which will be used for the purpose of restoring French industries, while at the same time helping France's allies.

It is expected that this will be one of the first questions to be raised by the new Labor government when it takes office, as it is pledged to a policy of promoting disarmament, and this is the most flagrant case of encouraging small nations to arm unnecessarily.

ATTACK FRENCH CONTROL

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Dec. 31.—[Tribune Radio.]—Great Britain will make serious efforts to break the French control of the little entente when representatives of Poland, Roumania, Czecho-Slovakia, and Jugo-Slavia meet in Belgrade for a conference on Jan. 11.

Lord Curzon will endeavor to apply pressure on the little entente through financial channels, on the basis that each member of the little entente owes England sums of money.

Downing street takes the concrete case of Poland, Raumania, and Czecho-Slovakia borrowing 1,100,000,000 francs (about $55,000,000) from France for war munitions while English munitions makers are idle.

It is apparent that the Franco-Czecho-Slovakia accord broke Great Britain's last hold on the little entente, as heretofore relations between London and Prague have been close, while the French held Warsaw, Bucharest, and Belgrade solidly in their grip.

The British expect at least America's moral support in exerting influence on the little entente, on the ground that the United States, as a creditor, is in the same position as London.

Bulgaria will be the principal subject of discussion at the little entente conference, owing to the strained relations between Sofia, Belgrade, and Athens. Jugo-Slavia will not permit Bulgar comitadjis to continue raids and depredations in Thrace or attempt to extort concessions from Greece, but THE TRIBUNE learns that Greece will not be invited to join the little entente, the members preferring to await the results of M. Venizelos' efforts in Athens.

BANKERS WON'T REVEAL EXPORTS OF GERMAN GOLD

New York, Dec. 31.—[By the Associated Press.]—Leading Wall street bankers today expressed the opinion that the amount of German capital exported abroad since the armistice, which is to be the subject of an investigation by an international committee appointed by the reparations commission, will never be accurately ascertained. Estimates of this sum, which range all the way from $100,000,000 to $2,000,000,000, are generally regarded as mere guesses.

Heads of international banking firms frankly stated that they knew of no law by which they could be compelled to reveal the private business of their clients. Some of them stated that they would decline to give details of transactions believed to involve capital of German origin unless forced.

"STRETCH LOOP," PLEA TO DELAY SUBWAY SHOVEL

Ald. W. W. Mills Offers New Obstacle.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Through another year Chicago has traveled at a snail's pace without a subway.

Just when it was assumed the last blockading argument against rapid transit tubes had been disposed of, Ald. Wiley W. Mills [37th] presented a new obstacle yesterday as follows:

"I am not uncompromisingly against subways for Chicago, but I am unalterably opposed to using the traction fund to build subways. The proponents of subways may build all they wish of them provided they will pay the entire cost by special assessment on the real estate specially benefitted.

Believes Subways Mistake.

"However, I believe that subways would be a mistake; I believe that Chicago better can achieve rapid transit by improving and extending the elevated railroad service.

"The inevitable growth of the city will make enlargement of the business center necessary. The growth of the business center must be outward—not upward and downward."

In an attempt to practice what he preaches, the alderman will urge the council judiciary committee at its next meeting to recommend the passage of an ordinance trimming the basic height of buildings from 260 to 200 feet. By reducing the height of buildings Mr. Mills would prevent "enlargement" upwards.

Mr. Mills would prevent "enlargement" downward by prohibiting subways, except when built exclusively through special assessments. Shades of that idea have been advocated and practiced in the transportation of several cities, but subways have not been built exclusively by special assessment in any city from which information is available.

System Is Not Used.

Whether the practice is good or bad, no large street improvement has been made in Chicago in several years by special assessment alone. Part of the cost has been paid either by bond issue or by public benefits, both of which mean general taxation.

The enlargement of the Haymarket necessitated the pavement of Randolph street from Halsted street to Union park. Th estimated cost of this job is $442,642 of which $128,000 was a public benefit. That job has just been completed.

Another large paving project in progress last year was that of Ogden avenue. The estimated cost of that is $948,490. Of this the public benefit was $402,405. But that is only a comparatively small part of the total cost of the Ogden avenue improvement.

All Illinois Union Coal Mines to Be Idle Today

Harrisburg, Ill., Dec. 31.—Every coal mine in southern Illinois operated by members of the United Mine Workers will be idle tomorrow, due to New Year's day.

EXPECT PADDLE TO PREVENT RIOT AT GIRLS' SCHOOL

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—[United Press.]—Paddling was reëstablished today at the Girls' Industrial school near Delaware. The state welfare department's order against corporal punishment was revoked by Gov. Donahey.

Margaret Elton, matron of the school, said the whack of the paddle would balk further attempts by inmates to organize an uprising like that which threw the institution into an uproar last week.

The riot Friday night and Saturday, in which more than 100 young girls took part, was attributed to the ban on corporal punishment.

Twenty-one leaders in the rioting were moved to the Marysville reformatory. Others were returned to their cottages and locked in. Two who escaped are still missing.

26 Foxes, Worth $15,000, Die of Ptomaine Poisoning

Illinois Central System Tells of Achievements of American Railroads in 1923

The railroads of the country have a number of outstanding achievements to their credit for 1923. They handled promptly and efficiently, with no shortage of transportation, the heaviest freight traffic ever known. Notwithstanding that they performed this service at lowered rates, they materially strengthened their credit by improved net earnings as a result of reduced costs of operation. They stimulated business activity in all lines by extensive expenditures for labor and materials. They made substantial improvements to their properties.

The freight traffic handled by the railroads in 1923 (with December estimated) was 27 per cent greater than in 1922 and 5 per cent greater than in 1920, the previous record year. The following table shows the growth in freight traffic by 10-year periods in the last forty yars:

| | Tons Carried One Mile | Per Cent Increase Over 1883 |
|---|---|---|
| 1883 | 44,064,923,445 | |
| 1893 | 93,588,111,833 | 112 |
| 1903 | 173,221,278,993 | 293 |
| 1913 | 297,722,528,693 | 576 |
| 1923 (December estimated) | 430,000,000,000 | 876 |

The demand for freight transportation will increase in the future as it has in the past. Certainly no one believes that the United States has reached the limit of its commercial growth. That growth, however, can continue only if the railroads are able to obtain the funds to increase their facilities to handle the larger traffic.

A great deal has been said about the necessity for restoring and maintaining the credit of the railroads. That can be done only by permitting the railroads to earn a fair return. The net return on tentative valuation realized by the railroads in 1923 was about 5 per cent, which was a substantial improvement over the 3.33 per cent in 1921 and the 4.14 per cent in 1922. But 5 per cent is still short of the return set by the Interstate Commerce Commission as fair and reasonable.

Business in all lines was active during the year, and labor was fully employed at good wages. The railroads contributed greatly to these conditions by their extensive expenditures. In 1923 they paid out more than three billion dollars for labor employed in railway operation. For materials and supplies they spent nearly two billion dollars. More than one billion dollars were devoted to improving and extending their facilities. These large sums, passing into the channels of trade, increased the demand for the products of all industries, including agriculture.

During 1923 the public supported the railroads heartily in their plans for increasing and bettering their service. We believe that this support will be continued in 1924. Public confidence is necessary in order to enable the railroads to do their full part toward giving the country adequate transportation service.

The achievements of the railroads during 1923 should be a source of pride to the nation. The people of the United States are served by the most efficient railway transportation in the world and at rates that are remarkably low in comparison with the rates charged by the railroads of the other principal countries of the world.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,

THE GUMPS—HAPPY NEW YEAR!

OH BOY! SUCH A HEADACHE!—MY POOR BODY IS SHRIEKING FOR HELP—I HAVE MORE VARIETIES OF PAIN THAN AN EMERGENCY HOSPITAL—IF I LIVE UNTIL NEXT NEW YEAR'S EVE I'M GOING TO PIN ON A WHITE CARNATION AND PRETEND I'M CELEBRATING MOTHER'S DAY—
WHEN I TAKE A DRINK OF WATER IT TURNS TO STEAM BEFORE I CAN SWALLOW IT—THIS STUFF YOU GET NOWDAYS! WHAT A SAP A MAN IS TO MAKE HIMSELF A FILTER FOR A LOT OF THAT FURNITURE POLISH—IT WOULD BURN HOLES IN A CROW BAR—ANY MAN WHO GOES OUT NEW YEAR'S EVE WITH A CARGO OF THAT EMBALMING FLUID DESERVES WHAT HE GETS—HE MIGHT JUST AS WELL STEP IN FRONT OF A RAIL ROAD TRAIN—OH YOU RE-MORSE!
WELL—THE OLD STORY AGAIN—YOU ACTED YOUR PART LAST NIGHT—YOU CERTAINLY HELD THE LIMELIGHT—IF YOU COULD HAVE SEEN THE LOOK ON THAT YOUNG LADY'S FACE WHEN YOU INSISTED ON DANCING WITH HER—SHE FROZE YOU LIKE AN ICE BERG—YOU'D BETTER GO OVER RIGHT NOW AND APOLOGIZE TO MRS. ZANDER FOR SPILLING COFFEE ON HER NEW DRESS—AND WHEN YOU BACKED INTO THAT WAITER AND KNOCKED ALL THOSE DISHES OVER THOSE PEOPLE—WAIT TILL YOU GET THE BILL FOR THAT—CRYING ON THAT WAITER'S SHOULDER AND TELLING HIM ALL YOUR PRIVATE AFFAIRS—AND WHEN YOU FELL ASLEEP AND STARTED TO SNORE PEOPLE THOUGHT YOU'D SWALLOWED A SET OF BAG-PIPES—HUH! YOU SHOULD HIDE YOUR HEAD—DO YOU REMEMBER DROPPING THAT BOTTLE?

The Fourth Norwood

By ROBERT E. PINKERTON.

SYNOPSIS.

Young Rod Norwood, while setting a mink trap on the banks of the Drowning river, near his home at Lake Deception in the Hudson bay territory, sees Aaron Cron, a rival trader to his father, coming into the district. Cron is known to the district as The Spider, not only because of the terror which he has inspired in most of the inhabitants but also because of his legless condition. Rod is frightened at the meeting and, after The Spider has disappeared, hurries eagerly toward home.

INSTALEMENT II.

BETH NORWOOD.

Beth Norwood, Rod's 10 year old sister, was in the warm living room when he entered it an hour later. Skinning, scraping, and stretching the day's catch in the comforting safety of his home had restored his courage.

"The Spider's come!" the girl cried excitedly.

"I passed him up the river," Rod answered with an assumed indifference as he picked up a book. He turned a few pages and then asked casually, "What did dad say?"

"He just laughed," Beth answered. She crept closer, hesitated a moment, and then whispered fearfully, "Is it true, Rod, that he sets traps for children and keeps them in a cage until they get fat?"

"Rot! What can he do without legs. That's all bow and arrow talk. Dad'll send him packing in a hurry. You watch."

The memory of those black eyes had dimmed in the seclusion of his home. The dark shadows of the spruce swamp had vanished. Rod was again his father's son.

Tom Norwood came in from the trade shop just as Jane, the Indian housekeeper, called the children to supper. He was a big, bearded man with a voice he could not always keep from roaring and a smile his beard could never quite hide. Tom and Beth stopped half way to their chairs and looked at him with quick interest and a little concern, but that was dissipated the moment they saw his eyes. Not since the death of their mother the previous winter had they danced so. The children's earliest recollection was of those eyes, laughing above the beard, kindly, quick, and always with the sparkle of daring. For a year now they had been dulled. The sadness that had pervaded the wilderness home was in them, and though the children might sometimes forget the gentle mother, they never could in his presence. But now the old time sparkle was back, and as he glanced at the children their spirits rose in glad response.

"Daddy," she demanded, "did he ever have any legs?"

"Heard the news?" he asked jovially.

"I passed him up the river," Rod answered casually.

"And he didn't eat you?"

Beth laughed uproariously, and the eyes of father and son met in understanding.

"Did he chase you?"

Again Beth laughed. She had absorbed her Indian playmates' zest for cruelty in their humor.

"Daddy," she demanded, "did he ever have any legs?"

She had heard the story several times, a story that was told and retold in countless wigwams and in trading posts whenever boreal wrath was loosened and the lakes roared and shrieked under the pressure of ninety degrees of frost. The grewsome tales of many people seem to be inspired by storm and cold, but in this narration there was a reason.

"It was weather like this when The Spider," the tale always began, either in Ojibwa or English, and no matter how many times it had been heard it always fascinated through its sheer, grim horror. Childlike, Beth was always enthralled by the shocking details and, in a basically feminine way, she delighted in the sufferings of a man who, all the north country believed, had delighted in the sufferings of others.

Yet her father, wise as he was in the ways of fur land, deluded himself with the thought that Beth had never heard it. He saw in the child a replica of the mother who had come from the states, and he sought always to shield her from the rough side of wilderness life as he had tried to shield his wife. To him the sexes were divided sharply, one protective, the other dependent, and he never considered that Beth, born a daughter of the north, might share his own adventurous spirit.

"O, I guess Aaron Cron had legs once," he answered. "What did you think? That men were born without legs and they grew afterwards, only his didn't happen to?"

"No," the girl laughed, "but they say——"

"Don't believe all you hear around a trading post," he interrupted. "I've been a grown man a long while, and I don't know yet what to believe. Mostly I wait until I see a thing first. As far as Aaron Cron is concerned, I've seen enough to know he gets fur, and that's what counts in the bush, not legs."

"But daddy! The Indians believe——"

"Indians! What don't they believe? Evil spirits and thunderbirds and apologizing to a bear for killing him and taking a bath afterward."

"And frogs jumping down your throat and living in your stomach," Rod added quickly and scornfully. "And one man conjuring another until he's dead, and rabbit hair thrown into a fire will bring snow the next day."

"Of course!" and Tom glanced admiringly at his son. "Indians believe lots of fool things. Don't you listen to them, pet."

"But daddy! Jane told me——"

"O, Jane!" Rod exclaimed. "She believes if you start hiccoughing it's a sign you have stolen something and that if a baby makes a moccasin print in the snow it will bring a snow storm. 'Member how she was always telling us such things?"

"Yes, Indians certainly get a lot of queer notions," Tom Norwood declared. "I'd never believe any of it. How'd the traps go today, lad?"

"Two ermine and a mink. An otter's using the branch."

"Tricky fellows, ain't they? I mind once hearing an Indian tell how he got one. It was like this," and he went into a long and detailed description which successfully shut off Beth's earnest questions.

Until the meal was ended the two kept it up, adroitly switching the conversation, skillfully dodging her traps, and at last when Jane cleared the table and Rod brought out the chessboard for the customary evening game, Beth had not learned her father's version of The Spider's story.

Chess had become an evening habit, arising from one of the children's first pitiful attempts to help big Tom Norwood forget, to drive away for an hour the brooding hopelessness in his eyes. Often he played listlessly, his fingers fumbling, his thoughts busy with the past, and he became an easy victim of Rod's finesse, but tonight he watched his son's preparations with unusual interest.

It was a game of daring and strategy, much like the game of buying fur, that the big trader played, and this evening he brought to it the same zest with which he had always thrown himself into the garnering of pelts. It was as though the arrival of The Spider had aroused him. Rod sensed it, was wary, contented himself with a defense which matched, in caution, his father's daring, but at last Tom Norwood chuckled.

"Mate!" his voice boomed out. "I got you, lad, like I said I would."

"He did, Roddy!" and Beth clapped her hands excitedly. "That's what I was waiting for before I went to bed."

Rod, puzzled and a bit chagrined, studied the board in an attempt to determine the cunning that had brought such quick defeat from an apparently harmless position.

"Never mind, lad," and Tom laid his hand on the boy's shoulder. "Your father's been in the fur business too long not to take his chance when he sees it. They're sort of alike," he nodded toward the board, "only the other's more fun. You'll find that out before you're many years older or you're not a Norwood."

Later when he had tucked Beth in bed and had put out the light, trying in his awkward fashion to be both father and mother, he returned to the living room and grinned at his son approvingly. Rod had proved a deft lieutenant in their evasion.

"We managed that pretty well together," he said. "It ain't a nice story for a girl to hear."

"Then those stories about The Spider are true?" Rod asked abruptly. "I mean how he lost his legs."

"You haven't been listening to the Indians, too, have you, lad?" Tom asked. "They've told it so often it's got to be a good story. Guess I'd better tell you the truth as far as I know it."

To him The Spider's experience was only an incident in the life he had lived, and he scorned the embellishments the natives and many others had given it.

Miss Macbeth Takes Honors in "Rigoletto"

But Debut of Piccaver Adds to Interest.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

New Year's eve at the opera was celebrated by the season's first showing of "Rigoletto," in which Alfred Piccaver, New York state tenor from Vienna, made his American debut as the duke of Mantua, and Joseph Schwarz returned to the company to sing the name part. Both were interesting. But Florence Macbeth sang Gilda, and was more than interesting. She temporarily stopped the performance.

Mr. Piccaver disclosed an excellent voice which, one imagines, is at the top peak of its matured development. It has an honest, manly ring to it, possesses quality, and has been trained until it responds to any call he cares to put upon it. He himself is personable, stagewise, and with considerable graceful force to his manner.

The duke of his impersonation, it would seem, has gone through life preaching the doctrine of non-resistance to carbohydrates as well as feminine charms, which, however, does not interfere with the impression that Mr. Piccaver is a valuable addition to the operatic forces and will probably sing many rôles in a way to reward attendance.

The Rigoletto of Mr. Schwarz is a better known item, for he has much acting, as well as singing ability, but last night's performance surpassed any effort of former seasons. He has one of the rarely beautiful voices of the world, and he uses it to transmit emotions as well as words. It was the emotions that were different and better, more restrained, fuller of tenderness and sympathy.

A fine performance, even though he managed to throw Miss Macbeth headlong at the end of the third act. It was scarcely the reward for Miss Macbeth, whatever it might have been for Gilda, for she had been the occasion of some of the loveliest moments of the performance. Her "Caro Nome," where the performance stopped until Conductor Giorgio Polacco could induce a new impulse through the applause, a fairly long interval, was winsome, youthful, delightful, and beautifully sung. Miss Macbeth has, I believe, the best trill in the Civic Opera company outside of some of the orchestral instruments, and in addition to technique she has charm.

Hepwing Is Arrested in West; Cell Awaits Him

A special cell is being prepared at the county jail to receive the person of J. Ambrose Hepwing, absconding partner of Andrew Gump in the defunct Combination Hairbrush and Mirror company.

A telegram, sent to Sheriff Hoffman by Sergt. B. O. Smith of the Beverly Hill, Cal., police, told of Hepwing's capture while dancing at the Cinderella roof in Los Angeles. His partner was said to be Ben Turpin, a film person.

"Hepwing admits identity, but claims that Andy Gump is a shoestring artist. Wire instructions," concluded Sergt. Smith's telegram.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Peters announced yesterday that he was preparing the necessary requisition papers and would send a deputy to the California city to bring Hepwing to Chicago. He was indicted by the Cook county grand jury several days ago.

HAPPY NEW YEAR! (It's possibly NOT a Good Morning!)

However that may be, there's an unusually good picture at McVicker's. "The Call of the Canyon" is its name and it is distinguished by a good story, sincere and convincing acting, scenery that almost takes your breath away with its beauty, and an atmosphere of reality that pervades the whole.

Zane Grey, who is responsible for the story, looked in the glass and saw clearly how a soldier coming back to America after four years spent abroad recuperating from a gas attack suffered while fighting in the trenches might be struck by America's careless forgetfulness of the world tragedy. With a broad brush and sure and delicate handling the author paints his contrasts.

Richard Dix has never done as good work as shows up in his delineation of Glenn Kilbourne. Lois Wilson, as the girl he was engaged to when he went "over there," and Marjorie Daw, as the loyal child who nurses him and loves him unselfishly when he comes back broken "over here," are to be congratulated on their splendid portrayals. Both are so lovely to look at, too!

The supporting cast has been chosen with care and there are enough laughs to keep you from feeling too sad. The ending is logical and satisfactory. SO——

It is with great pleasure that I recommend "The Call of the Canyon" to you!

See you tomorrow!

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for The Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Doris Tecumseh, Aberdeen hotel, Kansas City, Mo., was awarded $5.

The Question.

Do you believe in making New Year's resolutions?

Where Asked.

The Answers.

Sam Rothaiser, 155 North Clark street, real estate.—Resolutions can be made any time; if they are needed immediately, why wait for New Year's? If I realize a thing ought to be done, I do it; I don't make a resolution to do it. Actions speak louder than resolutions.

Mrs. Rose Sullivan, 3338 Warren avenue, housewife.—I don't know about that. I'd make some if I could keep them. I made one resolution—never to bob my hair again—and kept it. Everybody ought to make an unbreakable resolution not to drink moonshine.

Joseph Kamerman, 1714 North Washtenaw avenue, salesman.—Resolutions are like snowballs—they melt. I never make them; don't think I could keep them if I did make them. However, it might be a good thing for some people; it certainly would be if they kept them.

Miss Eleanor Meek, 3839 Wilton avenue, stenographer.—I do. I believe in making New Year's resolutions, because even though they are not kept permanently they will be temporarily and will probably help the individual.

W. H. Montgomery, Auditorium hotel, advertising.—Yes, if you keep them. I'd like to see the government make a resolution to follow Harding's policy of economy and efficiency, coördinating the different departments, and adopt Mellon's tax recommendations.

Duse Begins Final Visit in "Ghosts"

Interesting Blend of Latin Art and Ibsen's Play.

"GHOSTS":

Ibsen's play in an Italian translation called "Spettri"; acted Dec. 31, 1923, in the Auditorium, by this cast:

|---|---|
| Mrs. Alving | Eleanora Duse |
| Oswald | Memo Benassi |
| Manders | Leo Orlandini |
| Engstrand | Ciro Galvani |
| Regina | Maria Morino |

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

The suspicion is reasonable that Duse's first audience would have used up more of the Auditorium's spaces had yesterday been of a date other than December 31; for what is called "advance-interest" had been uncommon, and the book-mongers reported large sales of Mr. Archer's admirable translation of what we correctly regard as Ibsen's best piece in prose. The Auditorium, a disheartening amphitheater when the boxes are vacant, was not the best place for this play, even when performed in its principal rôle by genius, nor the best place for genius in the terms of Ibsen's veristic and intimate prose.

Measurably offsetting such considerations was the laudable circumstance that, while only a minor fraction of the audience understood Italian, virtually everybody present knew "Ghosts," and, so, was intelligently, if not precisely, aware of what was being said on the stage. Which helped in such proceedings as the talk between Mrs. Alving and the Pastor in Act I, where, seated vis-à-vis through half-an-hour, they put the antecedents of the drama before the audience. A sane setting was "boxed in" sufficiently to create the sense of a likely and habitable room in Mrs. Alving's home; and this, too, helped, as did a shrewd counterfeit of rain-drenched Norwegian landscape.

Surveying the items of her répertoire which the Signora regards as still fitting for her activities, it is a fair assumption that Mrs. Alving was the best selection for the occasion. "Ghosts" is among the plays we classify as actor-proof: that is, it is so nearly so that even genius may be accommodated without disaster to the playwright's plan.

While Ibsen says nothing about her years, we believe that Mrs. Alving was younger than Duse consented to make her seem; and that is about all we have to say in disparagement of the Italian's way in the part. She dominated the performance without patent pains to do so. Nobody else who has acted for us has possessed so many of the artifices essential to the illusion of naturalness. When you are told that Duse arrives at this or at that effect without calculation or wile, you are listening to or reading twitter.

To call her acting as Mrs. Alving great also would be twitter. It was something to be remembered because it was Duse accommodating her personality and her vivid mimicry to the restrictions and exactions of a stark, inelastic drama about commonplace persons. She was, as Mrs. Alving, not nearly so Latin as you might have expected. Her fluent, eager pantomime was controlled into intelligent consonance with the character. . . . "She reminded me," said a lady of quick perceptions after the second act, "of Agnes Sorma in that or a like rôle"; and that was not only the best criticism we heard of Duse in "Ghosts," but also a fine compliment to the Italian. If you have not seen Agnes Sorma act and, therefore, the application is lost on you, we are sorry for intruding it.

Duse's associates were approximately in tune with her, meaning that none of them was exorbitantly Latin, although Mr. Benassi had leanings toward inflammation. Also, he gave the impression of being a good actor. . . . Mr. Gest, the importer, telephoned while the performance was in progress that he had effected a fresh edition of Duse's Chicago bulletin, and that she would repeat "Ghosts" in the afternoon of the 10th instant. Her next appearance will be day after tomorrow in "The Dead City."

Mr. Zangwill's "We Moderns" was performed, in the Blackstone, by Miss Helen Hayes, O. P. Heggie, and other well-knowns; and Mr. Mantell went into his final week, in the Illinois, as King Lear. . . . Mr. Zangwill, after the final curtain, talked to the audience about his comedy, which will be reported tomorrow.

Kissed in the Dark.

I was engaged to the best girl in the world, but had not seen her for the entire school year. I arrived home on an earlier train than I had expected and went at once to the home of my beloved. As I approached the gate in the dark I saw her leave the house and walk in the direction of the swing. Now was my chance, not only to see her alone first but also to give her a good surprise. I walked quietly across the lawn and was within a yard of her before she knew I was there. As she sprang to her feet I caught her in a regular bear hug and for seconds covered her face with kisses. Then she was able to speak, and it was not Nellie's voice at all! Nellie appeared upon the porch just then and switched on the light. I was face to face with a strange woman of middle age, introduced as an old friend of the family, a missionary on furlough. E. F.

Not the Laundryman.

I have always taken pride in making myself as attractive as possible to my husband's business friends. The wife of one of them, Mrs. Smith, was to stop for me one day in her machine. I also expected the laundryman. The door bell rang. I looked out an upstairs window; it was a man. Hastily rolling the clothes together, I went down to the door and thrust the untidy bundle into the man's arms.

"Do you think I am the laundryman?" he asked.

I had tried to make a laundryman of Mr. Smith himself. MRS. H. H.

Bright Sayings of the Children

David had been taught by his mother to be courteous to women and always to render assistance when needed. One day in the spring the streets were flooded with mud and slush so as to be almost impassable. Mrs. Allen, a neighbor, when going to market, found the corner crossing so bad that she stopped, glancing helplessly to the right and left.

David espied her and, hurrying to her rescue, exclaimed, "Just follow me, Mrs. Allen. I'll make a path."

He literally plunged into the mud, shoving his small feet along as he had seen some one do in order to make a path through snow. Not daring to laugh, Mrs. Allen bravely sailed in, following him to the opposite side of the street, where he was awaiting her with a smile, his small hat lifted in courteous acknowledgement of her profuse thanks. H. N. V.

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunty Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

Brother, telling his grandmother about them, said: "And say, Nanna, you jus' ought to see what Santy brought the baby! He brought her the cutest 'ittle unthumbable mitties." E. C. B.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Fine for Boy Scout.

"As I have the trousers, coat, and puttees of a Boy Scout suit—size 12 or 13—and am not a member of the organization, I ask that you please send me an address where I can send my articles. C. N."

Sign for Dressmaker.

"I have a glass dressmaking sign I want to give to a woman who can make use of it. I will send it to the person who wants it, as I know those who sew have no spare time. N. C."

'Snow Maiden' to Be Given for School Children Today

Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Snow Maiden" will be the second opera offered as one of the three special matinées arranged by the Chicago Civic Opera company for high school students. Pietro Cimini, who will conduct, has given considerable time to the several movements of the opera and is pleased with the choice to be presented. President Charles M. Moderwell, Peter A. Mortenson, superintendetn of schools, and members of the board of education will attend the performance, which will be in the Auditorium theater at 2 o'clock today.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

My New Year's Sermon.

There's a matter quite terrestrial
As you ride this globe celestial,
To which I call attention here.
There is no use from it running,
For it can be both expert and cunning,
Even on this happy, glad New Year.

I call your mind to senseless eating
The physiological bundle you call yourself.
It is more worth your prime attention
That you keep from it all dissension
Than it is to gather any peltry or great pelf.

Did you start the year that silly
That you now feel daft and pilly?
Then resolve you will never be that fool again.
Have you shorn this day of brightness
For an hour of reckless lightness?
Pay up, resolve, and resolve often.

Because your old body stands much gaffing
Is not any sign it's laughing
The nearest thing to divinity on earth.
But out with doleful preaching! 'Tis mirth
I should be screeching, not care, O!

Here's a Happy New Year to you,
While I shake my finger "not do,"
And wishes as from a wishing well.
But I know you'll be quite unhappy—
And I would make it blithe and snappy—
If you eat unwisely and pell mell.

Society Packs Its Cardcase and Goes New Year's Calling

"Mr. and Mrs. Society" stay at home on Thanksgiving and Christmas with the little "Societies," but on New Year's day they sally forth with bulging cardcases to pay their respects to those of their friends who have signified their intention of keeping "open house." In the good old days eggnog or punch provided plenty of New Year cheer, but in these days congenial company, with perhaps a bit of "private stock," "start the new year right."

Every one who has been invited to the buffet luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank of 1244 North State street are giving from 1 to 3 o'clock at their residence for Mrs. Bernard F. Rogers Jr. (Corina Higginson of Boston) is rejoicing that the Fairbanks have revived their famous New Year's luncheons, for memories of those delightful parties are still fresh in the minds of those who have attended them.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stanton Monroe, Miss Harriet Monroe, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maverick Collier (Polly Root) are giving their annual New Year's tea from 4 to 7 o'clock at the Monroe residence, 64 East Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Fentress of Hubbard Woods are having their annual reception at 4 o'clock at their residence and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Brown will be at home informally to their Lake Forest friends at the same hour at their residence in Lake Forest.

The Chicago Yacht club will keep open house at the Lincoln park clubhouse from 3 to 9 o'clock with music, dancing, and refreshments as the attractions.

Brig. Gen. George V. H. Moseley and the officers and ladies at Fort Sheridan will be at home informally at the Officers' club at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Neither the Casino nor the Saddle and Cycle will have special parties today, but undoubtedly many members of both clubs will gather at them for both luncheon and tea.

Miss Mary Adelaide Harding, who is at home from Miss Bennett's school at Millbrook, N. Y., and Miss Jane Harding, who is at home from Ferry Hall in Lake Forest, for the holidays, will be at home today from 4 to 7 o'clock at the residence of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Harding of Hubbard Woods.

Society did not turn out in as great numbers as expected for Eleanora Duse's first matinée in Chicago but this was undoubtedly due to the fact it was the last day of a busy year and also because there are to be three more opportunities to see the famous tragedienne in Chicago. Only a few boxes in the Auditorium were occupied.

Four hundred "sub-debs" and their beaux greeted the New Year at the Junior Assembly ball, which is the smartest event for society young people each year during the holidays. The ball was given in the ballroom of the Belden hotel, which was decorated in wint'ry style with snow and icicles. At midnight supper was served, buffet style, on the balcony, the girls and boys sitting in parties of eight at small tables, overlooking the ballroom where a cabaret was staged. Chaperoning the party were the mothers of several of the young people, some of whom where Leslie Foster, Glee Louise Viles, Edwina Litsinger, Mildred Allen, Katharine Kales, Barbara Kirk, Anne Crofton, Beatrice Burnet, Potter Palmer Jr., Charles S. ## HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH MARRIED

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Why do men marry?" asks Arnold Bennett in one of his chapters on that delightfully absorbing topic, woman.

All right, Arnold, you may have the floor. Why do they?

[Will meet you girls out in the back room after the show is over to exchange confidences about the "fat chance" they have to escape.]

"I say," says Mr. Bennett, twirling his fine mustachio, "it cannot be said that the average man marries mainly in order to have children and continue or establish a family tradition. The desire for children persists, but a growing perception of the convenience and comforts incident to not having children began long ago to weaken the desire for children.

"Nor can it be said that men as a rule marry in order to provide a mitigation of the solitude and the maladies which otherwise would render them miserable in old age. Young and youngish men do not look so far ahead."

The eminent speaker further opines that men are not influenced to marry by the need of a housekeeper and minister for practical domestic affairs. Men of means do not demand any practical domestic expertness whatever in their respective wives. And men of less means follow their leaders in this matter. After choosing a wife they set about immediately having a housekeeper installed with the necessary technical knowledge.

"Hence we arrive at the conclusion," says Mr. Bennett, "that men must have married largely in order to have a companion."

A good reason, the best of reasons, the author grants, especially as the desire for a companion often includes the desire to cherish and protect a companion.

"Man did not want a female companion all day. In fact, he deliberately separated himself from her during what were to him the most important hours of the day; and during those hours she had to devote herself to what was evidently the other main function of her career.

"Shure," says Mrs. O'Flaherty, without lifting her eyes from the washtub, "an' it was just that companionship Moike married me for. An' he nivir can get enough of it to go out and look for a job."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

When Caution Pays.

Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 18 and am a switchboard operator. I have had a couple of fellows call me on the telephone asking to take me out, saying they wanted to get acquainted with me. Now, I don't know nor have I seen any of them. I don't go out with any fellows and don't know how to get acquainted with any nice young men, and as I don't like to go out with any one, I would appreciate your advice on this matter. Will be watching the paper daily for your answer.

ANXIOUS BETTY.

I would not consider for a moment accepting any invitation that would come before a formal introduction, so that you may be sure the man is not married or of disreputable character, which naturally you have no way of knowing unless the man is recommended by some common friend or acquaintance.

That Is Too Bady.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 18 years of age and have been going with a fellow one year my senior for a year and a half. He broke a date with me to go with another girl, so that settled things between us. He now goes with other girls and I with other boys. I don't care for him, but I value his friendship. He calls me up and tells me he cares, but to other people he acts as though he is glad everything is over.

"When I see him I speak just the same as ever and so does he. Some people tell me not to pay any attention to him, but just freeze him out. I don't want to be mean and think it is better for me to act as though nothing had ever happened.

"What would you do?

"BLUE EYES."

I guess down deep you do care for that boy, Blue Eyes. And it's too bad, because he apparently does not deserve it. Here's hoping you will meet another soon who will heal your hurt and help you to crowd the lingering memories of the old love.

Plaudits Rival Tattoo of 'Drake's Drum' in Princeton Club Play

Because it was rattling good entertainment, "Drake's Drum" beat an echo to the enthusiastic plaudits of its audience at the Aryan grotto yesterday afternoon and evening, not merely because it was the Princeton Triangle club's annual musical comedy, deserving of encouragement because it was the offering of a college organization. The performance had most of the merits of a professional show and the added zest which only youthful amateurs, well trained, could give it. The rumor that Florenz Ziegfeld had bid for the rights of the show was easily believable.

There was catchy music, of which "Ships That Pass in the Night" and "She Is the Toast of Spain" were examples. Wallace H. Smith, president and leading light of the club, was the star of the play, providing most of the fun as a bogus Francis Drake. The colorful and well trained chorus, both the men and "girls," were no small factor in the successful and rapid action of the pirate comedy.

And besides the other stars, all of whom are worthy of praise, the orchestra and its conductor are deserving of credit. The features of the show which were most enthusiastically received were the Triangle jazz band's number and the dancing acts of "Carita," the Spanish maid of mystery, played by J. B. Darby.

Of the Chicago men who were in the cast, Louis H. Laflin Jr. distinguished himself as Capt. Burns and "Coots" Davis as the best "girl" in the chorus. Burton Mudge Jr., J. M. Fearing, T. E. Mead, and J. H. Fall were other members of the various choruses.

The house, which had been sold out long before the performance, included representatives of every age and set. There was the youthful party of Miss Barbara King, which consisted of Miss Eleanor McCormick, Miss Laura Sprague, Miss Katherine Drake, Miss Rosemary Baur, and Miss Carol Bush. With Mr. and Mrs. Paul Noyes in an upper box were Miss Isabel Greenlee, Miss Katharine Noyes, Jack King, and Brayton Slade.

GOOP DIALOGUES

A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

BY GELETT BURGESS

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BRAVERY IN PAIN

Children, sometimes, keep on trying
When they're hurt, to keep from crying.
Children, sometimes, yell and bawl
When they are not hurt at all.
Some are brave, and smile at pain;

Emerald Green Satin Ends in a Fox Hem

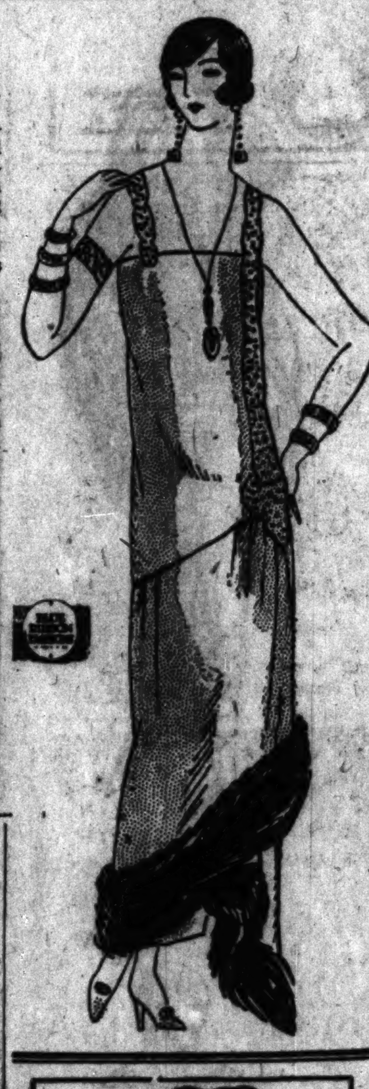
by Corinne Lowe



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The fox trot is often stepped nowadays in the fox hem. So prevalent is the use of fur this year in afternoon and evening dresses that all the sting is taken out of that old insult of King Lear's: "If to go warm were gorgeous." Some part of us is always going both.

The model shown today is executed in emerald green satin, embroidered with black and green stones. Note the repeated bias lines. The vogue of this bias effect was strikingly illustrated in an imported model recently observed here. Tubelike in silhouette and absolutely plain, this Parisian model relied for trimming entirely on the application of a deep band of satin in contrasting color. It draped the skirt both front and back, and ran up to meet the V neck of the dress in front.

Evening dresses this year are more apt than not to favor some sort of train. Every allowance is made, however, for wayward inclination. They may be developed in the conventional position or fall from the side. Jenny shows a model the girdle of which carries the train motif in tulle. An overdrape, no matter how arranged, often ends in a train sometimes of considerable length, as in some of Poiret's creations for this year.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

New Year Eve Sees Brilliant Box Circle to Hear "Rigoletto"

The combination of snowstorm and late dinner parties given for the younger members of families kept opera hostesses away until the second act of "Rigoletto" was well under way. When they did assemble, however, they presented as brilliant a box circle as the season has witnessed.

Miss Elizabeth McCormick was hostess to Mr. and Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, Mrs. Cecil Barnes, John H. Winterbotham, and Leander McCormick Goodhart of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Byram had a group of young folk, including Miss Mathilda Shelby of Indianapolis, Miss Helen Weirick, Miss Vivian Warren, and Miss Gertrude Kenning.

Mrs. Cornelius Peter Van Schaack also entertained a number of young folk, guests of her son, Harding Van Schaack. They were Miss Jane Harding, Miss Mary Leebrick, Miss Mary Harding, and George Isaac.

With Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm L. Harris were Mrs. Joseph B. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Vail Bucklin, and Col. H. C. Carbaugh.

With Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McIntosh were Mrs. Howard Spaulding and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Smith.

Dr. and Mrs. William M. Burton had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Kirk and Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Kirk.

In the Chauncey Keep box were Mrs. John H. Hamline, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hamline Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Gregory Jr., and Mrs. Robert B. Gregory.

In the Martin A. Ryerson box adjoining were Miss Anita Blair, Mrs. J. Gordon Willson, Mrs. Andrew C. McLaughlin, Enrico Tramonti, and John W. Hutchinson.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

Study in Brown.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Another version of the striped bosom shirt and striped collar to match is with us today. We saw this one in a 5th aveue shop, one of those that cater to the man who always wears what is smart and up to the minute within the bounds of good taste. It was one of those shirts with sleeves and back of solid color, and the bosom and cuffs and collar of striped effect, in white and the color of the body of the shirt.

The color in this case was brown. The stripes on the starched shirt bosom ran horizontally, while the collar was vertically striped. The suggested scheme in regard to other accessories included cuff links of topaz, voile handkerchief of white with small brown polka dots and brown edging, and a tie of two shades of brown. To get away from too much brown our suggestion would be to apply this attractive outfit to a blue suit.

The reverse of this striped shirt and collar effect we saw a little farther along on the avenue. This time the style note was on a well dressed man and not in a shop. The stripes on the shirt bosom were vertical, while the collar was horizontally striped. The color scheme was a light blue body with medium wide white stripes. The necktie worn with the shirt was one of purplish blue changeable silk.

The mention of topaz cuff links a paragraph or so above reminds us of some stone links we saw recently, which would find excellent niches in the color schemes of various outfits. We saw some of amethyst, of emerald, and of topaz. We have already seen how the last mentioned may be worked into an attractive color combination. The amethyst could be successfully used with a mauve shirt and dark blue suit, or a pale gray shirt with gray or blue suit. Emerald suggests itself for a green striped shirt, or the same pale gray mentioned above.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MRS. A. D.: THAT'S EVER WHERE the fat pounces first upon the human frame—around the waistline. O, yes, it will come off. Don't you let any one tell you it won't. It comes off fairly easily from there—more easily than from arms and legs. But we won't argue about it, because we are only losing time which you would better employ in sending a s. a. e. for my reducing instructions and in working up will power to resist candy, cake, pie, or whatever it is that is crowding you off the flapper platform.

PORT M.: YES, I HAVE THE LIME water wash mouth instructions in pamphlet form and, incidentally, I might tell you that since I have been recommending this mouth wash I have received a number of letters from dentists of high standing urging me to continue doing so, as it is the best kind of tooth preservative. In the same pamphlet, which contains directions for its making, you will find other items about mouth hygiene.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Society, official, diplomatic, and resident, danced the old year out and welcomed the new year in at balls in private houses and dances in the hotels and country clubs tonight, with watch parties in the churches to balance the gayeties of the other celebrations.

The ball given by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter in their du Pont circle residence, to which 200 guests were invited, took the place of the New Year eve ball given annually for several years by Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, who are now in Florida. Several dinner parties preceded the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Reynolds gave a dance for Miss Laura Winder Marshall; Mrs. Anne Archbold had 250 young people at a dance for her schoolgirl daughter, Miss Lydia Archbold, and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Carmalt gave a party with dancing for their daughter, Teresa, and their niece, Miss Hildegarde Morris, of Georgetown, S. C., who is here for the holidays.

SEEKS STRICTER ILLINOIS LAWS OVER "COLLEGES"

State Official Calls Many Unfit.

A statute which would allow only schools of accredited standing to exist and grant diplomas—which would wipe out the thirty or forty Chicago "diploma mills" now running full blast—is a necessity in Illinois, Director A. M. Shelton, head of the state department of registration and education, declared yesterday.

His statement came during the investigation of two schools, the Lincoln-Jefferson university at 64 West Randolph street, and the National University of Sciences, at 2923 South Michigan avenue, said to have granted hundreds of diplomas during their existence.

Fears Results on Ambitious.

"Two men can sit in a room and decide to start a school. They can obtain a charter, rent desk space, send out literature, grant any degrees they wish, and reap in a harvest of money from the ignorant," declared Director Shelton.

"There are thirty to forty such schools in the city, granting diplomas ranging from high school certificates to Ph. D. degrees, without facilities for teaching, but with numberless students clamoring to take their courses."

Teaching by Mail Only.

The Lincoln-Jefferson university grants some thirty-two degrees and claims a faculty of forty-three "teachers." The Rev. John F. B. Walker, originally of England and now of Laporte, Ind., and president of the college, wears the letters Ph. D., D. D., LL. D., and F. R. G. S. after his name. The Rev. A. W. Slade, associate president and dean, of Peru, Ind., sports M. A., D. D., LL. D. after his.

The university's office is half of one room on the fifth floor of the Garrick Theater building. The teaching is by mail, and a bachelor of arts degree may be obtained at home for $149 for a four year course. An additional $10 is charged for the diploma. For a master's diploma it costs $15 and for the diploma of doctor $20.

Dr. C. C. Faiman, head of the National University of Sciences, said it had been reported his institution was closed.

"It is not closed. It is running full capacity," he declared.

Sergt. McCarthy to Get Lambert Tree Award.

A year ago Sergt. Hugh McCarthy of the detective bureau "shot it out" with two desperate escaped convicts, killing one and capturing the other. On Jan. 9, when nine other police heroes of 1922 are acclaimed by the city council, he will receive the Lambert Tree bravery medal from Mayor Dever. The same act won McCarthy THE TRIBUNE's $100 hero award for December, 1922.

McCarthy's nomination for the honor was announced yesterday by President Nicholas Finn of the civil service commission, who also heads the board of award, consisting of Chief Collins, Fire Marshal Edward J. Buckley, City Treasurer John A. Cervenka, Deputy Superintendent of Police Mathew Zimmer, and Civil Service Commissioners Edward A. Evans and John Pelka.

1922 Medals Unrewarded.

It was only when the board of award undertook to select the policeman and fireman whose bravery in 1923 merited the Lambert Tree and Carter Harrison hero medals that it was discovered that the 1922 medals had not been awarded by the Thompson administration. The board is now considering the feats of nearly fifty firemen in 1922, from which one must be singled as worthy of the Carter Harrison medal.

McCarthy, according to the board's recommendation to Mayor Dever, was "tipped" that three dangerous criminals, two escaped convicts and one wanted for violation of his parole, were living in a rooming house at 1103 West Adams street.

The trio sallied forth nightly, McCarthy's informant said, to raid jewelry stores, drug stores, and small butcher shops, and one, Jacob Sprock, was known as a "killer" and identified as the murderer of Walter Jarosz, a butcher at 4217 West Division street, on Dec. 23.

Lies in Wait for Trio.

On Dec. 28 McCarthy entered the flat alone and arrested the girl companion of the bandits, Winifred Knight, 17, who had fled with Sprock and Robert Preston from Vandalia, Ill., after they had escaped from the state honor farm.

"For two days," according to the recommendation," Sergt. McCarthy hid in the flat, awaiting the arrival of Sprock and Preston. On Dec. 30 they came and, unlocking the door cautiously, saw McCarthy in their room. Before they could close the door McCarthy had pushed his arm through the small opening and suffered excruciating agony as the two bandits attempted to pull the door closed.

"McCarthy managed to draw his revolver and force his way through the door into the hallway, where the two men sprang at him with their own guns drawn. McCarthy shot Sprock, who was grappling with him, and, holding the wounded man before him as a shield, shot it out with Preston, whom he finally wounded in the right shoulder. Sprock was mortally wounded and died almost instantly.

Identified as Desperadoes.

"Sprock and Preston, in addition to the former's part in the murder of Jarosz, were identified as having committed fifteen robberies and six larcenies of automobiles."

McCarthy's brother officers whose acts during the same year merited official commendation are as follows, "alphabetically, without regard to particular acts of bravery," the awarding board says: Patrolman Chris J. Brown, Chicago avenue; Patrolman Herbert Burns, motorcycle division; Patrolman William Granger, Maxwell street; Patrolman Michael Hoban, Sheffield avenue; Patrolman Edward Kennelly, detective bureau; Patrolman James W. McCarthy, detective bureau; Sergt. P. B. O'Connell, Maxwell street; Sergt. William Shanley, Chicago avenue, and Patrolman Edwin T. Strandberg, Town Hall.

Refuses to Open Safe for Bandits; Shot Dead

New York, Dec. 31.—Shot four times by the leader of a bandit trio he defied, Bernardo B. Brown, a jeweler, today sacrificed his life to save the contents of his safe. The bandits' automobile, pursued by a fleet of taxicabs and pleasure cars, dodged out of a traffic jam and escaped.

DEVER DENIES ENFORCING DRY LAW TO KILL IT

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Mayor Dever, addressing 300 ministers at the Young Men's Christian association yesterday, declared the statement that he was enforcing the prohibition law to make it unpopular was untrue.

"I never made the statement that the way to repeal a bad law is to enforce it, as has been charged to me," he said. "I have enforced the law because it was my plain duty to do so, and I do not consider myself entitled to special credit, nor am I a martyr to my convictions.

"If I were a young man trying to build up a reputation for future political advancement I would do as I have been doing. I can't hurt myself politically anyway, for, according to my party, I am done for already.

Determined to Do Duty.

"I have been asked to support a referendum on the beer question through action of the city council. I can only say that if every man and woman voted against me I would still enforce the law. If a mayor or any public official can choose the laws he shall enforce or not enforce there is an end to all law. Just because some one in Alabama or Georgia fails to enforce the fourteenth or fifteenth amendment to the United States constitution is no reason why the mayor of Chicago should refuse to enforce the eighteenth amendment, which he has sworn to support."

Mayor Dever was especially severe in his criticisms of the political corruption of the last city administration.

"I hadn't been in office three months," the mayor said, "before I discovered that Chicago was in the hands of the most evil and desperate gang of criminals that ever infested a city.

"They not only defied the law but laughed at it. They not only carried on their crime on the street but killed each other in the doing of it.

Finds Millions Misused.

"Money that had been appropriated for certain purposes, as for instance painting and repairs of bridges, had been turned into other channels and the bridges allowed to go uncared for. I found that a barrel of beer that costs $5 and $6 to manufacture sold for $50 and $60 and the difference between the price of manufacture and the retail price went where it would do the most good or the most harm, as you may look at it. It went for corruption purposes. The result is we need $3,000,000 to restore depreciated property. The public playgrounds have been allowed to deteriorate. The only thing kept intact is the pay roll."

Urge Warless World.

Another resolution unanimously passed declared for a warless world, called on Senators Medill McCormick and William B. McKinley to support the world court for international justice, and recommended all denominations appoint commissions and every individual congregation appoint committees on international good will. The resolutions also recommended the taking of the referendum for the Bok peace plan and suggested pastors should so far as they deemed best have ballot boxes placed in their churches where the referendum could be taken.

HIC IN CHICAGO IS DUE TO ALCOHOL LEAK, DRY SAYS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—"The greatest problem confronting this office just now is the shipment into Chicago of quantities of products of denatured alcohol," says Acting Divisional Chief T. E. Howard of the eleventh divisional area comprising Illinois, Wisconsin, and part of Michigan, in a report today.

"It is encouraging to note the drastic action by the courts in the cases of breweries which are gradually being closed up. Recently Judge Wilkerson issued a search warrant for seizure of the Chicago Heights brewery, one of the worst violators we had around here. With the closing of this brewery and with the West Hammond brewery and all the Joliet breweries out of business, things are in pretty good shape.

"It is apparent both the mayor and chief of police mean business in their attempt to dry up Chicago. Steps are taken at all times to coöperate with the various law enforcement agencies.

"The action of Mayor Dever and Chief Collins has resulted in a decided cleanup of bootlegging in Chicago. Licenses of dealers have been revoked and great numbers of them have voluntarily gone out of business. While there are always some who will take a chance, we note a decided improvement."

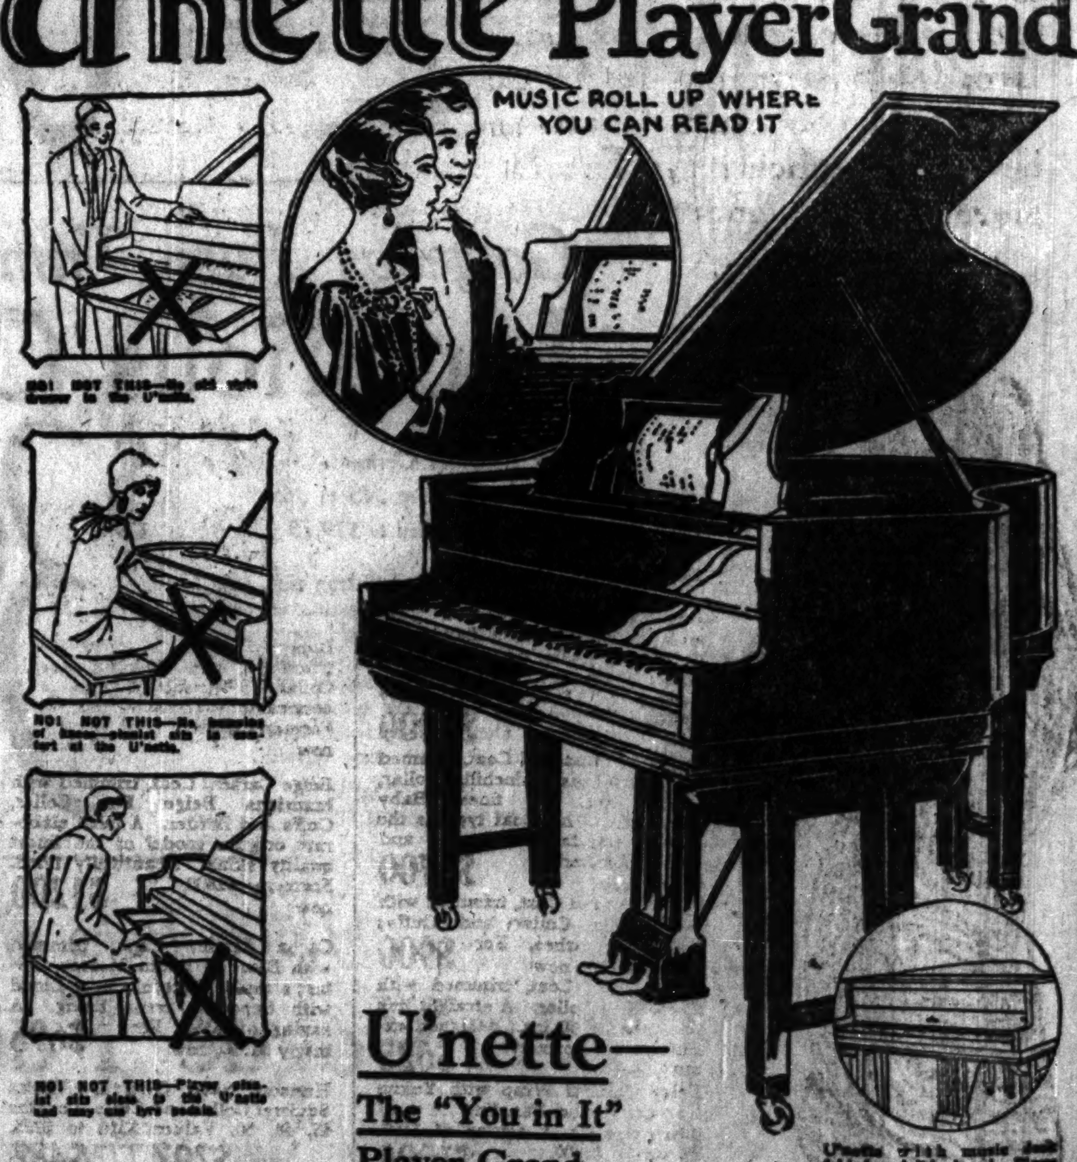
U'nette Player Grand



MUSIC ROLL UP WHERE YOU CAN READ IT
NO! NOT THIS—No old style drawer in the U'nette.
NO! NOT THIS—Player pianist sits close to the U'nette and may use lyre pedals.

U'nette—
The "You in It"
Player Grand

It plays, automatically, with beautiful tone-shading. "Reproduces" the music of famous pianists. But the U'nette also allows you to get into the music yourself. It isn't just a piano to be listened to.

Alone among Reproducing Grands, the Tone-shading U'nette is specially equipped, and specially built, for personal playing in addition to automatic playing.

On the U'nette the music roll is in its natural position (not in a drawer), therefore easily read. There is plenty of knee-room under the keybed; comfortable for pianist or player-pianist. The player-pianist sits close to the piano, and may use the lyre pedals. Then there is a wonderful copyrighted system of Tone Buttons—called the "You-in-It System"—that gives you control of all the effects used by the electric "reproducing" mechanism itself; so, when you want to, the motor does the work and you put in the expression.

The U'nette also is made as a footpower Grand, for the "player fan" who prefers pedals. Plays any make of music roll. All models are the "honeymoon flat" size. Handsome brown mahogany or walnut. And the "Alpha Kappa" model U'nette

BISHOP TO FORCE RECTOR TO FACE HERESY CHARGE

Texan Writes New York Clergy of Decision.

New York, Dec. 31.—The Rev. Lee W. Heaton of Fort Worth, a central figure in the controversy raging in the Episcopal church between modernists and fundamentalists, today advised friends that Bishop Moore of Dallas had rejected advice reported to have been offered by Bishop Manning of New York and was sticking to his intention of bringing the Fort Worth rector to trial on charges of heresy.

Writes to Dr. Tyson.

In a letter to the Rev. Dr. Stuart L. Tyson, vice president of the Modern Churchmen's union, which rallied to Mr. Heaton's defense, the Texan said:

"It was one month ago that the standing committee presented me for trial. I am told that Bishop Moore has not abandoned his original intention and also that he has rejected the advice of Bishop Manning."

Despite this letter Dr. Tyson said he did not believe there would be any trial. He added that the force of public opinion was too strongly against it.

Deplores Modernist Church.

Dr. Tyson deplored the suggestion of the Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant of the Church of the Ascension and others that the modernists of all Protestant denominations band together in a new church.

"I would deprecate a split in the church and the merging of the modernists into one great church, leaving the fundamentalists to band together," he said. "The modernist has not started the quarrel and is merely defending his own position as a loyal son of the church."

Suicide Is Verdict of Girl Dead in Police Flat

Miss Kitty Safranski, 19 years old, of 2716 Potomac avenue, found shot to death in the apartment of Patrolman E. William Ward in Detroit last Saturday morning, ended her own life because of despondency, the Detroit police decided yesterday. The girl's brother Casimir told the police she had been moody and restless and had left her home here after quarreling with her step-father. Her actions after arriving in Detroit had been queer, hotel employés there said.

Girl Held After Story of Holdup in Evanston

The Evanston police held 17 year old Helen Clauss for the juvenile authorities last night after she had told several conflicting stories of being held up in Wilmette early yesterday morning while riding in a taxicab with Benjamin Roman of 5126 Pershing road. Roman was beaten by four armed men and the girl claims she was then kidnaped. The police believe that the four men were jealous admirers of Miss Clauss.

JAP STAR TRIES HIS TRICKS ON LEWIS TONIGHT

Taro Myaki and Ed Strangler Lewis will initiate wrestling fans into the mysteries of jiu jitsu tonight at the Coliseum. They are slated to go to a finish in a mixed match two out of three falls with the heavyweight mat championship at stake.

A flip of the coin by the referee at the ringside will decide how the match will be staged. Each is hoping that fortune will favor him in the opening round, for that session may decide the matter.

Should the Jap be lucky and Lewis be forced to wear the jackets for the first session, the punishment meted out to him may be so distressing as to leave him unfit to even up matters in the second round, when his own style of milling will be on the program.

Headlock Big Factor.

On the other hand, if the Strangler wins the toss it seems certain it will be curtains for the Jap, for the old headlock may make a wreck of him, even though the oriental grappler boasts of a marvelous head and throat development.

Both men are confident, the Jap particularly appearing not the least bit flustered. He has an idea that the title already is his. There appears to be no question that Lewis is in for a busy evening.

The Stanislaus Zbyszko-Joe Zickman match, in all probability, will prove a sensation. The Pole is a steady, slow, and sure plodding wrestler, while the Bohemian "ringer" is speedy, clever, and game to the point of carelessness. Both tip the beam at near the same weight, with the "ringer" having a slight advantage in height and reach.

In the main preliminary Mike Romano will meet Jack Sampson, while Freddy Meyers, Ghetto star, will mix it with Big Bill Beth. Win, lose, or draw, Romano will clash with Stan Zbyszko on Friday night at the Star and Garter.

Krone Completes Card.

With the signing yesterday of Poulleuf La Marca and Young Calma, Italian welterweights, to meet in the opening match, Promoter "Doc" Krone completed the card for the wrestling show at the Ashland Auditorium Thursday night, when Johnny Meyers, world's middleweight champion, will give Joe Parelli, Italian champion, another crack at his title. One of the best programs of the season is in store for the fans, four matches being scheduled.

Close followers of the sport are picking Parelli as a 5 to 4 favorite to topple Meyers' crown. The "little Wop" has been showing unusual class in training.

Two other matches on the card, which bring together four of the best grapplers in the country, are coming in for unusual interest. In one, Hugh Nichols of Cedar Rapids, "Farmer" Burns' latest Iowa sensation, will go into his fourth professional match against John Kilonis of Boston, well known to local followers of the sport. The result of their bout may determine which will be given the next crack at the championship.

SPALLA SAILS TO FEEL FIRPO FIST

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 31.—Erminio Spalla, Italian heavyweight champion, is sailing for Buenos Aires, having signed an agreement to meet the South American champion, Luis Firpo. Spalla left last Thursday. His departure was without any ceremony. The heavyweight had one or two engagements for fights in Italy, but cancelled them.

EVADES U. S. CONTRACT.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 31.—"Babe" Cullen of this city, who, with Nick Kline, holds the American contract for the services of Erminio Spalla, tonight said:

"Kline and I signed Spalla with Tex Rickard to meet Gene Tunney in New York on Feb. 1. Immediately after arranging for the fight we cabled Spalla and two days later, Dec. 22, we received his acceptance of the contract. His cable read: 'Accepted; wire $500. Leaving tonight on Contre Verde.'

"Kline cabled him the $500."

WILLS SIGNS TO MEET MADDEN

Newark, N. J., Dec. 31.—Harry Wills, Negro heavyweight champion and challenger of Jack Dempsey, has been matched for a twelve round bout with Bartley Madden, at First Regiment armory on Jan. 28, it was announced today.

Miss Lewis of Chicago Wins Pinehurst Shoot

Pinehurst, N. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Miss Marion Lewis of Chicago led in the woman's rifle shoot here today with a score of 141, barely nosing out Mrs. Lawrence Barr of Pinehurst, who had 140. Third place was a tie between Mrs. J. G. Wellman of New York and Miss Catherine Lewis of Chicago, at 136.

MULDOON'S CAREER ENDED AS ATHLETIC BOSS IN NEW YORK

That was the farewell of William Muldoon, late czar of boxing and wrestling in the state of New York, as he crushed his hat down over his ears and made his way out of the offices of the state athletic commission at the conclusion of today's meeting.

Members of the commission would not say whether Muldoon had resigned or had decided to decline reappointment. At any rate, his old appointment had expired and he said he was not returning.

Muldoon steps out of office leaving a strange record. His honesty never was questioned in his long and absolute administration of authority over the boxing business involving millions of dollars, yet he constantly was in quarrels with various elements of the boxing trade, including some individuals generally regarded as being no less honest than himself.

The general belief of the boxing trade as Muldoon leaves office appears to be that, whatever his faults may have been, he was on the whole a beneficent force in the business.

John Vanderbosch of Schenectady resigned as deputy commissioner at today's meeting. No hint was given as to successors to Vanderbosch or Muldoon. The former resigned to accept the post of superintendent of buildings in Schenectady. The commission disciplined two boxers, revoking the license of Frankie Murray of Philadelphia and suspending Billy Brown of New York for ninety days, both for improper conduct. The term of Frank Dwyer of Geneva, another commissioner, expired today also.

29 YEAR OLD SAND LOT STAR LANDED BY SOX

Otto Traeger, a member of the Cincinnati fire department, yesterday was announced as signed by the Chicago White Sox, on recommendation of Heinie Groh, New York third baseman. The recruit, who is an infielder playing mostly at third base, never had any experience in organized baseball but made an impressive record with independents. Traeger was in the war and played against Grover Alexander of the Cubs in France. He is 29 years old and married.

TRAMBITAS, KARR IN CLASH AT E. CHICAGO

Alex Trambitas, the Portland welterweight and one of Jack Dempsey's chief sparring partners, and Johnny Karr, the hard hitting Cleveland fighter, are to trade punches in the main event at the East Chicago auditorium tonight. They are to box ten rounds at 150 pounds, weighing in at the Indiana town at 3 p. m. this afternoon. Both report themselves fit and under weight.

Karr holds decisions over Jock Malone and Morrie Schlaifer and other leading welters in the game.

Rock Smith of Battle Creek, Mich., will meet Patsy Rocco of East Chicago in the ten round semi-final. An eight round bout between Shuffle Callahan and Harry Mueller, lightweights, a six and a four round event complete the card.

The two preliminaries to the three ten round bouts at the Island A. A. on Friday night, in which Mike Dundee and Stanley McBride, featherweights, meet in the feature event, will be six round bouts. Frank Effenberger and Johnny Murphy, 148 pounders, and Jimmy Young and Tony Sanders, lightweights, are paired.

Eddie Kane, manager of Tom Gibbons, is in town for a short visit. Kane expects to go to New York the latter part of the week where Sammy Mandell, the Rockford junior lightweight, is booked to box Jack Bernstein, former junior lightweight, ten rounds at Madison Square Garden, Jan. 11. Kane holds a half interest in the Rockford lad.

COLORED SUB FOR SIKI'S OPPONENT

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 31.—Battling Siki, denied permission to meet Joe Lohman, Toledo heavyweight, in a bout here tomorrow, probably will appear on the card with a colored opponent, it was announced today. Cancellation of the proposed mixed bout was ordered by the state boxing commissioner Saturday. Joe White of New York has been signed to meet Lohman in place of Siki.

Rockford Gunners Today Will Stage Big Wolf Hunt

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Rockford hunters have called a wolf hunt for tomorrow in Cherry Valley township. Eight dogs will be in the field, and the hunters will use shotguns and shells loaded with buckshot. Rifles are barred. Wolves have been creating havoc among poultry and sheep in that locality.

NEW YEAR'S DAY AND THE OUTDOORSMAN.

WELL, well, here is the day when old Father Time slips us a new deck and then sits back to see what kind of hands we are going to deal ourselves. There's bound to be a lot of luck in the proceedings (especially in the hands that the fishermen are going to play), but in the long run this new year is going to be largely what we make it.

What a wonderful year 1924 can be for outdoorsmen if all of us work to get that public shooting ground-game refuge bill passed in congress, and make our representatives see the light so that the Mississippi river lowlands are converted into a refuge!

There are two fine promises for 1924—things that all of us should want to happen. This much is certain: We don't get things in this world unless we work for them. Outdoor matters are no exception to this rule, so all of us must work for these two projects.

The public shooting ground-game refuge bill was killed by the last congress. The fellow who did all the dirty work in connection with this bill is (happily) "retired." This year it ought to pass, and it will if all of us write to Washington that we want it. The same goes for that Mississippi river land proposition. Senator Medill McCormick already has introduced a resolution providing for the making of a refuge of that wonderful bottomland country along the Mississippi. But it's going to take a lot of hard work to get it over.

We ought to back it, as the project will mean more fish and game for everybody.

The Izaak Walton League of America, which is making a brave and furious fight for outdoor America and the sportsmen, so that fish and game will get a better deal in the future, is behind both of these projects.

Write your congressman that you want him to support these two measures when the time comes. If a few million sportsmen would each spend a 2 cent stamp in this way they could wake up Washington and get what they want.

Jan. 1 is a day for reflection as well as for anticipation. It's nice to think over the good times that 1923 gave us when we were on some sweet little stream or lake in the north woods, or striding along a wooded trail with the big trees standing like sentinels along the path.

This year undoubtedly will be a bigger one than 1923, as far as the outdoor sports are concerned. More people than ever are hitting the trails to camp sites and fishing spots. The automobile campers are increasing as each season goes by. Larger numbers of men and women are getting acquainted with the outdoors, and are better for it.

And now it's time to plan for the 1924 fishing and camping trips. Come on, you 1924! May your camp fires be cheery and your fishing be snappy! Happy New Year!

SIX MORE RIDERS SIGN TO RIDE IN 6 DAY RACE

Six more good riders were signed up last night by Manager Paddy Harmon for the six day bike racing which starts at the Coliseum on Saturday night. They are Dave Lands of Irvington, N. J., Fred Hill of Boston, Harry Kaiser of New York, Mauritz Declerck, Chicago Belgian, Fred Taylor of Newark, Anthony Beckman of Secaucus, N. J., and Willie Coburn of St. Louis.

Lands, it was announced, will be teamed with Sammy Gastman. Taylor broke an arm in the race here last spring just at a time when it looked like he was going to finish well up in front.

There will be a strong field of amateurs in the one hour team race Saturday night, run under the same rules which govern the last hour of a six day bike race.

ELECTRICS MAKE PACE IN RACE FOR PIN LEAD

Western Electric Company Specialty and the Archer team of the Chicago Surface lines are the leading teams in the bowling tournament of the Central Manufacturers' Bowling association being conducted at Petersen's, according to official figures for the first week issued yesterday. The Western Electric team has the edge, 2,990 to 2,945. Pagel and McKeown hold the lead in the doubles with 1,263, Nessinger and Koeller being second with 1,236. T. Kowitz tops the individual lists with 702, while A. McKeown heads all events with 1,866.

YOUNG STRIBLING IN REAL ACID TEST TODAY

New York, Dec. 31.—The New Year in Metropolitan fistic circles will be ushered in tomorrow with an unusual array of attractions, headed by a twelve round match at Newark, in which Young Stribling, Georgia schoolboy, will battle Dave Rosenberg, Brooklyn middleweight.

Youth Faces Acid Test.

Stribling gained fame last October by holding McTigue, the world's light heavyweight champion, to a draw in the South, but Rosenberg probably will give the youngster an even stiffer test than McTigue.

The 19 year old southern boy has had some aid from Jack Dempsey, who has reserved ringside seats for tomorrow's bout. The fighters have agreed to make 166 pounds.

Other Bouts on Card.

Two other promising fight cards are on the holiday program. Kid Williams of Baltimore, former bantam champion who is attempting a comeback, will battle Midget Smith at a local club, while on another card, Bud Taylor, Chicago bantamweight, is pitted against Sammy Nable of New York.

In Motordom

by J. L. JENKINS

FOLLOWERS of the balsam trails will find a delectable new highway completed for them next season from the Illinois-Wisconsin line north of Chicago straight north to Iron Mountain, Mich., according to announcement made yesterday by A. R. Hirst, Wisconsin highway superintendent. The road is Wisconsin trunk line 57, which connects at the line with the famous Telegraph road out of Chicago. It runs north parallel to Sheridan road through Milwaukee, terminating at Niagara, Wis. The Michigan trunk line system in the northern peninsula carries the improvement north. Work early this spring is expected to close the pavement gaps both north and south of the Illinois-Wisconsin line.

How Uncle Sam developed the Shenandoah, the great navy airship, which recently cruised through the middle west and is destined to play a heroic part in the aerial dash for the north pole, will be told in detail Jan. 22 when the Society of Automotive Engineers assembles for its annual meeting in Detroit. Starr Truscott, one of the navy's leading aeronautical engineers, will reveal the complete story of its designing and building and the unprecedented engineering problems overcome.

Connecticut said farewell to its three ancient highway toll bridges yesterday. The state removed the fee system from the spans which have been levying toll since the first roads were built.

Why not resolve to carry a note book during 1924, jot down the license numbers of all traffic violators you see, and turn the reports in to the mayor's safety commission in the city hall?

AUGIE WILLING TO MEET HOPPE AT 3 CUSHION

BY JOE DAVIS.

Word from New York that Willie Hoppe, the international balkline champion, is to hurl a defi at the winner of the national championship Three Cushion league, will not cause any of the leading angle experts to duck for cover.

Several of them have been anxious to meet Hoppe, and at various times have made definite challenges, all of which came to naught.

Among those anxious to cross cues with the champion is Augie Kieckhefer, the local southpaw and former three cushion champion.

Willing to Play.

Augie said yesterday that irrespective of the outcome of the Three Cushion league championship he is willing to meet Hoppe in a three cushion match for a reasonable stake and a division of the gate, which could be winner take all if Hoppe so desired.

Under their contracts with the league the players cannot engage in special matches without the consent of the league. The players in the league also might object to an outsider having a chance to win the championship by getting priority in the matter of challenging the winner.

All Seek Matches.

If it were left to the player who wins the league championship there is no doubt the winner, whether it be Cannefax, Layton, Reiselt, Ellis, Copulos, Kickhefer, or Denton, will be willing to tackle Hoppe.

A tour of Europe and America is being planned for Champion Willie Hoppe and ex-Champion Jacob Schaefer, the two taking part in exhibition games in the great cities of the world. Their exhibitions will be so planned that they will interfere in no way with their games for the regular 18.2 balkline billiard championship.

This afternoon Miske's condition was described as "weaker—very critical." Death may be expected at any time.

The physicians have kept Miske strapped up in bed, declaring that to permit him to lie down would be fatal.

55,000 TO SEE MIDDIES TACKLE HUSKIES TODAY

CAPTAIN STEPS OUT

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—A case of self-sacrifice in intercollegiate athletics was shown here today when it became known that Wayne Hall, captain of the University of Washington football team, which meets the Navy tomorrow, has taken himself out of the starting line.

Hall has informed Coach Bagshaw that other candidates for the end positions will play better football, and that Washington will have a better chance to win with stronger players in the flank positions.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Football teams representing the naval academy at Annapolis and the University of Washington will be called upon to uphold the caliber of game as played along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts tomorrow when they meet in the annual east versus west struggle, athletic feature of the Tournament of Roses carnival.

The contest will be played in the Pasadena Rose bowl and present plans call for the start at 2 o'clock (4 p. m. Chicago time). A drizzle of rain was falling tonight and the field may be heavy.

Never before has such a colorful struggle been planned for this city. Over 10,000 sailors from the Pacific fleet will be crowded on one side of the field, admirals from three districts will grace the game, while every officer who can be spared from the battleships will be on hand.

55,000 to See Game.

When the rivals take their positions on the field for the kickoff a squad of marines will march to one end of the field behind the Pacific fleet band of 200 pieces. As the band plays "The Star Spangled Banner" the marines will raise an American flag to the top of the pole, while the expected crowd of 55,000 will bare heads.

Then the fun will start. The gobs have been rehearsing Annapolis songs and cheers aboard their respective ships for the past month, while none other than Lieut. Jack Kennedy of the U. S. S. Mississippi, well known to Chicagoans when he was connected with the Great Lakes Naval Training station, will lead one section of the cheering.

Washington is expected to be supported by its quota of admirers. About 100 came into Pasadena today with the team, while many more are expected in the morning from Seattle and other points. The streets today are crowded with visitors wearing the colors of the combating elevens.

Both Teams Drill.

Both elevens completed preparation today. Coach Bob Folwell had the middies in the Rose bowl at 1 o'clock and drilled them for two hours in dummy defensive formations, while the offense came in for a deal of polishing. Trick plays evolved especially for this game were executed. After practice the Navy coach said his men are ready. He is undecided whether he will start Shapley or Barchet at full back, and may make a last minute switch in one of his half backs.

The Washington squad, a grand looking outfit, rolled into Los Angeles this morning and received a rousing welcome. The players were hurried to waiting automobiles. A light lunch prepared for their final practice. Coach Enoch Bagshaw did not attempt scrimmage drill. The men were given final instructions on every part of offensive and defensive play. Nothing was overlooked by the little coach whose team was runnerup for the Pacific coast title. As the team shapes up, it has a great line, one which should at least hold its own with the Navy and may outplay it. The ends are big and fast, and the back field is of the driving type.

Regulars May Be Out.

There is a strong possibility that two of Washington's regulars may not start the game, and if they do they may last only a short time. Elmer Tesreau, the big full back, is suffering from boils on his knees, while Les Sherman, the regular quarter back, has a severe ankle bruise. Aside from these two injured warriors, the squad is in excellent condition.

Indications are that it will be a hard fought game, with both elevens employing a line attack, varied occasionally by open play. Punting will be an important factor and in Leonard Ziel, the huskies have a great kicker. Aside from being a consistent punter, Ziel is a reliable place kicker.

The Navy, however, should unleash a versatile attack. Coach Folwell is well fortified with back field material. Either coach will be satisfied to win by any kind of a score. The lineup:

| NAVY. | | WASHINGTON. | |
|---|---|---|---|
| | Brown | Dowels | L. E. |
| | Walker | Kuhn | L. T. |
| | Lenvensky | Bryan | L. G. |
| | Mathews | Walters | C. |

SKATERS IN ACTION TODAY AT EDGEWATER RINK ON NORTH SIDE

SHARPEN up the blades, ice skaters. Manager Bill Eller of the Edgewater Beach outdoor rink announced last night that there would be plenty of skating at that rink, Sheridan road, near Bryn Mawr avenue, today.

Eller and his assistants worked in the snow and slush last night cleaning up and making ice, and prospects for a smooth, hard ice surface are bright for this morning.

Other Chicago rinks, in the playgrounds and parks are not quite ready, but if the weather continues cold there should be skating at all of the playgrounds and parks of the city within thirty-six or forty-eight hours. Work on the ponds, and flooding of them will be started today.

N. A. A. F. ASKS TO CUT AUTHORITY OF A. A. U.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—A resolution favoring removal of all foreign control in the selection of athletes to represent the United States in Olympic games and the placing of full powers of selection in the hands of the American Olympic association was adopted by the National Amateur Athletic federation today in its annual convention. The federation also went on record as favoring selection of athletes by the contending institutions for all international contests other than the Olympian games without the necessity of outside certification.

The resolution was precipitated by discussion of the recent suspension of Charles Paddock by the Amateur Athletic union. At present the selection of athletes for the Olympian games is in charge of the A. A. U. and the American Olympic association, the A. A. U. being the American representative of the International Athletic federation.

The arrangement favored by the A. A. F. would enable the American Olympic association to make selections on its own initiative, as well as to sanction recommendations made to it. Under present rules the association has no power of initiative.

The federation voted to increase its executive council to twenty-one members, the nine new members to be women.

PREPARES APPLICATION

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 31.—When Charles Paddock was informed at his home here that William C. Prout, president of the Amateur Athletic union, viewed his reinstatement in the A. A. U. as a matter of course, providing his application is accompanied by satisfactory explanations of his recent differences with that organization, he announced that his application would be forwarded to the committee on registration.

Charley said a review of the case by University of Southern California officials and Robert Weaver, a member of the committee on registration, would accompany the application.

DANCERS CROWD OUT BASKETBALL

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Basketball shoes, or dancing pumps—which shall glide across the gymnasium floor at Whitewater Normal school? That's the quandary that faces the athletic department, which was forced to cancel several cage games because dances caused confliction of dates.

BOYS' CHECKER MEET.

The second annual noon hour checker tournament for Western Electric boys under 18 years of age will start next Monday in the boys' recreation room at the Hawthorne works.

SCHOOLBOY ICE STAR ENTERS TRIB DERBY

Willard Taylor, one of Chicago's schoolboy ice stars, is out to win a pair of silver skates. Taylor yesterday entered the Junior Silver Skates Derby of THE TRIBUNE, to be held at Garfield park Jan. 20, through Director John A. Mock of Henry playground. It will be the second time that Willard has attempted to be among the winners in the annual TRIBUNE tournament.

In the races last year Taylor won his heat in the junior division in a handy fashion. But in the final race, unfortunately for him, a fellow racer fell right in front of Taylor, who was unable to save himself before he also spilled, thus losing his chance to finish with the leaders.

Star in Club Derbies.

Taylor has been a member of the Chicago school boy skating team for two years.

Director Mock of the Henry playground will have a number of other skaters to compete in the Derbies, as will other directors of the city and parks playgrounds. Many of the directors have posted lists in their playgrounds and the boys and girls enter their names on the sheets, which, when complete, will be checked by the playground officials and entered on THE TRIBUNE lists.

A number of entries for the two girls' races were received yesterday. Among the entrants were Anabelle Ackley of St. Catherine's High school and Alice McNally and Lillian Mensch of the Blackhawks in the junior race, while Winnie Jackson, Margaret Neill, and Katherine Lee, the star girl athlete of Welles Park, entered for the senior division.

Errors in Some Blanks.

Some errors have been noted in the entries received to date. A number of skaters have failed to keep within the age limit in marking out their classes.

The age limit for the girls' junior class is 16 years. Any girl who has reached her 16th birthday or will attain it by the day of the races, Jan. 20, must skate in the senior division. The age limit for junior boys is the same, and 18 years is the limit placed on the boys' intermediate class.

All skate entries should be mailed to Walter Eckersall, Sporting Department, CHICAGO TRIBUNE. No fee is necessary to race and all entry lists will be closed on Jan. 13.

SLEIPNER DERBY LATER

The cold wave that descended on Chicago yesterday failed to salvage the annual New Year's day skating tournament of the Sleipner A. C. scheduled to be held this afternoon in Humboldt park. Open water still marks the lagoon, and the events have been postponed until later in the season.

The new date for the Sleipner derby probably will be a Wednesday evening or Saturday afternoon.

Lists May Be Reopened.

Entries for the meet were closed on Christmas day, but the lists probably will be reopened when the new date for the races is set. The blanks and additional information about the tournament can be obtained at Sleipner headquarters at 3316 Beach avenue.

Officials of the Western Skating association have been driving for new members for the last two weeks. It is proposed to bring the membership of the organization over the 300 mark if possible. More than 100 members already signed the roster.

Ask Skaters to Register.

President Frank M. Kalteux announced that the association will also drive to register all skaters competing in sanctioned tournaments this year. All skaters over 16 years of age, both girls and boys, will be registered with the organization, and the registration committee, composed of Harry Berz, Harry Hahn, and Theo. A. Gross, is compiling lists of eligible skaters.

Registration can be made and additional information on registration obtained from Harry Berz, 1225 South Avers avenue, or Harry Hahn, 2045 Thomas street.

In these days of the Eighteenth amendment and reform epidemics, it is difficult to turn over a new leaf as in the days of old. The Wake, seeking to follow time-honored custom, took out the old book preparatory to turning over a new leaf. And what did we find? That practically all the interesting pages had been torn out. Therefore it looks as if we'd have to stay "as is."

Dear Harve: This Henriette dame is the bunk. After weeks of trying, I finally got a date. No wonder she has frat pins. First thing she says is, "Have you a frat pin?" Next, "May I see it for a minute?" What can a fellow do? Have decided to go back to the old-fashioned kind.

I tried to tell Uncle Dick what Santa left me for Christmas but he wouldn't print it. How careless! Anyway, I, too, received soft silky things, more supplies for my cellarette, a darling cigaret holder in maize and blue, perfumed cigs—and O, yes, a few more fraternity pins. Shush, don't tell Henriette or she'd cry for mine. Health and happiness for 1924, Old Dear!

Mine, were silky, too, but initialed in pink on the left side front so I dare not shave in the Pullman this week-end and I must wear them for her sake. What to do?

Worst Joke I Ever Heard.

A neighbor lady, evidently absent minded, left a note for the milkman, reading "One bottle of water." Next morning when she picked up the bottle there was a note pinned to hers which read, "Add the chalk, lady, add the chalk."

BUCKEYES MAKE PLANS FOR A BIG RELAY CARNIVAL

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—Indorsed by Ohio conference colleges and sanctioned by the Ohio State university athletic board, preliminary arrangements have been completed by local athletic officials for the inauguration of the Ohio relay games next spring.

The carnival will be held on the new cinder track in the Ohio stadium on April 19.

The meet here will not conflict with any other similar affair. The Drake meet is slated for April 12 and the annual Pennsylvania carnival for April 26.

Coach Who Put C. Rapids on Map Sought by Hamline

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 31.—Leo Novak, athletic director at the Cedar Rapids, Ia., High school, has been offered the post of athletic director at Hamline university here, it was learned today.

WOMEN TO SELECT GOLF MEET DATES

At the next meeting of the executive committee of the board of directors of the Women's Western Golf association, to be held Jan. 10 in the assembly room of the Continental and Commercial National bank, dates for the major championships will be selected.

It has been customary to hold the event two years in succession on Chicago courses, but the game in other cities has grown to such an extent that they are entitled to consideration, and so it is possible this practice may be altered. Sooner or later it will be changed, or Chicago will be open to the same criticism as the east, which has monopolized the women's national championship to the extent of nineteen championships out of about twenty-five.

Seek Women's Western.

Three outside cities have made bids for the 1924 western tournament, these coming from the Hillcrest club of Kansas City, Dallas Country club, and White Bear Yacht club of Minnesota. Mrs. Farlin H. Ball, president of the W. W. G. A., last night said these clubs would receive careful consideration.

The directors at the coming meeting also will rule on the maximum handicap for the championship event. This was reduced from twenty-one to eighteen, and at the annual meeting a motion to reduce it to fourteen was referred to the directors.

Chicago Team Title.

The present method of holding the Chicago team championship also will be discussed, as that also was referred to the directors. The dominating strength of a few of the clubs made inequitable the system now in vogue, and so a return to the system in which teams of twelve players represented each section of the city, was proposed.

WAR FORGOTTEN AS SOCCER TEAMS PLAY IN FRANCE

PARIS, Dec. 31.—For the first time since the war an association football team representing a former enemy country was seen in action in Paris today, and was victorious.

The eleven, composed of Austrians and sporting the title "First Vienna," defeated a Dutch team, 5 goals to 0. The French team, the "Red Star," defeated another French team, the "Stade Francaise," 2 to 1. The attendance was very large.

GIRL SKATERS SCHEDULE MEET

The women's division of the Amateur Athletic federation will hold a closed ice skating tournament for girls at Garfield park on Jan. 26. All divisions of the federation are eligible. The entry lists will close on Jan. 19. Miss Kate A. Krauel is chairman of the committee in charge of the tournament and can be reached by telephone at Van Buren 4027 for additional information and filing of entries.

Gus Tebell Turns Down Iowa Coaching Post

Madison, Wis., Dec. 31.—Gus Tebell, captain of the Wisconsin basketball team last year and one of the Badgers' outstanding stars, will decline to accept an offer as assistant coach at University of Iowa, according to information received from here today. His action was on appeal of several prominent Wisconsin followers, he stated.

GRANDDAD OF DEAD GRID STAR TO BUILD CINCINNATI STADIUM

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 31.—James N. Gamble, grandfather of James Gamble Nippert, University of Cincinnati student, who died as a result of an injury suffered during a football game on Thanksgiving day, has offered to provide funds for completion of the University of Cincinnati stadium.

The improvement will cost about $150,000 and will increase the seating capacity of the stadium to about 12,000, it is stated.

Immediately after the death of Nippert last week his parents, former Judge and Mrs. Alfred K. Nippert, announced they would construct a fraternity house for the Ohio Epsilon chapter of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity in memory of their son.

BUCKEYES DRAG OLD ELI CAGERS DOWN, 43 TO 30

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Ohio State won its fifth and last pre-Western conference basketball game here tonight by drubbing Yale's last season eastern champions, 43 to 30, before a record paid attendance of 4,000 fans.

Only once was Ohio in any danger, two minutes before the half ended, when Yale led, 16 to 15. The Buckeyes spurted and finished the half leading, 21 to 16. Coach Olsen's men played a five men defense with a skill which baffled Yale's much better floor team. The visitors' passing was executed expertly, but their shooting eyes were off. It was the fastest game in many respects ever seen on the local floor. Pite of Yale was the individual star.

K. OF C. QUINTS CLASH TODAY

With the ending of the first round, Knights of Columbus Basketball league followers are destined to see some of the best games of the season this afternoon in the three sections. Twenty-four teams will clash.

On the north side De Soto and Marquette furnish the feature struggle. Marquette is undefeated leader of the procession, while De Soto recently seemed to recover from a bad slump and has been bumping off the strong teams. First place will be decided in the south section in the tussle of Auburn Park and Calumet, both undefeated. The Barry-Damen battle is the headliner in the west section. Today's schedule:

NORTH SECTION [Broadway armory]—De Soto vs. Marquette, O'Connor vs. University, Columbus vs. Hennepin, Setters vs. Lafayette.

ONE BIG BUSINESS EXPANDS DESPITE ASSUMED BARRIER

BY SCRUTATOR.

The phenomenal growth of the electrical industries noted in this column yesterday suggests lines of economic inquiry that are likely to become of increasing interest in the next few years.

Here we have a group of industries which are not only increasing their plant and equipment faster than most others but are constantly striving for volume of production, and prices have been progressively reduced to stimulate consumption.

But these industries are operating and expanding under conditions which two opposite schools of thought, one radical and another conservative, have both pronounced inimical to expansion and to the fullest production. Readers are familiar with the conservative plea that governmental regulation has a tendency to hamper if not dwarf an industry; they also have heard much of the radical plaint that the "financial control" of industries inevitably subordinates volume of production to considerations of price and profit.

The electrical industries are:

1. Largely monopolistic—it was recognized comparatively early in their history that competition was not economic, and they were the beneficiaries of the doctrine of "natural monopoly."
2. Under almost universal regulation by law and administrative bodies, principally by the forty-eight states, slightly here and there by federal statute or decision where they enter the domain of interstate commerce, and to a diminishing degree by local municipal authorities.
3. To a great extent under a régime that is popularly known as "banker control"—that is, by men whose principal concern it has become to get money for expansion. As legal regulation prevents the accumulation of substantial corporate surplus, they are under the necessity of maintaining the closest relations to the sources of investment capital.
4. Owned by large numbers of persons, with ownership becoming ever more scattered, partly through the deliberate policy of management, partly because of the investment conditions created by legal regulation and the existing systems of taxation.

Is "banker control" a necessary result of the diffusion of ownership and of regulation by law?

If so, are the electrical industries now at a stage that must ultimately be reached by other industries as ownership become more diffused in those industries?

With a great number of owners, leadership of stock and securities holders is bound to increase in importance, and we have seen that process at work for decades in many lines of business. Mobocracy is always intolerable and never lasts. In business it would be instantly fatal.

What more natural than for banks and trust companies, which always tend to become the custodians of great quantities of investment securities, to assume such leadership? Under scattered ownership, and under the pressure of existing inheritance and income taxation, will not the fiduciary custody of securities steadily increase both in volume, importance, and strategic value in the control of industries?

Under such a régime it would seem that the influence of the purely financial class is bound to be greater than when corporations are controlled by one or a few powerful individuals owning great blocks of securities.

Does not the growth of the electrical industry in the United States as contrasted with the general backwardness abroad, a few ultra hydro-electric countries excepted, suggest that the virtues and efficiency of private ownership and operation are not bound up with competition—either as to service or price—to the extent formerly taught? Many of the advantages formerly attributed to competition are turning out to have been rather the results of that immediate responsibility that distinguishes private from public control. The railroads illustrate this just as clearly.

Is the contrast between the expansion of the electrical industry under state regulation and the comparative atrophy of the railroads under federal regulation at all flattering to the federal system?

Our fathers were crazy when they set up on this continent a loose jointed federal state instead of a unitary state on the British or French model; crazy as foxes, were they not?

for buying First Mortgage Gold Bonds secured by properties leased to the

U. S. Government Post Office Dept

1 The U. S. Government is the tenant and never fails to pay rent when due.
2 Each government contract of lease extends beyond the final maturity of the bonds.
3 In each case the income of the building is 2½ to 3½ times the greatest interest charges.
4 Rentals are paid by the Government direct to the New York Trust Co., Trustee, which sets aside money for interest and serial principal payments as they fall due.
5 Each issue is an absolute closed first mortgage.
6 Each property is valued largely in excess of the bond issue.
8 Serial maturities of bonds increase the margin of safety of each issue year by year.
10 Full insurance and title guarantee policies are assigned to the Trustee for protection of bondholders.

A run of 70,000 hogs closing day of the year swelled December receipts to 1,171,000, being third largest on record. In January arrivals totaled 1,227,508, the banner month.

Largest shipping orders since last February at 13,000 added tone to the trade, which closed strong to 10c higher after a steady to 5c lower start. Underweights showed most strength. Packers generally held off at the start, but later purchased freely. Day's top, $7.25 for 250@300 lb averages, with general average at $7.05, against $7.00 a week ago, $8.40 a year ago, and $7.15 two years ago.

A boom in cattle prices was one of the features in the live stock trade the closing day of the year, improved shipping demand and smaller receipts causing brisk competition. Beef steers advanced 15@60c, with medium grades reflecting the sharpest upturns.

Long yearling steers averaging 1,150 @1,165 lbs reached $11.75, the day's top, while best weighty steers, averaging 1,467 lbs, stopped at $10.65. Few sales passed $10.50, bulk selling at $8.25@10.50. Butcher stock held strong to 25c higher. Calves advanced 25@50c.

Sheep Sell High.

Aged and yearling sheep met active outlet yesterday at unevenly higher prices, the latter reaching $12.00, highest since July, while aged ewes sold upward to $8.40, standing 65c above the highest price in that class in four months.

Fat lambs again equaled the high point for December at $13.50 on yesterday's strong to 15c higher trade, active outside demand resulting in brisk competition at the close. Bulk desirable killing stock brought $13.00@13.40. Feeders were scarce at unchanged prices.

Seven western markets received 42,000 cattle, 147,000 hogs, and 39,000 sheep, against 16,000 cattle, 87,000 hogs, and 24,000 sheep the previous Monday, and 22,000 cattle, 105,000 hogs, and 29,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 44,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep, against 6,779 cattle, 28,723 hogs, and 11,152 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

FINANCIAL NOTES

There was little about yesterday's stock market to suggest a holiday or a market sandwiched in between two holidays. From first to last the tone was strong and the run of stocks was quietly buoyant. United States Steel common crossed par for the first time in many months and the other leaders, Standard Oil of New Jersey at 42, reached a new high price for the last five months. In other directions the market was broad and active, with railroad shares joining with the industrials in a closing burst of strength.

The averages of twenty leading industrial and twenty leading railroad stocks closed the year about midway between the high and low records. Industrials reached their high mark in the latter part of March, while the railroad shares established their peak in the first part of that month. The low point in the railroad averages was established in August, while industrials did not reach their bottom figure until the middle of October.

Gains of 1 to nearly 2½ points were recorded by Chesapeake and Ohio, Rock Island common and preferred issues, Great Northern preferred, Lehigh Valley, Missouri Pacific preferred, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, Southern railway, St. Louis and San Francisco, and Western Maryland second preferred.

Further upward revision of some of the eastern crude oil prices contributed to the strength of the oil shares. Producers and Refiners was one of the outstanding strong spots, touching 43¾ and closing at 41⅝ for a net gain of 3⅝. Standard Oil of New Jersey closed nearly 2 points higher at 41⅞.

Sharp advances were shown in Corn Products, Dupont, Marine preferred, Advance Rumely preferred, Brooklyn Union Gas, General American Tank Car and Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred, the gains ranging from 1⅛ to 4½ points. Davison Chemical was an outstanding heavy spot, dropping nearly 5 points.

Philip Morris & Co., International, announced that it has taken over from the United Cigar Stores company the distribution of United Profit Sharing coupons as applied to cigarets in the United States.

Nineteen Twenty Four dawns rich in promise

NEW YEAR'S DAY is the time when we pause to dwell in retrospect on the past and to gaze into the crystal of the future. And this day it is a pleasant task. Both the path we have come and the one we are to tread are bright. The year Nineteen Twenty Three was kindly toward us and we recall its bounties with gratitude.

NINETEEN TWENTY FOUR dawns rich in promise—truly a shining portal to an era of prosperity. All signs portend that the year ahead will be one of the brightest ever experienced by this great nation.

IN prophecy, as in greeting—we say to all: "May each day of this year bring new happiness to you and yours."

UNION TRUST BUILDING

BEGINNING TODAY, the Chicago Tribune Building at Madison and Dearborn Streets, recently purchased by this Bank, will be known as the Union Trust Building.

With the ownership of leaseholds on this entire quarter block, our 60,000 patrons will be interested in the developments this transaction makes possible.

Commodious and thoroughly adequate banking quarters are now assured to meet the growth we are experiencing in all departments.

Since 1902, when we moved across the street from the corner site now occupied by the Boston Store, our deposits have grown from $5,000,000 to more than $55,000,000.

This growth we credit chiefly to our exceptionally convenient location, our unremitting efforts to improve Union Trust service, and more important than either, the whole-hearted friendliness of our patrons in commending the Bank among their friends.

For the New Year we ask only to continue in this spirit of mutual co-operation which has meant so much to this Bank and its customers.

STOCK MARKET ENDS YEAR WITH RISING PRICES

The New York Times.

New York, Dec. 31.—[Special.]—For the third time in three successive years the stock market ended the year with rising prices. The omen is pleasing when it is recalled what the financial history of the New Year was after the cheerful closing of Dec. 30, 1922, and 1921.

It is also true, however, that the last day of 1920, with six months of continued trade reaction ahead, was distinguished by what the stock market reviews then described as an "extremely confident undertone," and that of the last day in 1919 they remarked that "positive buoyancy had developed, under which prices rose with great rapidity."

Industrials Lead Advance.

With total transactions again in the neighborhood of a million shares, today's advance affected mostly the industrial shares, a number of which rose a point or more, United States Steel common crossing par for the first time since last May. In parts of the market prices declined, Wall street's explanation being based on the familiar but somewhat overworn theory of "selling to establish losses." It is more reasonable to assume the advance in other stocks was helped by repurchases for holders who had effected that operation some time ago.

Bond prices held remarkably steady in a majority of the departments despite the appearance of cash sales made by traders seeking to establish tax losses before the close of the old year.

Exchange Rates Slump.

The year ended as characteristically in the foreign exchanges as on the stock market. Sterling, francs, and lire declined, the day's fall of nearly 1⅛c in sterling reaching a figure, $4.31 11-16, lower than any touched in 1923 except for the three days in the middle of November when the "inflation rumor" and the "election scare" were simultaneously disturbing London.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1924: Fairchild News Service.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Dry goods markets were quiet in the primary division on the last day of the year. New fall dress ginghams were opened for inspection and will be priced later, as the market develops. Cotton goods and yarns were generally firm and quiet. Reports stated that advances will be made in many lines of fall woolens and worsteds ranging from 8 to 12 per cent and openings will begin about the middle of January. Silk was steadier, with manufacturers feeling more confident of a good spring trade. Linens ruled very quiet.

PAYS $1,250,000 FOR 126 FEET ON NORTH MICHIGAN

BY AL CHASE.

James Norris, president and treasurer of Norris & Co., grain dealers, and himself one of the largest grain operators in the world, yesterday paid $1,250,000 for the 126 feet of frontage at 155-71 North Michigan avenue, improved with a seven story building. Charles A Stonehill, president of the Chicago Mercantile company, was the seller. The property is only seventy feet deep. Mr. Norris paid at the rate of $9,921 a front foot and $141.72 a square foot. Oscar J. Friedman was broker.

The building on the lot has foundations capable of carrying nine more stories. It was remodeled some time ago at a cost of $315,000. It is just north of the site on which the Sinclair oil interests intend erecting their thirty-two story tower.

An interesting angle to this sale is the disclosure that the huge electric sign on the roof of the building just sold nets the owner $17,500 annually from the Thomas Cusack company. And still more interesting is the fact that the sign brings the Cusack company $60,000 annually from The Fair. The Cusack company formerly paid $40,000 annually for the privilege of operating the huge sign on the top of the building next door at Randolph and Michigan, now used by the Sinclair company to tell the world about its oil.

Sheldon Clark, Sinclair vice president, stated that the rumor that Mr. Norris was buying for the oil concern so that it would extend its new building farther north on Michigan was not true. Sinclair, by the way, paid approximately $1,000,000 for the 89x70 site just south of Mr. Norris' purchase.

1855-1924

Sixty-nine years ago, the House of Greenebaum was founded upon a policy that today is maintained in all its full strength. To make this institution a financial center for all who sought sound investments that would withstand the most severe tests was the chief object of its founder.

To aid in the development of progressive communities by the financing of worth-while enterprises, and to disseminate the benefits of thrift through conservative investments—these have been the aim of Greenebaum Sons since 1855.

Two-thirds of a century's activities have become history and many unforeseen conditions have arisen, but through it all, the House of Greenebaum has upheld the original purposes of its founder, grown with the strength of duties fulfilled and today looks toward the future with a vision of still greater service in the field of safe investments.

It was not long after E. H. Rollins & Sons began business in 1876 that the development of Public Utilities commenced. The essential service they render has demanded expansion commensurate with the growth of the communities served. This has made necessary a program of constructive and conservative financing, and it is with this development that our House has been constantly identified since the beginning.

The geographical location of the Public Utility Companies in whose financing we have participated is shown on the above map. In over 47 years of active business we have been associated in the financing of over 300 Public Utility Companies. Our principal offices are located in the territories served by the companies whose securities we offer. This enables us to keep in close contact with every phase of their development.

Conspicuous among the Public Utilities for whose securities we and our associates are sponsors, is the Illinois Power & Light Corporation.

DECEMBER WHEAT SHORTS PUNISHED IN LATE TRADING

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

General evening up was on in December deliveries of grain, with shorts in wheat punished toward the last, their buying advancing the price to $1.04¾, with the finish at the top with a net gain of 1⅝c. In corn, longs liquidated, making a drop of 3¼c from the high, with the finish at the inside at 68@67⅝c, a decline of 2⅝c. Oats were ½c lower at the last.

Deferred deliveries of all grain showed resistance to pressure, with wheat unchanged to ¼c higher, corn ⅛@¼c lower, oats ⅜c lower to ⅛c higher, while rye was off ⅛@½c.

December Corn Erratic.

Shorts in December corn covered early, making an advance of ⅜c to 71½c, but longs found support lacking toward the last, and a drop to 67⅝c followed. Immediately after the bell tapped, however, the cash grain was wanted, and as high as 70c was said to have bene paid for No. 2 in store. Sales of 100,000 bu were made to go to store during the day.

With colder weather over the greater part of the belt it is expected that country offerings will increase, and this was noticeable in some parts of Iowa during the day. A fair trade was on in the deferred deliveries within a range of ⅜@⅝c. May closing at 74¼@74c. December at St. Louis closed 1c lower at 71c, no congestion being in evidence.

Oats showed moderate activity, with evening up under way in the December. The latter had a range of 1½c, closing on a good rally from the early low point, as did the deferred deliveries. Sentiment is moderately bullish.

Longs Sell December Rye.

Liquidation was on in December rye, giving the market a heavy undertone, and the finish was well toward the bottom. No export sales were reported at the seaboard. No. 2 on track sold at 2@3¼c over December.

Efforts on the part of longs in December lard found demand rather slow and a decline of 27½c followed, with the finish at the bottom. Trade in deferred deliveries was only fair, with lard unchanged to 2½c higher. Ribs were unchanged to 2½c higher and bellies unchanged. Prices follow:

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Wheat traders are disposed to go slow for the present, as they see nothing in the situation to base a decided opinion as to the immediate course of values to warrant taking large lines on either side. As to corn, those who look for increased receipts are predicting lower prices when they materialize. There are many operators who say the movement is not likely to enlarge much above the present and who believe prices low enough.

Cash handlers of corn differ in their views of the market. One is bearish, and the other bullish. Indications are for a better export demand, which it is claimed will be satisfied by liberal quantities of corn now at New Orleans or en route for that port.

Deliveries of cash wheat on December contracts yesterday afternoon were 395,000 bu; corn, 500,000 bu; oats, 260,000 bu; rye, 133,000 bu, and lard 150,000 lbs.

Shorts in December barley at Winnipeg were badly squeezed with that delivery held at 70c at the last, a net gain of 7c for the day, although no sales were reported. Seaboard exporters were said to have been the longs, and small stocks prevented shorts from making a delivery.

Contract stocks of wheat in Chicago public elevators Monday night were 5,252,000 bu; corn, 1,630,000 bu, and oats, 945,000 bu. For the week wheat decreased 90,000 bu and oats 95,000 bu, while corn increased 1,093,000 bu.

Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre.

M. B. S.—The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre corporation owns 149,788 shares, about 51 per cent—of the total outstanding capital stock of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company. These shares of stock are pledged as collateral security for payment of principal and interest of the corporation's $10,000,000 of 5½ per cent serial collateral trust bonds, now being issued. The trust indenture contains covenants designed to protect holders of these bonds as to future additions to the funded debt of the coal company beyond the present amount of $5,550,000 now outstanding, as well as other protective provisions. The 149,788 shares pledged as security were purchased by the corporation on Dec. 10, 1923, at $150 per share, and are pledged at $66.76 per share. The coal company has an estimated tonnage in its properties of 325,000,000 tons, which should give them a life of about sixty-five years at the average annual production of about 5,000,000 tons. For the five calendar years just ended (1923 partly estimated) the net earnings of the coal company after all charges, including interest charges, have averaged $5,450,000 per annum. The proportion of the average earnings applicable to the shares owned by the corporation and pledged under these bonds has been nearly eight times the maximum annual interest charges on these bonds and nearly three times maximum yearly maturity and interest charges on the bonds. These bonds are a sound investment.

Receiver Is Named for New York and Cuba Line

New York, Dec. 31.—Francis G. Caffey, former United States district attorney, tonight took charge of the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship company as equity receiver, to which office he was appointed today by Federal Judge Hand. The company, generally known as the Ward line, has a capital stock of $10,000,000 and general liabilities of approximately $2,000,000. Although assets greatly exceed liabilities, abnormal conditions in shipping make it impossible for the company to meet its indebtedness at present, the papers set forth.

VACANT—NORTH SIDE.

OPENING ANNOUNCEMENT.

ANOTHER OLIVER SALINGER & CO. ADDITION TO NORTH EDGEWATER.

This $3,000,000 property, located in the fastest growing section of North Edgewater, offers as great investment opportunities as our Howard-av. additions and our Kimball-blvd. addition, which we have completely sold out, and on which many of our recent purchasers have already made profits of from 100% to 200% on their investment.

Highly restricted apartment, residence, and business lots

AS LOW AS

$1,145

$300 CASH,
BALANCE $15 A MONTH.

Four of Chicago's greatest business streets and three boulevards will pass through this property. Remember, it is highly restricted both as to class of buildings and as to buyers and it is the CLOSEST IN piece of North Side property on the market.

WHY WE CAN'T GIVE YOU EXACT LOCATION OF THIS PROPERTY.

So many of our old customers are demanding this property that the crowds are bigger now than our organization can handle, and if we opened it to the public we would simply be swamped.

We hope to have this unheard of demand in hand in the near future, so that we may publicly announce the location and give the public a chance before it is all sold out.

This is without doubt the most beautiful and best located piece of North Side property ever put on the market, and it will show startling increases in values immediately.

If you desire ADVANCE INFORMATION we will put you in touch with all the facts before the official opening. Fill out the attached coupon and mail at once. They will be taken care of in the order received.

721—Year's Deaths by Automobile in City and County—721

227 Children Among Victims

When 1923 changed from a present reality to a date in history at midnight last night it left on the records of the coroner of Cook county at the hour this paper goes to press a list of 721 men, women, and children killed during the year in automobile accidents.

Officially, however, 1923 was a year for congratulation, as the first year since 1918 showing a decrease from the year before.

Strikes Note of Hope.

The note of hope to which officials pointed was the drop of 23 deaths under the figure of 744 for 1922. Taking into consideration the increase in population and the growth in the number of motor vehicles, it was felt that a real step forward had at last been made in the means of checking automobile killings.

Yet for 1923 the record is startling enough. Of the dead, 227 were children, victims to pleasure cars or trucks. Of these children, according to the coroner's figures, 160 were killed in the middle of the block. Sixty-four of them were under 5 years of age; 116 were less than 10. Women drivers figured in fourteen fatal accidents, while 172 women were killed.

Vampire Cars Kill Sixty-one.

There were sixty-one "vampire" drivers, and 119 drivers who were held to the grand jury.

Of the total victims, 530 were pedestrians. Thus pedestrians killed numbered more than twice as many as those killed while riding.

Appalled by the constant toll of death—roughly, two persons a day—the police, the coroner's office, and the courts sought to check the hazards. The newspapers were prime movers in the drive, and The Tribune was a leader with its "clock of death," which has become a daily feature of the paper.

One Way to Safety.

Armed with figures obtained in Massachusetts, where auto drivers are required to obtain licenses through examination, Coroner Oscar Wolff declared that a similar law would save an equal number of lives in Illinois. Early in the year the coroner drafted such a bill, but it died in the legislature.

Mayor Dever, in an attempt to learn the causes of accidents and to spread the gospel of safety, created the mayor's safety commission, headed by Ald. Frank J. Tomczak. The commission has functioned for several months and already has made many recommendations. It is asking for an appropriation of $100,000 for 1924 to carry on its work.

Police Department Active.

The year was marked by vigorous drives by the police. Not only did the speeder and the reckless driver receive the attention of the law, but the minor offenders, the violators of parking ordinances and the headlight laws, were brought to justice.

Most recent of the campaigns was the one begun on orders of Mayor Dever and Chief of Police Collins on Dec. 10. The effects still are being felt.

The courts, under Judge Henry M. Walker and several country judges who sat in Speeders' court, were crowded to the doors with offenders. Fines were raised to the limit; thousands of dollars were collected.

As a result, though the deaths were only slightly less frequent, traffic speed was cut down several miles an hour.

May, September, and October, with 73, 73, and 72 deaths respectively, lead the deaths totals by months. The open winter weather kept the automobiles in more than usual numbers on the streets. The customary drop in accidents in December was slight. Sixty-five persons were added to the list as the twelfth month brought the year to a close.

On the number of injured and maimed no exact figures were available. Estimates, however, placed the ratio at ten injured for every person killed. For the 721 persons killed, therefore, over 7,000 citizens of the county received injuries, some of which may maim them for life.

THE HANDS OF DEATH

Roll of 1923's Victims of Motor Vehicles

The KRATZ Oscillator

1923 —A RECORD BREAKER

More Kratz Electric Washing Machines were sold during 1923 than any year in the history of our business—due primarily to basing our sales policy on the fact that the public wants only the best.

Our new Kratz Oscillator has reached the height of perfection from all standpoints—resulting in unparalleled success and popularity. It washes cleaner, saves more work, and because all machinery is enclosed is absolutely safe. Only those who use it and know best fully realize its many advantages.

All washers are sent out on trial and sold on terms or for cash. We also sell the Cataract, Kratz Cylinder, Laundryette, Woodrow and the Geyser Kitchenette washers.

"WIDEN, REPAIR," 1924'S SIGN FOR ROAD BUILDERS

Traffic Demands Point Future's Needs.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Highway builders of America have agreed on two vital planks in the 1924 road improvement platform.

The first will safeguard the annual investment of more than $1,000,000,000 for highway construction and extension by the establishment of definite and systematic maintenance and repair.

The second will make this huge investment pay record dividends by raising each main road already built to the degree of improvement justified by its traffic.

Means Greater Width.

In some cases this will mean doubling the width of existing arteries; in others the straightening of all dangerous curves and the construction of subways, overhead bridges and traffic "gyrations" to improve traffic conditions and eliminate danger.

Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, first emphasized both of these needs in outlining his basic principles of highway management and financing during the coming year. He urged all states, where the first or "backbone" system of pavements is nearly complete, to concentrate now on building the big channels up to their proper earning capacity, and to set aside a certain part of all road revenue for the annual repair and maintenance of its built roads.

Illinois Has "Back Bone."

In Illinois, one of the few states where this initial or "backbone" system of roads already has been constructed, these two new principles have received the indorsement of practically all highway authorities and transportation interests.

Particularly in the northern district they have been adopted as necessities. Counties bordering the Chicago terminal have discovered that their main roads are threatened with complete failure unless systematic state maintenance is established both in the country and in villages, that congestion on the present 18 foot pavements has made the doubling of highway widths an immediate necessity.

Early action is promised on the maintenance program. Cook county officials reported yesterday that, in their opinion, the amendment made to the road law by the last Illinois legislature puts maintenance and repair of state highways and state aid roads in villages and in the country directly up to the state highway department.

Asked to Interpret Law.

The attorney general's office has been asked to interpret this new clause in the law for the benefit of the Cook county board. If the interpretation agrees with that of highway officials it will mean that the state repair and maintenance crews must repair the damage done to pavements such as Roosevelt road in Maywood, the Waukegan road in Glen View, Dempster street in Niles Center, and similar dangerous spots throughout the Chicago district.

The crews will also be called upon to keep state highways within all village limits in a constant state of repair.

To advance the second improvement campaign, a movement already is organized to promote the building by the state of an additional mile of road for every mile already built by Cook county. The campaign also aims at the doubling of the present main pavements within a 100 mile radius of Chicago by doubling their present 18 foot width.

Carry Immense Traffic.

These main state roads, the latest traffic census shows, carry the greatest percentage of state traffic. They are the roads the bureau chief wants improved up to their "earning capacity," according to transportation experts, who believe that traffic on such arteries as Roosevelt road, Milwaukee avenue, the Waukegan-Milwaukee highway, Halsted street, Indianapolis avenue, the Dixie highway and even the new Lake street state road, justifies doubling their width.

According to the latest report of the state highway department, Illinois now has 3,251 miles of paved roads in service on the bond issue and state-aid systems. This mileage does not include pavements built by counties, cities, or villages. A total of 1,011 miles of new state roads were completed in 1923—a record unequaled by any state of the union. By the end of 1924 officials estimate that the state will offer 4,460 miles of state pavements in addition to the local roads.

Main System of Roads.

This record construction work practically has completed the main or bond issue system which serves both interstate and intrastate traffic. These pavements have been laid over the natural traffic channels. They touch all of the principal cities and towns, and directly serve 80 per cent of the people living in Illinois.

During 1923 the Cook county highway forces completed 38.5 miles of new pavements and reconstructed two miles of road on 95th street. This gives the county a total paved mileage of 334.7, with only seven miles of contracts left over to the 1924 building season.

New roads cost the county $1,700,000 during the year. The work served to connect every village in the county by hard road with the county's paved system, and made it possible to travel from the north to the south county line without leaving the concrete.

National Highways Improved.

National reports show that the year added 5,900 miles of concrete roads to the United States highway system. To date the improvement of federal aid highways alone has cost the country $731,695,220. This work has built 41,306 miles of national roads since 1916.

SEATS FOR 16,000 TO BE ADDED IN SCHOOLS OF CITY

Additional seats for 16,000 Chicago school children will be provided for in 1924 by the building program now being prepared in the office of the architect, John C. Christensen.

"We have plans in preparation for a building program for the coming year which will be second in size only to New York," Mr. Christensen said yesterday. "Contracts will be let by May 1 for construction work totaling $20,000,000. New York is spending $52,000,000."

Another 15,000 seats are provided for in new plans for 1925. The largest building designed is the Roosevelt high school, Wilson and Kimball avenues, which will seat nearly 3,000 pupils. Several elementary schools are also being planned and numerous additions are contemplated.

FARM AID LAW TO BE LAUNCHED IN CAPITAL JAN. 7

Both Houses to Get Bills.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Congress will not attempt to do anything regarding farmers' relief legislation until Jan. 7 unless there is a change in the program between now and then.

The only evidence of activity on the part of the house and senate committees on agriculture has been the announcement that a hearing will be held by the senate committee Jan. 7 on the Norris-Sinclair bill providing for price fixing for wheat and other agricultural products. The house committee on agriculture, of which Representative Gilbert Haugen [Rep., Ia.] is chairman, has not even held a meeting since it was organized.

Asks About Delay.

Representative Frank Clague [Rep., Minn.], who is a member of the house committee, said today that he had talked with some other members of the committee about the delay in setting dates for hearings but that nothing of consequence had been announced.

"The bill providing for aid to farmers in diversifying their crops as outlined by Dr. John Lee Coulter of the North Dakota agricultural college is one of immediate interest to our section," Mr. Clague said, "but no date has been set for a hearing on it. Other members may regard it as of minor importance as it affects only certain sections of the country, namely, the spring wheat area in the northwest and parts of Oklahoma and Kansas, where there have been partial crop failures and consequent distress among the farmers who devoted themselves exclusively to wheat raising.

Sees Need of Conference.

"I believe that there should be a conference between the farmer members of congress and the secretary of agriculture and possibly the secretary of commerce to determine on farm relief legislation. The Republican party should adopt a program that will indicate to the farmers a sincere desire to help them.

"I believe we should carry out the recommendation of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to form a corporation to handle our export wheat. That is urgent. It would take a burden from the shoulders of the farmer.

"The low price of wheat is caused in part by the absence of foreign demand, and the surplus should be sent out of the country to relieve the farmer of that much of his load. If this were done, I believe that the price of wheat would advance."

Asks Early Hearing.

Senator Peter Norbeck [Rep., S. D.] has filed a request with Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, to fix a date for hearings by his committee on the Coulter plan bill. Senator Norbeck introduced the bill in the senate at the same time it was placed before the house by Representative Burtness [Rep., N. D.]. Mr. Burtness will file a similar request with Chairman Haugen of the house committee on agriculture when congress reconvenes Wednesday.

Representative Clague, chairman of a committee of northwestern senators and representatives who are urging modifications in the grain grading regulations, probably will introduce a bill early in the coming month.

The delegation representing the northwestern wheat growers, which was headed by O. P. B. Jacobson of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission, and included Railroad Commissioners J. J. Murphy of South Dakota and Frank Milholland of North Dakota, took the matter up directly with President Coolidge. The President told them he would have to consult with the secretary of agriculture before he could take any action.

COMMERCE BODY ILLINOIS RIVAL IN FARMER MEETING

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Efforts of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, which is sponsoring a farmers-manufacturers' conference in Chicago, Jan. 14 to 15, to forestall a similar conference recently called for Washington, Jan. 9 to 11, by Julius H. Barnes, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, have proved unavailing.

Following requests to Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and other officials here from John M. Glenn, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, that the Washington conference be postponed, Elliott Goodwin, secretary of the United States Chamber of Commerce, telegraphed Mr. Glenn today that this would not be possible.

In his telegram to Secretary Hoover, Mr. Glenn said:

"The Illinois Manufacturers' association, oldest and strongest organization of its kind in the United States, over a month ago called a farmer-manufacturers' convention to discuss transportation, taxation, immigration, legislation, etc., for Chicago, Jan. 14 and 15. Chicago is the natural place for such a conference, as it is the home of the farmer of the great Mississippi valley. He is at home here. Julius Barnes, in calling a similar conference for Jan. 9 to 11, has violated every principle of fair play."

GERMANY TO END STATE CONTROL OVER RAILWAYS

Cannot Meet Deficit Due to Mismanagement.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—[Tribune Radio.]—The German railways, wrecked by bureaucratic methods and surplus personnel appointed by politicians, are nearing private ownership. THE TRIBUNE learns from an authoritative source the details whereby the state railways will soon pass into private hands, with the government only a minor shareholder in the company and without control.

The mismanagement of the bureaucratic administration which took over the control of the railways on the fall of the monarchy, which was bidden behind the flood of paper marks with which the government covered the deficits, has come glaringly to light since the stabilization of the paper issue by the ranten mark. In a brief period the state system has piled up $250,000,000 in debts, which it has no resources to meet.

Were Operated at Profit.

Before the war the German railways, while under state ownership, were operated for the benefit of the absolute monarchy by a small group of men, who worked on a basis of profit for the empire, as managing directors of private railways operate for the benefit of the stockholders. Since democracy overthrew kaiserism, nineteen railways have been continually and increasingly overstaffed, their true state hidden by fictitious paper covering the year's expenses.

By this policy they were entirely rehabilitated, new equipment being purchased to replace that surrendered to the allies or lost in the war, but the charges went to swell the total of Germany's internal paper debts and proved to be one of the largest factors contributing to the near wrecking of the German state.

Today the government has reached a point where it cannot see any way out, but must consider seriously liquidation through the sale of the railways to private interests.

Raps Inefficient Help.

THE TRIBUNE correspondent recently talked with a high railway official in charge of a great clearing station near the French frontier. This man has 500 employés under him; "500 men who are incapable of operating this district and who are constantly getting into one another's way and binding up everything in a mass of red tape," he said. "If I could pick my men I could operate this district today with eighty. But now when I must reduce my staff by 25 per cent it is the old, capable men who must go, while young and inefficient workers with party affiliation must remain to block the efficiency of my office.

"There is no excuse for the German railways operating at a loss. We have no empty hauls. In our entire network of railways our lines serve communities which produce rail traffic as well as consume. We are clogged and choked by bureaucratic inefficiency."

Were it not for his great unpopularity in Germany, Hugo Stinnes probably would have taken over the railways a month ago when he made an advantageous offer. But with his present position among the people it is improbable that he will have more than a small share, as one of Germany's great industrialist combinations is pressing for the signature of a contract placing the railways in its hands.

Print Own Money.

For more than a month the German railways have covered their deficits by printing their own money. So long as they printed paper marks there was no need for a special reserve for backing. Today they are still printing paper money, but in dollar values, backed by quantities of German dollar or gold loan certificates.

On Jan. 1 1,000,000,000 gold marks ($250,000,000) worth of paper for materials, supplies, and coal from abroad and for loans for wages falls due. There are practically no resources, despite the fact that since Oct. 1 the railway tariff has been 50 per cent higher than before the war.

A 25 per cent cut in personnel will not be sufficient to bring the railways to a paying basis, is the opinion of most experts here, and it will seriously cripple the system because of the manner in which the weeding out is effected. But politics is holy here, as in other bureaucracies, and the chosen people must not be touched.

313,841 CASES DISPOSED OF IN '23 BY CITY COURT

The Municipal court disposed of 313,841 out of a grand total of 315,234 cases filed during 1923. Civil cases filed numbered 96,829, 94,136 being disposed of. On the criminal side 219,705 cases out of the 224,405 filed were disposed of.

Total judgments entered in the court were $11,526,184.52, the largest amount in the history of the court.

CHICAGO PLAN'S HUGE PROJECTS STRIDE AHEAD

14 Major Improvements All Grow Nearer.

The Chicago Plan commission, in reviewing its work during 1923, says the last year has been marked by substantial and constant progress.

"Each of the fourteen major improvements in the plan of Chicago is now much nearer realization than when the year began," the commission says. "In projects of such magnitude as those in the Chicago plan years must elapse between the time when a major improvement is started and the time when it is finished."

Cites Great Public Works.

"Day by day the lake shore is being filled in to make the 1,138 acres of new parks being created along the southern shore of Lake Michigan by the South Park commissioners. Acre by acre the area of the great forest preserve system is being extended by the board of forest preserve commissioners. Stone by stone and girder by girder the new Union station is rising on Canal street, the western boundary of the quadrangle of wide streets being developed around the congested central business district.

"Just as steadily are the work of electrifying the facilities of the Illinois Central railroad and the necessary preliminary work of constructing a new station progressing.

"Step by step also are the ten great street widenings being advanced by the board of local improvements and the other city authorities. Jan. 1, 1924, will see Roosevelt road, Canal street, South Water street, Ogden avenue, Western avenue, Ashland avenue, Robey street, Indiana avenue, 22d street, and La Salle street all farther advanced in necessary procedure than they were on Jan. 1, 1923.

Terminal Plans Proceed.

"Negotiations have been started with the railroad companies involved for the settlement of the south side terminal problem, the construction of a new union station, the straightening of the Chicago river, and the extension of Market, Wells, Franklin, La Salle, and Dearborn streets south through the area now absorbed by railroad occupancy to connect with Archer avenue the great southwest traffic artery; with Wentworth avenue, and with the other streets in the south side system."

The Corset of the Hour

NEMO "1924 SPECIAL"

Third Floor—Dearborn Street

We all know that a Nemo will reduce the figure and that corsets are again to rule the fashions of the day. Only last September Vogue stated that to wear the fashionable gowns you must be corseted, but so well corseted that it is not perceptible.

That is just what we have always advocated—correctly fitted corsets.

The Renaissance of the corset has arrived; daintiness and good taste are again urgent notes in fashion.

All well-groomed women again favor corsets for they found that discarding the corset has made them stouter—service in correct corseting is the outstanding need of women today and that service must include not only fitting service by skilled corsetiers, in which we specialize, but also a complete variety of styles and sizes in both corsets and brassieres.

Let our corsetieres advise you in making selections without extra charge. In recognition of this fact we are featuring this new 1924 special "Nemo Corset" and cordially invite every woman to visit our corset section and inspect this Nemo model and learn at first hand the true value of

Correct Corseting

The Nemo 1924 Special is Style 530. It is a wonderful diaphragm controlling corset; extremely low topped, front and back; that part which covers the groin section has been reinforced and fits tightly to the body, in other words, it forms an anchorage, so that the abdomen is supported from below; featured in both white and pink coutil; sizes 24 to 36, at...................... $5

Nemo Circlet

A Special Nemo Circlet for the Stout Figure That Needs Control
